WHITE OAKS SPRINGS CHURCH. Erected about 1862.-Picture taken 1896. Bell Tower built 1900. The front faces South, toward the Springs.-The Cemetery to the East.

Dunning McNair 'The Land Jobber' gave the ground, 10 Acres. When Wm. McLeod died in 1804. For Church and Burial purposes.

Early Records of the Monongahela Presbytery show reports from here. Rev. Joseph Kerr was assigned to visit the field. Associate Reformed. However, History records, Francis Williams and Poythress here -Saddle-Bags Preachers, as early as 1796. Also Rev. James McConnell, born Antrim. County Dervock, Ireland, preached here previous, to 1800. Using the slab-seated 'Meetin-house' and Tent below the road. This was the usual place to meet for worship. Near the Springs.

It was during his Pastorate-(or period of time there-for as yet, no Records of this has been located.) We do know that: he was there over a period of some years.-that the unusual visitation of 'the revival which they called 'The Falling work' because of the remarkable physical manifestations, which accompanying it, when those under deep conviction of sin, would fall prostrate, and would lie prostrate for hours, in an unconscious state, losing all strength of body and mind. On recovering, it showed no harm to the person, but the whole spiritual outlook was changed.' (This occurred over to the West, in the section nearer to Nebo.)

McConnell, at the 'Slab-seated Meetin House' near White Oaks Springs, resented this and remonstrated strongly. 'He told his people. 'It BE true. St. Paul tells us--to sung Hymns and Psalms and Spiritual Songs-- BUT. He CANNA' mean, HYMNS. Nae Nae. He CANNA mean hymns! (This true incident places the 'Falling Work' definitely before the 1800 date.) By 1818, the Pioneers were ready to build a Brick Church (see p 231.) The indentations of this Brick Church are still strongly visible, to the right side of the picture. (which is East, or on the Butler side.) The steps were near the old pine tree, standing there now, and Mother Mary's grave lies close to the old steps.

The following pages are submitted to the members of the Thomas Gray Clan, in America. We know that it is not perfect. We know that we have been compelled to be silent on behalf of some 200 members that we only know as 'Oh Yes! John had two sisters, one was married and had several children,' John was married also, Marjorie is such a nice girl.'

Just Who ? is Marjorie and to whom was His sister married, and what are the names of the children ? (Of course these are all hypothetical names.)---Perhaps we were unable to achieve the right contact. We apologize, for the sake of the History, and the future folks who will vainly search for Marjorie.

We are glad and proud that we have been able to secure the certified records of well over 3000 members. And have over two hundred and a quarter names on the Honor Roll, of those who wore the Uniform of their Country. Here. Too. We feel that we do not have a complete roster, Neither of names nor Branch, also Rank. It has been very difficult to secure the proper information.

OUR MOTIVE. For pursuing this endless labor, in face of almost unsurmountable difficulties, sometimes. There may be those who wish to know that motive.

It began, years since, trying to fulfill a sacred promise to a lonely homesick old couple, who braved the Wilderness of a new Country, in order to secure a comfortable, happy secure dwelling place, free from oppression and tyranny.

We are ready, now to declare that we have succeeded, beyond our most hopeful expectations. We have had many happy hours, when lists of whole families, have come to us {out of a clear sky} making our families one complete unit, instead of separate individuals.

Many good friends have passed on into the beyond, we honor their memories. We cherish their expressions of good will and appreciation for the work we have accomplished. We should like to name them all. That. Would make such a large volume that it would be most impractical.

Feeling most deeply, the loss of many of these loyal friends and helpers, we do wish to express our loyalty and grief at the passing of that outstanding man, Norman P. Bish. Teacher, Organizer, Christian friend and gentleman, his work for the Gray Clan will be long remembered all over the United States, wherever the members of our group live.

We are happy to state that almost without exception, our people, as a matter of course, exemplify the old Thomas Gray's oft repeated Motto 'Keep 'e's feet out 'o' the diert.' (Not always speaking of common mud.)

'Brevity, IS the soul of wit.' So. Without superfluous comment, I submit to you, the MEMBERS of the GRAY CLAN. These records as they now stand.

PATRIOTISM

KEY TO FAMILIES

KEY:

FIRST. ---LOCATE the name of the person you wish to find--In the MAILING LIST.

This Address will be numbered.

SECOND.---Look at the second number.

This will be the INDIVIDUAL NUMBER of the Person sought.

THIRD.----This number will give the page in the book where this person may be found.

(Members of any given family are grouped together, in as far as is possible.)

The second Number will be the individual number, wherever it is necessary to designate this person. Both here, in the Mailing List, in the Military section and in the Tabulated Lists of the Families.

FOR EXAMPLE;

We wish to locate Mrs. Maude Brown Crowe. The Secretary of the John Branch. Also the Assistant Secretary of the entire Gray Clan.

We find she is No 157. Her Number is 1450 and she is found on Page 95.

OR;

Howard T. Critchlow. His Number in the Mailing List is 115. His Individual Number is 20 and he is found on Page 25. This is followed by the lists of his families.

In the Military Section he is listed as Number 20, his own Number, then the Page where his family may be found, then the third Number helps designate the number of our Clan, who have entered Military Service.

This last feature is just as complete as the datae furnished your Historian, could list.

RECHECK; Showing that the daughter of H.T. Critchlow had somehow been overlooked, after her marriage. We look in the Last Chapter called; Your Kin and Mine, Chapter 13. We find -on Pge 177, Ruth S. Critchlow, Her Number-31 on Page 25. Her Marriage listed there, as;

Ruth S. Critchlow, (31-25, md in 1948 to William S. Blackman, whose number is 3688.)

This system of numbering is original. Inspired by the fact that it is usually very difficult to locate families. Some features of the plan are used in other recorded Histories, but in a very different form.

(THE FOLLOWING NUMBERING WILL BE USED THROUGHOUT THE HISTORY.)
 THE SECOND NUMBER--will be used to indicate your place in the family.
 THE THIRD NUMBER-- will indicate the page--where this person may be found. Either with his family, or after his marriage. Founding a new Family.

(In the ''TO ARMS'' Section. You will find. First- The individual number Second. The page where his family may be found.
 The third column indicates the number of our-men and women- who have given service to our Country.)

(SEE KEY TO FAMILIES FOR DETAILED INSTRUCTIONS.)

(SEE END OF THIS LIST FOR LATER ADDRESSES.)

THOMAS GRAY FAMILIES

THEIR STORY

GENEALOGICAL AND HISTORICAL

IN ARMSTRONG COUNTY PENNSYLVANIA
CHAPTER 1

Thomas Gray Jr., and his good wife 'Lizabet' Craig Gray, sat at ease enjoying their sunset meal. Three year old Thomas Henry, perched on a home made stool, between his father and his mother, tiny year old Johnny Addison, already asleep in his 'trundle-bed crib' the two elderly spinster sisters of 'Lizabet' completed the family circle. They are speaking of the past year, with its happenings.

'I wish we could persuade Peterson, James's son to come and settle near us. He is such a stalwart lad, and I fear he is not content in the old home, since his brother Thomas went away East, to Blairsville, to settle. Even his beloved horses do not seem to arouse him from his lonely unhappy state. He told me, when he came here to bring the tidings of our mother, Mary James Gray's death, in 1830, that he seriously considered leaving the old home in Forward Twp. Butler County to locate elsewhere. He feels that there is no future there for him. Masonry and Carpentry seem to be overworked, the Journeyman's Cabinet and Carpenter Shop of his father James Gray, on Conoquenessing Creek, near Murderingtown, holds little interest, and, as for farming. Well. The ground seems to have become worthless. 'If there was just some way to enrich those large fields'.

'Lizbet' sighs. 'It dont seem possible that mother has been gone these four year, and our bonny wee Maggie and Elizabet lying on the hill out there, nearly the same time.' Will the day ever come when we can find summat to fight the dread Croup?' And, she walks unsteadily over to the crib of the sleeping John. (Johnny-ah-Addison-ah, as she calls him, she hada-shall we call it-a button hook ending to most of her words. She covers the child and walks to the door, looking out to the opposite hill-side, where the new Cemetery has been laid out, on the North side of their farm.

It is very evident that she soon expects another little one in the family circle.

'Tammass! Will ye be comin here?-Who can yonder horseman be?. He seems strange. He rides so wearily.' Thomas comes to her side and looks intently out over the fields, to the Trail, near the good spring, a few hundred feet from the forks of the road, which ran on to another settlement, through Shouptown, then on to Duncanville and the Trading Post at Kellersburg.

Thomas watched the approaching traveller 'He rides like me Faither! -later- He looks like me Faither!.' Then with a joyous shout. 'It IS me Faither.' He starts running to meet him, gathers him in his strong arms, the tears running unchecked down his cheeks.

Questions, answers, news, all so mixed up that it seems impossible to find a coherent thought or action. But there was never a question of the warmth of welcome or happiness in the presence of the beloved old father. Thomas Gray. Who had come to them for a last haven.

After the wayfarer was made comfortable and at home, and the 'beastie' rubbed down and bedded for the night, the story developed, being told and retold, as with the 'tongue-of-age' until it became well known, not only to those living there, but to all the generations following. We shall give it as completely as our family notes, traditions and records furnish basis for the truth of the same.

Recorded in the Kittanning, Armstrong Co., Pa. Court Records we find: Land Transfer; Tract 313. Warrant 2869. 130 A.35p to Thomas Gray Jr. From the Holland Land Company. (Willink, Agt.) in Madison Twp. - 19 June 1833. Also the Armstrong County History records p 283. 'Madison Twp. land given for Gray Cemetery.'

IN THE HIGHLANDS CHAPTER 2

SKIBO SCOTLAND

Said old Thomas Gray. 'Our Race ran strong. For many many Centuries. We came into Northern Scotland with the Normans. We held our homes, because we loved them, and the Mountains were so rough and full of sly caves which made defensw easier. Dont' think we did not fight, and fight with valiant courage, there were many calls when the 'watch-fires' would flare and the urgent call would sound. Then we drappit everything and hasted, well knowing that many brave lads would never return, but we drove back the invaders and held our home land.'

(Away back in the Roman occupation of Northern Brittainy, now known as Scotland, there came an invasion of the Celtic & Aryan people. We are interested in the section North of the Firth-o-Forth. These invaders soon gained predominance over the Romans, (non-Aryans,) the combined people occupying most of the Country North of the Forth and Clyde estuaries, called Caledonia by the people of Rome, the inhabitants termed Caledonians. The descendents of these people were later called Picts, and were the predominant inhabitants in North Britain at the beginning of the 6th Century. The Firth-o-Forth formed in Perthshire by the junction of two streams-Duchray & Dhu-abt, one Mile West of Aberfoyle; from here the River flows East, forming, for a considerable part of its course the boundaries of Stirling and Perth. Winding on, a series of curves, known as Links of Forth and expending soon into the Firth-o-Forth, a very important Harbor, the country rising North of this, in high Mountains, with much grazing land within, almost every glen has its Lake, and every Mountain hollow filled with a stream of water, or a Spring. Truly an ideal place for a strong determined group of people to hold forth and defy invasion or capture.)

The group of people long after known as 'Grays' lived here for many Centuries, the old land seat known as far back as 980 A.D. Much later known as 'Skibo'-this comprising a very large section, in Mr Andrew Carnegie's time covered over 33000 Acres. The description of this ancient home and the nostalgic longings for the 'auld hame' filled the days of the lonely old man, Thomas Gray Sr. and gives us our most authentic facts concerning the truth of the Gray claims. This coupled with Court Records and family records taken from old Bibles etc., prompt s us to give this story to the World. We do so, uniting the best of his tales, without apologies, to known History.

The Scottish Antiquary, Vol. Vlll, lX gives us a very fine early story of the Grays of Skibo, furnished by Sir Robert Gordon, a History of Sutherland. He states 'The family of Gray of Skibo descends from Lord Gray of Foulls, who was Andrew Gray, Lord Gray, only son and heir of Sir Patrick, Master of Gray. He died Feb. 1513-14. He had married as second wife, Elizabeth, daughter of John Stewart, Earl of Athole. Their son was Patrick Gray. (The first wife, name unknown) had a son John Gray. It seems tha through the Stewarts, the Bishops of Caithness secured a hold upon the Estate. This History runs thro many generations, the account of which may be read in prominent Libraries, we find that Sir Patrick, Master of Gray, who died in 1513, was twice married, his son Andrew Gray was, (Lord Gray of Foulls.)

The records run along for the next 200 years, seeming to be copied from what we might call Court Records. Giving Titles, many names, some dated and some not. But with the account of Robert Gray, the seventh of Skibo, baptized at Dornoch 1731, not stating when he died, the narrative of the succession of the lines of Grays seem to have a definite break in the years between 1731 and the time old Thomas Gray came to the 'New Westmoreland' settling in 1792.

There is a break, here, in the story confirming the family stories, and perhaps due to the political and religious persecutions prevalent at that time. If we had the account of Robert Gray's death, the Seventh of Skibo, we might come quite a bit nearer to 1792, it was close to the time of the bitter persecution which arose and resulted in so many leaving Scotland for-Ireland-and more friendly shores.

Said old Thomas: 'The Grays were gentle folk, above the average or common folk, their men were chosen for the King's guard on account of their height. I guess the King wanted to hide.' Here the old man chuckled. 'They had a gift of song which came to some with a most powerful voice. They were forced to leave the old Castle home, rather than to compromise with conscience.'

Again and again he would repeat, like the refrain to a loved song, 'Mother Mary (Mary James Gray,) died and was buried by the steps of the old White Oaks Springs Church-Brick-, a child by her side. Bury me the same way; no big stones; just a row of creek stones around the grave, like Mother's.'

Said he; 'The Grays were good warriors, when they knew themselves to be in the right, they were tall, well built, broad of shoulder, small at the waist, tapering, like a good wrestler.' And, speaking again of the gift of song in the families, he would say; 'GUESS auld Tammis-the-Rhymer must hae been ane 'o' ours.' then his grief would come over him and he would say; 'Mother Mary was sick such a short time, she had a great pain. They buried her by the steps of the old Brick Church, that she loved, at White Oaks Springs. Young William, a gentle lad by her side. 'Bury me the same way' just like Mother.'

His memories of the ancient glories of Scotland, and the regret that it was torn asunder, were strongly mixed with the hard experiences of the years in the land of his adoption. Education common to that day, was principally the need to read and write and figure, with some little advancement. The word of mouth, from elder to youth, was sufficient to keep History-and- love of Country, alive and glowing, but as 'necessity is the mother of invention' he was far from being illiterate. Women were taught to write their names and read their Scriptures, not much more.

How he received the information, we know not, but he could tell the early History of his native land, knew that the remains of a great Military Camp or Post, was located beside the Tweed, before the day and death of St. John, The Divine. The Caledonian Ruler was Calgacus. (A.D. 81.) The first notice of Newstead Abbey was 190 A.D. A great fortified Camp there was called Trimontium. They had Celtic customs, then, the culture was far above the savages. Picts existed there for 600 years. The Kings being succeeded, not by sons, but, by the sons of the Ruler's Mothers, sisters or Aunts. His oft repeated words; 'How can we do our part in the future, if we do not find the strong foundation in the dealings and doings of the past.'

He recalled the Salmon fishing, the trout Streams, the old Moat around the Castle, the old stone 'Prayer-House' built by the waterfall Achinduich, which was built in the occupancy of the Gray's. whether before the fall of Castle or during the period in which they lived in isolated parts of the Estate, was never disclosed, nor remembered.

His traditional descent of the Family traced the race as back as 960 A.D. when the Normans made invasions in Northern Scotland. A group of hardy men settled in the section north of Dornoch Firth and Loch Shin, shut in and protected by the natural Mountains of that section, they resisted invasions and held possession forcibly. Following definite History after 1060, we know that family names were not used until sometime after that, he knew that our people were Grays, who owned and held the Skibo section, now owned and held by the Heirs of the late Andrew Carnegie.

The land or holdings then comprized what is now known as Sutherland County. And much of, perhaps all of Caithness. The Leader of the group was 'Laird' or Lord Gray, his men 'Grays men' who lived in Villages and settlements near-by, holding common interests, and fighting each others battles. In a measure, this is responsible for the great number of Grays coming from Scotland.

The only traces of the Skibo Castle that remained, when Mr. Andrew Carnegie, the Steel Magnate of Pittsburgh, Pa. bought these holdings, was the ancient Yew trees, the remains of the hedge, certain geological traces of the moat that surrounded the Castle, these with the old stone 'Prayer-Chapel' (this was restored by Mr. Carnegie, its location not far from Bonar Bridge, where there is a waterfall of great beauty,) in the Scottish Antiquary, Vol. VIII. IX named before, we find some items on the Grays of Skibo and over-Skibo, in the Parish of Creich, Sutherlandshire, Scotland. Stating that the holdings were divided through the marriage of one Andrew Gray to Elizabeth Stewart, whose generations were responsible for the Estate passing into the hands of the 'Bishops of Caithness' Mr. Carnegie may or may not have bought all of the Caithness Estate.

Thomas Gray, the Poet Laureate, was also of our race. Though born in England, son of a certain Phillip Gray. And his wife, Dorothy Antrobus Gray. In his Life History we find, p 438 of the Appendix, a note telling us that, Quote: 'Sir Egerton Brydges informs us, that Grays Arms are the same as those of Lord Gray, of Scotland, who claims a relationship with him, (Masons Memoirs, Vol IV. VV.) and as the present Earl Gray's' --Mitford.

We have, as yet, no certain knowledge of the exact time that Thomas Gray and his wife, (Mary James Gray,) also of Royal Family,) with their four children-four others born later-left this Scotland home and came to the 'New Westmoreland' Wilderness to make their home in the new land, we do not know how much time was consumed, between their leaving Scotland and these beloved scenes, near to Dornoch Firth, but we do have positive proof of their arrival in the new land, because the Deed to the 419 All 9 P land, is still on Record at the Butler County Court House, in Butler, Pa. and it is dated April 3, 1792. Bought from the Provincial Government.

Thomas Gray made very positive statement, that he and his wife and family, were compelled to forsake their beloved home-land, rather than make concessions to prevailing oppressions, which would compromise their stern Calvinistic consciences. Thus. The day came when they prepared to leave Scotland, taking only what they could carry with them, of material things. A bit of clothing, some vessels to prepare their food in, the old brass clock, a prized possession, made in Edinburg, the beloved old Family Bible, (Gude-Book) also printed in Edinburg, and most prized of all, their four small children. Sophia b 1784: James b 1786: William b 1789: and 'wee John' just cumm twa; (this was the means of positive identification, to us,) when they settled in the 'New Westmoreland') John Gray was a soldier in the War of 1812-14 and his Military Record stands, as also his edates on his Head-stone, in the old White Oaks Springs Cemetery, on Route 69, out of Butler, Pa. (There is also a tradition of some sort of a small Chest that was brought, but there seems no way of locating definite trace of this article.)

Letters were very unusual, rather of the type of a Message, sent by Courier, but some one had brought the word back, from over the Sea, of a beautiful Country where they could live without oppression, without the 'pull-haul' of false leaders, who imposed the death sentence for the slightest infraction of law-just or unjust.

They were told that they could worship their God as they wished, no need to hide their inner-most heart-felt worship, no need to hide the cherished Bible, the Word-o-the 'Gude-Mon' for their guidance and comfort.

We know positively, that they left Skibo, in Northern Scotland, without formality of selling the broad Acres, the lovely Mountains, the small scattered Villages, the comfortable spots, where a 'wee hoose' cuddled in a beautiful spot, sheltered from wind and storm, the heather covered hills rising back of it' the deep roots of Centuries of living, the long and honorable struggle of a race, who wanted freedom of action, cleanness of living and a conscience devoid of forced wrong doing.

They left their wealth of tradition, their home ties, their folk-songs lore, their William Wallace, and Robert Bruce, whose glories will never die, as long as Scottish memories endure.

Nostalgic memories of the faces, places and events remain to bless and sear and burn, the slow tranquil passage of time, noted by Sun-Dials, in the Garden, moon marks on the floor and window sill, or on the doorway, floors scoured bone white, where the sun shines straight through the house at even tide.

Some of the more fortunate owned Clocks similar to the one made in Edinburg, like the one old Thomas brought with him.

In the gathering room of the old Scottish home, the ruling family-or owners, Laird, Lord, or Shireman, sat at the end on a sort of raised platform, a wee bit hightr than the rest of the room, where the helpers, retainers, or those who lived in the Villages, which belonged to the Estate, gathered on a Sabbath eve. to listen to the 'Laird' read the 'Gude-Book' and read prayers, then joim in the singing of the wierd, four note sort of minor melodies, of that age. Always Psalms.-These were learned and often were repeated to ward off spells.

The School Master came to the house and held School, the fire place of this room made long enough to hold a great log. The space back of this front log large enough to cradle a Modern Ford. The chimn ey, not always drawing good, as the smoke casually floated over the heads of the ones on the crude benches, but it did provide both heat and light.

Some of these lucky youngsters were to become men of affairs. Doctors, at least dispensers of herbs, carrying their leeches' their lanoet, (for blood-letting,) some songsters, with the Poetical gift and the musical voice, the strength and purity of tones, floating out over the hills and braes.

Their hime made garments, cloth spun by the prized spinning wheel, that held the place of honor, in the best gathering room, the trousers short and buttoned at the knee, sometimes laced with deer thong, many of these reciting long portions of the 'Gude-Book' will sometime become worthy 'Dominies or Ministers'-some become Barristers and Shop-Keepers. And there was always the Story teller, Bard or Rhymer, to promote the ancient glories of Scotland.

No work was done on the Sabbath Day. It was 'The Lord's Day' The best music was the favored music. The whole populace gathered to join the Melodies.

SKIBO! We have been unable to locate any published travels of the family of Thomas Gray and his family, coming from Northern Scotland. Excepting the tales told and retold and copied and filed, that came down through the years, from the busy teeming brain of our old Patriot, Thomas Gray himself.

SKIBO! The famous- The beautiful- suffered many vicissitudes through the Centuries Mr. Carnegie, in 1898, in search of a home site, travelled over this section, he noted the beautiful scenery. He wanted plenty of land, good trout Streams and Salmon, wooded hills, Lochs and streams, bordering on the Sea. He wanted, also a water fall. We are told that he took a wagon at Bonar Bridge, (it was called, a wagonette,) driving along the peaceful highway, beside the Kyle of Sutherland, shimmering in the sun light, grazing sheep in the meadows, the old old road mottled by the shade of the overhanging trees and the road outlined with lichen covered stone walls. The rustic beauty of the scene, the softness of the air, the Sea and land and Mountains blending into a true masterpiece of beauty. The Castle seat a mass of ruins, the Cottages were shabby and neglected, as was the land, all of it in about as bad condition as decades of neglect would bring. He had the true Scot's faculty of seeing its possibilities. He could vision the fascination of the sweep of the rolling lands, on his West? the River Shin, on the East the River Evelix, (so named from the Clats having transferred the Celtic imagery of fire to its coruscating surface,) These two Rivers are about 20 Miles apart indicating the size of the Estate.

In 1898, Mr. Carnegie viewed the old Castle site, the crime of neglect, the Castle a mass of ruins, the Cottages, which were a part of the early life of the Estate proving that no master was there to cherish or rejoice. His archeological experts discovered traces of the Medieval moats, which surrounded the Castle, The Monks walk recalled the Roman Catholic Era, following the sides of the Gardens. Some Yew trees 6 or 7 Centuries old, still flaunting rich foilage, the beechen hedge, also of very ancient ghostly past and St. Mary's well bubbling away, as it has for Centuries, we spoke of the other authentic land mark, the gray stone cottage, Auchinduich, located on an eminence that overlooks the Valley of the River Shin, some 20 MI. FROM THE Castle. A retreat where Centuries later, the Carnegies spent quiet days and soothing nights.

We are impressed to insert some findings, which are a contribution of the Rev. Jos. C. Brown, 1st Pres. of the American Branch of the Thomas Gray's: Notes taken from the Scottish Antiquary Vol. VIII, IX. These are entitled:

GRAY OF SKIBO and Over Skibo, in Parish of Greich, Sutherlandshire.-----

The Family of Gray of Skibo is stated by Sir. Robert Gordon, (History of Sutherland,) to descend from Lord Gray of Foulls.)

(Lord Gray of Foulls was Andrew Gray, only son and heir of Sir

Patrick, Master of Gray. He died 1513-1514, having married as second wife, Elizabeth, dau to John Stewart, Earl of Athole. By his first wife, his son was John Gray of Culmaly, and by his second, Patrick Gray. (1st wifes name unstated.)

The second son of Lord Gray, having slain the Constable of Dundee, fled to Ross, where he acquired lands, circa, 1456. His descendent John Gray, in the time of Adam Gordon, 14th Earl of Sutherland, 1515- & 14 to 1537, settled in Sutherland entering the service, first of Robert Stewart, then of Andrew Stewart, - Bishops of Caithness.

From Bishop Andrew, John Gray obtained as reward for his many services rendered to the Bishops, the feu of the lands of Culmaly, Kirkton, Rogart and Cuttle. He afterward exchanged Culmaly and Rogart with the Earl of Sutherland for Sordell or 'Swordell', Creich and the rest of the Church lands in the Parish. The Earl afterward named him as 'Heritable Constable of the Castle of Skibo' and gave him the feu of the lands of Nether Skibo and others.

Recorded that in 1529 a feud arose between Bishop Andrew and Sutherland Baird of Duffius. The latter was killed. Then follows an account of how Alexander Gray, Vicar of Far was carried off to Duffius Castle, and was finally freed by the intervention of John Gray of Culmaly.

It seems that the second son of Lord Gray of Foulis was Andrew, as mentioned above, and that he married ----- and had two sons, the one bearing the name of Andrew and the other Alexander, which doubtless is the one mentioned above, because he became the Vicar of Far. He in turn had a son James Gray living about 1514.

Alexander Gray mentioned above, was Chaplin of the Chaplinry of Kinnold, in the Cathedral Church of Caithness, 1524 and from 1529 to 1559 Vicar of Far. In 1544 he settled his lands of Auchinlov, in the Diocese of Caithness on John Gray of Culmaly and his male issue, with the remainder to Patrick, brother of John and his male issue.

NOTABLE THAT THE GRAY FAMILY SPREAD rapidly and obtained much Church preferment. Sir Thomas Gray was Vicar of Rosemarkie in 1546.

William Gray was Minister of Assynt, 1576.

William Gray was treasurer of Caithness, 1577-1820

Master James Gray was preacher at large, 1649, and Wm. his son was preacher at Clyne.

The Grays of Arball and Newtoun and various other families, derive their origin from the Grays of Skibo.

LORD GRAY OF OVER SKIBO

1. Alexander, Second son of George Gray 111 of Skibo by Jane Gordon of Embo. By a disposition dated Skibo, June 15, 1694, Sasine on it Jan. 7, 1695, George Gray, writer of Edinburg, heritable proprietor of the lands of Over Skibo, disposed of them to Alexander Gray (Brother of Robert Gray of Skibo) and Anna Munroe, his spouse conjunct fee and their heirs. Witness Robert Gray of Skibo; James Gray of Pitachgussie; Robert Gray, commissary of Sutherland. His children were John and Jean.
11. John Gray, Second of Over Skibo. He served as heri general to his father Alexander Gray of Over Skibo, Oct. 20, 1741. He married Katherine, daughter of Duncan Fraser of Achnagairn. Their children were, Alexander, Christian and Katherine.
111. Alexander Gray the Third of Over Skibo, served general to his father, Dec. 22, 1775. There were two sasines, - 1, Oct. 8, 1764 in favor of Hugh Munroe of Teannich for the lands of Nulintoun of Alness. 2. Sept. 20, 1776 in favor of George Ross for lands of Tarness and Pradlestoun, parts of the borough of Crommertz. He married Rebecca MacDonald, May 1767. Their children were; Alexander and Janet.
- IV. Alexander the Fourth of Over Skibo, was heir special to his father Feb. 1, 1779. On May 18, 1779 on a precept from Chancery a Sasine was made to the same effect. He was the head of the firm of Gray and Agilvy. Army Agents of London. He married Mary Susanna only daughter of Richard Wainhouse. Their children, Allen, Carolime, Harriet, Susanna. Alexander Gray, dying without legitimate male issue, the Estate of Cromarty in virtue of settlement to George Ross, (Mentioned hereinafter) devolved upon Katherine Munroe, third of Calcairn and second wife of Hugh Ross of Glastullich, she being grandchild of Jean Ross (Sister of George) by her husband Robert Kirke of Dornoch. Much litigation ensued before Mrs. Ross came into possession of her claim, the opposer of her claim being an illegitimate son of George Ross.

(The above statement and disposition may have something to do with the of the property of George Ross by his will which proved in London, 1786 The most important items of that will are contained in the following account which was taken from the same general account in the "Scottish Antiquary.")

WILL OF GEORGE ROSS OF CROMARTY and of Conduit St. Middlesex.-----
Alexander Gray and John Agilvy of Spring Garden, upon trust, to realize alletc. in Surry and Middlesex, West Indies etc., To call in all monies due upon the lands of Over Skibo, still in Alexander Gray's possessipns (Mortgages etc., to pay off 30.000 Lbs. deducting 3000 Lb for the lands of Over Skibo.)

These; to the trustees named in the marriage articles of Alexander Gray my nephew and Susanna his wife. The Trustees are to lay out any residue of monies in the purchase of lands in the County of Cromartz or adjacent Counties. Then follows directions to payment of such invested monies-for factors to manage such Estates. (Following this statements of certain amounts to a large number of people.)

He desires his Nephew Alexander Gray and his other trustees to carry on all necessary improvements, expending nearly 200 Lbs, attending to planning for plantations, enclosures and hedges,----- "I desire Mr.

Gray to be at the expense of carrying on my poor Orphan Nephew Master George Gordon's education; that he consult Dr. Ross under whose care I put him, as to the profession his genius leads him etc.,----- (Flatters himself as to his disposition etc.) 'I have lived for many years, leaving to Mr Gray to cause to mark the spot of my interment etc., --- Proved in London 1786.

(This all must be in -or about the time of bitter persecution which arose in Scotland, both Religious and Political, which resulted in the Gray's leaving their Scotland home and emigrating to the new America. Further certified information must come from some unbiased history of the Religious movement.)

We note that these notes seem to be rather fragmentary, and of course we do not prove definite connection with the Gray's who came to America. But as we read these items, the names etc., we have the feeling that here are the men and women who are the forebears of the Gray's we know so well here.

Signed. J.C. Brown. Minister.

SKIBO! Once upon a time, one of the most famous and beautiful establishments in Northern Scotland, through the Centuries, perhaps more beautiful, when the modern life began to seep in through the vassellated stone structures of the earlier era.

The grass growing to the doors of the homes, not far from this the bed of 'simples' for the housewife to use, the herbs, (yarbs) for medicines, for seasoning foods, for the poulticing of any unhealing sores and -stomach ache.

In the stormy winter evenings, the mothers sitting at the fire side, spinning, schutching flax, knitting the clumsy stockings, rows of apples roasting at the edge of the fireplace, the 'Rymer' telling tales of goblins, ghosts, haunted houses, and burial places, headless horsemen and the romance of the wandering singer and story teller, the memories of the suffering and persecution, which rained upon their defenseless heads when the English Protestants persecuted them, over their native moors and wild recesses of their Mountains. Over the Mantles, the old flint lock gun, lay on deer horns above the fire place, where the fire was never allowed to go out. The pot of hot water on the hearth, stones heated were sometimes used to hasten cooking. Vegetables were baked in the hot embers-even fish or fowl, or sweet smelling loaves of bread. When a new fire was started, two sticks were rubbed together, or two pieces of prized flint to start the spark.

The weary shepherds, roaming all day with the flocks of sheep, which they had brought home at night, to the rude shelter, the goats climbing the eerie Mountain crags, browsing all day, at night slowly wended their way to the 'Village of the Goats' a group of stalls where each Goat knew its own pen, these made snug with brush and dirt roofs and walls, and easy to protect from Marauding animals.

SKIBO! No Deed or Title could be given a new owner, by the ones who finally lived on the Gray Estates. Because, the real owners of Skibo, for the long weary years marching into Eternity, had 'walked out' on a matter of conscience and principle, and voluntarily had relinquished all claim to their age-old Estate that lies between the River Shin, to the West, and the River Evelix, 20 Miles to the East, midst the Grampian Hills, of Northern Scotland.

We know that the day came when Thomas Gray confessed to his wife, gentle Mary, that he felt the only possible way out of an unbearable situation, was to emigrate to the new Continent. Many of their relatives and friends had gone and reported back their deep pleasure and happiness in the change.

Mary grieved. How could she leave her beloved home land, all she wanted was a place of her own in the World, without strife and loss of kin by sudden death. Her beloved 'mon' with her and the prattling children about her knees.----- But! Tammas! Whate'er 'e says, we will do. We will ready oursel' and just start quick like. She never quite overcame her burring Gaelic speech.

Reading thus far, we can, in a measure, understand the heart wrenchings of those old Patriots, who left ALL for the unknown World, in the 'New Westmoreland' over the Seas.

The Philadelphia Press of some time in 1898, as nearly as can be ascertained, had the following, most interesting item. We feel it should have a place here:

Quote!

'The fact that Andrew Carnegie should be referred to as 'Skibo' that is to say, the name borne by the old Gray family, who for Centuries were lords of Skibo, and owners of the Castle of Skibo, serves to recall the fact that a blood-curdling curse rests on this same Castle. Now, every one North of the Tweed is asking whether this curse will work against the new American owner of Skibo, the same way that the curse pronounced against the Lord Byron, who made a drinking cup of the skull of one of the old time Abbots of Newstead Abbey, continues to blight, not only all the descendents of the Lord Byron, but likewise the Webb family, who for the last forty years have owned Newstead Abbey; says the Phila. Press.

The ban on Skibo dates from the early part of Century, when by some foul wrong, the Gray's who had owned Skibo for several hundred years, were deprived of their ancestral home, and possessions, by some people of the name of Douls.

Misfortune overtook the latter, and since then Skibo has passed through many hands, including those of the (Douls) Mackays, Gordons, Dempsters, Chirnsides and several others, ill luck pursuing them all until the place was acquired by Andrew Carnegie. In fact, since the Gray's were ousted, near 200 years ago, no family has possessed it for more than one generation. At this time, Mr. Carnegie has the good wishes of all the District, into which he has brought much money and he is adding to the Castle in such a way, regardless of cost, t that it promises to, before long, be one of the finest Castles North of the Tweed. It is situated in the North West part of Scotland.''end quote.

Our Thomas Gray, 1761-1853, was heritage owner, and per present information, Lord Gray of Skibo, Scotland. Sometimes known as Newstead. Comprising a very large Acreage and several Villages. The Water-Fall of Loch-Shin included. The Estate lying North of Dornoch Firth.

IN THE NEW WESTMORELAND. LITTLE SCOTLAND.

'BERSE YONTE' (Press on.)

Historical:

Prior to 1763 we have a Record of a Fort at Braddock's Field.(Col. Boquet)

In 1765 Pittsburgh was laid out.

In 1768 The Proprietary of Pennsylvania purchased land from the Indians, as far West as the Allegheny River and the Ohio River.

1770-1771 Many of the Scotch-Irish from Bedford and York Counties, from Virginia and some directly from Ireland, started settlements in Washington County.-Reaching from the Monongahela River to the Ohio River.

Settlements in Western Pennsylvania and Virginia began to be noticed as; 'Going to Virginia.or going to the 'New Westmoreland' The travelled Route was a scarce Practicable path called 'Braddock's Trail' And no better provision for furniture and provisions than Pack Horses.

1796-7 Several Scotch Families came from the Isle of Lewis.

In the section which afterward became Butler Co., Pa. (1800) the first settlers had many difficulties and privations, with scarcely any food and lack of means to provide it.

1792 Legislature passed an act which gave occasion for misunderstanding between Land Speculators and actual Settlers, Law suits were ruinous to Settlers. Many left and went to other places. Those remaining compounded with the Land Owner-or- abode by the decision of the Courts of Law. (We record this to explain the late date of Deeds being consummated.)

Soldiers of the Revolutionary War were given gratuities, of the Penna. Line. (Peter Peterson, of Am.Rev. fame-some of whose descendents belong to our lists,) has a Deed recorded in the Butler Co. Court House, as one of these.

March 5, 1787. 3rd.Ser. Vol 23, p 272. Penna Archives. lists; him as, Peter Peterson-A Forest Ranger and Veteran of the Am.Rev. He received a Land Grant from the Continental Govt., Being a part of the 'Haley Tract'-----

As late as 1758 Westmoreland was an untrodden Wilderness, Wild beasts, savages, an occasional Frontier-man or Forest Ranger, but, no Settlers.

We have not been able, so far, to secure any written facts of the line of travel, of our Pioneers, but traditions persist, from various sources, and from these we picture the weary way, should any, better informed member, be able to correct this, -we shall be glad of the information.

The late B.F.Gray and A.H.Marshall, both very interested, informed students of early life, (as well as many older folks, whom we cannot give space now for the names,) -and we also have met with this in contemporary Gray, whose line we have been unable to certify. From chance gleanings, in old diaries, letters, and civil Law Records we offer this, feeling that it is as nearly correct as may be ascertained.

Settlers came into the Valley on two very distinct Trails, (National Geographic Map of early days,) The Cape Fear Trail and one other used after-or from 1784 to 1799 centers at Fredericksburg, which seemed to be a center for many Routes. Picking up an old Trail there that was used from 1732 to 1758 and on, that leads to Cresap's and Cumberland, where Fort Cumberland stood. It is very interesting to note that one of these leads directly up the Rappahannock River, has connecting links with the Trails at Frederickburg. Looking South, perhaps 60 Miles there was a very early Fort known as Westmoreland. - The name Leedstown is above it on my Map and Fort Montrose just below, seeming to indicate that it was known as all three of these. But. From there the Trails are very definitely marked, to all points North, including Baltimore, Philadelphia, Cumberland and Fort Duquesne.

Our information from our elders, include the names of 'Upland' Later called Chester, - The Cumberland Valley, Wills Creek, Gist's, - Braddock's Field, Fraziers, Fort Pitt, - once called Fort Duquesne, - then we hear more about the old Indian Trail, - Kuskuscius Path, (which ran straight North to Franklin,) - (and which was built with so much of the brawn of our own Pioneers.)

I believe, when we find the real answer to 'The New Westmoreland' which was the destination given by the ones who had gone before, to the new Continent, and was the HOPE of the oppressed in the old Countries, named after their own beloved old Hills and Mountains, This answer will be that our homesick Scotch, (Irish, or Scotch-Irish) Camped at the place which I have described as Fort Westmoreland, were refreshed there for their long journey into the unknown Wilderness, - Still Westmoreland - because they were unaware of, just - to whom - it did belong.

Because the Dist., which afterward became Butler Co., Pa. and especially Conoquenessing Twp. Forward Twp. etc. which had been visited by the Scouts, Traders, Forest Rangers - and George Washington with Gist, (once upon a time Lafayette,) These men include many that are in our lists. Amberson, McKinney, Shorts, Peterson, Frazier, Curran, McGuire, Critchlow, and others, this section became the 'Garden Spot' for our Peter McKinney, who married Mary Shorts at Mount Braddock and formed one of the party of five families, (of which we now are certain,) McKinney, two Gray brothers, James and Thomas, Daniel Graham and one McDonald.

Settlers had been gathering at Will's Creek, in the Cumberland Dist. waiting for a sufficient number to brave the wilds of the Wilderness, in their effort to establish a new Settlement, some had waited listening to the fearsome stories, (for many weeks,) finally Gist came, a slender quick moving and quicker tempered man in woodsman garments and they began the Trail to the new home. along the Trail, from the Trading Post at Turtle Creek, following the Rivers, striking due North on the old Kuskuscius Trail, not much more than a path through unbroken Wilderness, the Indians had carved deep furrows in places with their mocassined feet, on their way to the great Lakes, (the modern name of this Road is The Franklin Road) They came to the Old Indian Camp Site at Murderingtown, on the Conoquenessing, (Now called Amberson's Bridge, the former Village, all gone,) this had been an Indian meeting place for unknown decades.

Leaving this spot, which had been made famous by the attempt on the life of Major Geo. Washington, who had been sent on a Scouting mission by Gen. Dinwiddie of Virginia. Somewhere along the trail, they (Washington and Gist) were joined by an Indian, who professed to know Gist, at the Camp, at Murderingtown, the Indian attempted to kill Washington (this deed is suitably marked with a Monument, placed some 1/8 mile farther up on the Ridge, on Rt. 68) but to return to our group, travelling by slow painful stages, Indians still very hostile, travelling very difficult, we know of at least 8 small children, beside the wives, they come up on the Ridge to the North East, from this Camp. About two miles, perhaps a bit more, and prepare Camp at a Spring of wonderful clear water (still in use in 1951 - then 1791-2) built a crude shelter, utilizing brush, leaves and earth. Here they rest.

One of our old ladies said that "they had lived in a wagon, in which they had travelled North, until they could build a shelter or cabin. It had a rather high body, they entered it by means of a short step, at night they pulled the step up to the wagon to keep the wolves from coming up to the entrance, and many a night she shivered and prayed all night, in sheer terror."

Some improvements are made, the shelters are reinforced by logs, to repel wild animals and Indian prowlers. These improvements must be made to prove that they are entitled to receive a grant of the property, this does take a period of time, we have no accurate detail of this time, but two things we are certain about, Little Margaret McKinney was born at this Camp on March 10, 1792, these are conclusive proof of our claims. Mary Gray, wife of Thomas, and mother of four small children, befriended her companion in travel, Mary Shorts McKinney.

Thomas Gray's Deed shows, April 3, 1792, or the second proof. Winters were very rigorous, at that time, and travel was forbidden after Oct. So we must conclude that these five - or maybe seven families, settled close by, all from the same old home land, Scotland, with their soft spoken ways, their unswerving devotion to duty, spiritual interests, families, and their determination to carve - and we do mean carve - out a home and civilization and comforts, for those following. It is of these we would make a record that shall stand. In a short time the section was known as "Little Scotland" far and wide, even over the Seas. The Settlers came to Little Scotland as well as "The New Westmoreland" the "Beautiful Country" and freedom.

Among the stories told your Historian, by several families of Gray descent, who knew nothing of any family connection. We quote: There were four brothers. James, William, John and Thomas. They all came from Scotland together, separating at Philadelphia - or 'Upland' (now Chester) some say 'at the great Camp' some, 'at Braddock's Field. Thomas and James came to the place known as "Little Scotland" the others stayed in the Cumberland Valley.

These brothers made a solemn compact that they would name their sons; James, William, John and Thomas, through the ages, zealously, as far as the naming did not conflict with the urgent wishes of the mothers.

KIN- FOLKS

Wee Margaret McKinney, born March 10, 1792, at the new Camp on the edge of what is now Forward Twp., Butler Co., Pa. was never very rugged and died before reaching adulthood, is buried in a lonely grave some half mile farther away, on the same tract. She was the first white child to be born in the 'New Westmoreland' Dist, that holds our interest. We record this fact because the families of Gray and McKinney-friends in the old Country, companions on the adventure, Peter and some of the Grays shared the rigors of War. (1812 as well as the Am. Rev.) settled near-by and shared Pioneer dangers and pleasures.

Census findings.

Listed in the Census for 1800, we find;

Thomas Gray of Cunningham Twp., (sometimes called Dist.- was the name of the Tract.)

2 Males under 10 years. (none to 16.) 1 to 26.- 1 under 45.

1 Female under 10 years, -1 to 16, -1 to 25 and 1 to 45.

(This corresponds with the Gray family, the youngest being born in 1801.)

We also find James Gray with four sons under 26 and himself and wife.

In the Fall of 1931, a Committee of the families of Peterson Gray, gr-son to the old Thomas Gray Sr. (remembering the pact made by the original four brothers, that they would make a History of the families,) issued invitations to all the known, (at that time,) members of the descendants of Thomas Gray, asking them to assemble at the commodious red-tile home of Chester P. Bish, at Conoquenessing, Pa. a driving rain did not hinder the coming of 80 odd, perhaps 90 people filling the house from cellar to attic. These were of the families of William, Sophia, John and James Gray. Representing W. Va., Pa. and Ohio.
Organisation was effected, calling it the 'Thomas Gray Clan of Butler Co., Pa.

Mrs. Grace S. Graham (Historian) the co-instigator, and daughter of C. P. Bish and Mary Ann Gray Bish, (then dec) was elected President of the group. With Cameron W. Gray of Gibsonia, V. P. and /Mrs.
Maude Crowe of Renfrew, Sec. & Treas.

With directions to issue a call to meet the second Sat. in August 1932. at the Moose Park, near the place where the old Patriarch first made Camp in 1792. (or 1971) 1791.

Mrs Graham was also given authority to make diligent search for the complete Roster of the families of the first family. Interest and good fellowship has increased from year to year. As many as eleven States have been represented at one time, the highest average, just before the WW#2 was 360 attendance.

The Annual Reunion became very successful. Rev. Jos. C. Brown was elected President at the second Reunion, Mrs. Graham was to devote her time to searching Records, both Genealogical and Historical. This task to be followed by the publishing of a Gray Family History, after strong efforts should be made to secure all known descendents.

In 1948, at the 17th Annual Reunion (18 counting the 1st. one) it was voted to close the books and prepare for publication.

Unforseen difficulties arose and it became impossible to do this, now-1951- we are fully prepared to bring this to pass.

After the Reunions became a successful method of increasing acquaintance and interest among the Grays, the question began to be discussed: 'How do we know we are the Gray's who left Scotland nearly a Century and a half since, and came to what is now Penna., to make a home in the Wilderness.'

The answer to this has been given to the Gray Clan assembled and we feel that it should have a place in the History of the Family. Many of the older ones whose council, friendship and approval have made this work possible, have gone to their reward.

We must, of necessity, include some personal history, in order to prove our case, this is unavoidable, and we beg leniency of all the great company of descendents. We also leave some clues unsolved, we hope that some future Historian may be able to solve these, which shall be noted in order.

MARY ANN GRAY.

Daughter of Peteraon and Sarah Calvin Gray. (James-Thomas.) a School Teacher, Tailor, Home-maker and all around popular young lady, gently reared, previous to the Civil War, during and after the War, filled the place, at her home, in Duncanville, (now Widnoon, Pa.) in Armstrong Co., which was vacated by her brother Calvin Gray of Co. K. 155th Pa. Vol. Zouaves. Who made the supreme sacrifice, at the Battle of Spotsylvania, after having followed the Army of the Potomac through all of its struggles up to that time.

Mary Ann Gray married Chester Perry Bish, (son of a very old Pioneer Family,) in 1872. Identified herself with the struggles of an ambitious young Mill-Wright, eventually coming from the work, -seasonable- in the 'upper Lumber Country, near Cook's Forest for a time they were in Armstrong Co., where they owned a farm, eventually coming to the newly discovered 'Oil Country' (in Petrolia, Pa. in 1876. Her new surroundings tended to make her even more determined, in spite of difficulties, to rear her family, in the best traditions of both families and ancestors.

In this setting, the family stories, which held her spell-bound, since early childhood, now assumed deeper interest, these stories, enlarged, proven and certified by her files of information, Court Records, Church and Cemetery data, and the memories and data of older relatives, also close friends, form a Record that we feel is authentic and certified.

Mary Ann Gray had lived close neighbor to Thomas Gray Jr. the youngest son of the old Pioneer. Her own father, Peterson Gray being a nephew of this Thomas Jr. Her own family all called him 'Uncle Tommy' they were close friends and companions, beyond the average. Her father, Peterson had left his old home in Forward Twp. Butler Co., Pa. in 1838, at the time of his marriage to Sarah Calvin (of the Baltimore Calvins & Whites.) and had settled on a farm in Madison Twp/ Armstrong Co., Pa. adjoining lands of 'Uncle Tommy' the friendship between these, the close relationship, is a trait you may observe today, in many cases, the clannish feeling surviving through the Centuries from early days in Scotland, when it meant life and death to the Clan.

'Uncle Thomas Gray' born 24 Dec. 1799, in Conoquenessing Twp. Butler Co. not far from the old Moose Park, where we met in 1932, had left Butler Co., about 1822. Settling on land near the Village of Shouptown-an early Trading Post, now called Tidal.- married Elizabeth Craig, and established a home known widely for upright, kindly charitable living and helpfulness to one and all. His opinion was the 'Court of last appeal' for miles around, in all questions of Christian culture, medical aid, help for the needy and leniency toward the erring. In fact, he was the 'Mr. Thomas Gray' of the community.

The story is told of his German neighbor, who came to him hurriedly. 'Come quickly! Mr. Thomasy, Oh! Mr. Thomasy, mine old voo-man, she did bite a snake.' Uncle Tommy, calmly secured a quart of lard, melted it and forced the woman to swallow it. It no sooner disappeared, than it reappeared, green as grass, The life of the good German 'Frau' was spared to her small family.

Another neighbor, rather shiftless, had come, year after year for 'just a little seed wheat' enough to seed my field, it is ready.' 'We'el. Ye can hae it; and ye can hae more-WHEN-ye return what ye borrowed last year and the year before that, and the year before that, (many times repeated)' That. Was the last seed wheat borrowed. Others borrowed a 'wee greaser to grease the buckwheat Griddle,' well knowing that they would get enough meat to last them for several days. He was also famous for owning the Lancet, this was popularly believed to restore health and also relieve illnesses, by the letting of blood. He had many calls for that service.

Meanwhile, the Mother, Mary James Gray had died, and the old father, Thomas Gray Sr. had sold his Farm, (this was sold in different parcels,) of the original 400 X A. to Phillip Nicklas, in Conoquenessing Twp. Butler Co. Pa. living a winter with the family of Nicklas, in the old home. The sons had built a comfortable home on the Renfrew Road some two Miles from this, the foundations of which still lies, in 1951. (over 100 years back) one of the stones from this, forms the base for the marker, which the Clan placed at the head of Mother Mary's grave, in 1948. (located by the oft repeated stories of the old man, 'Mother died and was buried by the steps of the old Brick Church, at White Oaks Springs, a child by her side, 'bury me the same way, a row of creek stones, around the grave,' this grave was actually located by this description, by the writer, the creek stones still being there in 1894, when our family bought property there.

To this home, came the old father Thomas Sr. and spent long hours, with the family of his son Thos. Jr. Much of his time sitting by the window with his old Leather Bound Bible, bought in Edinburg, Scotland. open on his knee, repeating whole Chapters of its contents, from memory, He was blind for over a decade.

My own mother, Mary Ann Gray Bish, the young child, also spent long days at the feet of the grand old man, listening to his stories, hearing the glories of his old home land, that achieved more importance, as he 'greeted' for the loss of his 'bonnie Mary' to these circumstances, we owe the very best of our stories and traditions of the old family.

Reminiscences offered by several of the older members, whom we have been privileged to know, respect and honor, have been used, parts and largely, in many of our Reunions and Letters, bear repeating here, we offer them, feeling that, in this day of hurry and more speed, small Apartments and many times, smaller families, and modern living, they have a certain value. We have been privileged to know and view some of these homes, that were really LIVED in, loved and well cherished.

Our Pioneer Thomas had two sons, William and John, who served in the 1812-14 War.--both are buried in the White Oaks Springs Cemetery, the graves suitably marked. Sophia, the oldest child, married John Critchlow, who was also a Revolutionary Veteran, he made the supreme sacrifice, at Buffalo, with Gen. Anthony Wayne. in 1814, he was only 28, barely beginning to live. Descendants of his still live at Prospect, Pa.

James Gray, whose wife was a daughter of Peter Peterson, the noted Warrior, recorded in History with the disastrous campaign of Gen. Braddock. (his grave with his wife, is located in the old North Cemetery, Butler, Pa.) James and Margaret's oldest son, was Petersom Gray, his wife was Sarah Calvin, a winsome belle from Baltimore, Md. Sarah was a lineal descendent of the Whites, who settled in Connecticut, coming over in the Mayflower contingent. Her mother was Margaret White, who married Aaron Calvin. Sarah's folks felt that she was throwing herself away, when she married a Forest Ranger. from the wilds of Penna. It is told that she had seven different outfits, (meaning vastly more than an outfit means today,) there were long bloomer underwear, close petticoats, outer petticoats, -at least four to the outfit, hoop skirts, with yards and yards of festooned ruffling, beaded and pleated, these with each dress, and each with its own special wrap to match, Imagine that, in the Indian infested forests. They rode one horse to the new home, through the Forest, miles away.

Cabins, usually built, a large room with a sort of a half story over it, another similarly built close by, the two covered by one roof, with an open hallway between the two. A fire place built at one end, with a commodious hearth.

In years a more suitable home was built, comfortable, some known as 'stud-and frame' rooms large enough to house a small family in one room. Shops were built, barns, Sheep-fold, Bee-Yards, orchards, gardens, dry-houses, Bake ovens, spring-houses, where dairy products and apple butter kept almost freezing, loom houses, usually a well with the old fashioned wooden-bucket, trees and shrubs surrounding the home, every stone in the solid foundation cried out that here was consideration, happiness, good cheer, toleration, understanding and freedom.

These things are a part of our heritage, the whole race, mutual helpfulness- a neighbor of grandfather's, old M. Hooks, spent hours building a 'fish-basket' to catch some fish, (to surprise Mr. Peterson, he would chuckle,) So grandfathers generosity was well remembered. He built all the old fashioned Caskets, for all who died, lining them carefully, with a sort of bombazine, making a small pillow, sending his own screw-driver to fasten the lid down, after the services were over. My own mother often was delegated to go along, to make sure the precious screw driver was returned, she carried it carefully.

We come to the door of one of these early cabins, The latch string is hanging out, We pull the string and the latch flies up, releasing the door and allowing us to enter. We find ourselves in a large room with rather low ceilings, having heavy beams, a dirt floor packed hard. A chimney built with a wide fireplace, a fire board over it, corresponding to the modern Mantle, supporting a rude candle in a gourd holder, perhaps in the skull of some animal, fat for oil and rushes for wick, powder-horn, Large Bible, usually leather bound with brass clasps, some deer horns supporting the flint lock rifle, primitive cooking vessels, huge iron pots, iron tea kettles, huge spider, all these utensils provided with legs for convenience in preparing the food at the open fireplace for the hard-working settler and his family. The food consists of wild meats, bear bacon, corn pone, potatoes, venison hams, beans, sometimes wild turkey.

Only essentials, in the way of furniture, strings of pumpkin hanging from the rafter to dry, bunches of herbs to use for the ailing, the sun-dial on the floor catches your eye, a series of lines marking the hours of the day, according to where the sun shines through the open door, tanned hides make for comfort on the floor, In a corner stands the spinning wheel, while cards and loom all show signs of hard wear, each settler helps his neighbor raise a cabin, once finished and furnished, all done on the spot, the night is spent in dancing and merry making. They make trails together, loan their primitive tools and interchange supplies. They make rounds of their traps, skin the animals, stretch the hides, cut bee trees, make log shelters for horse and ox, secure for the winters, they are busy contented and never discouraged.

Families, comfortable and cared for, the over-full hearts find expression in the building of Churches, suitable to their needs. They worked together, husked corn, molded candles, harvested crops, preserved fruits, spun wool, held singing schools, quiltings, no one dared to be idle.

Pictured above, we see the Cabin home where Sophia Gray and John Critchlow set up housekeeping, built abt 1805, still standing in 1951 and in good state of repair.

Sophia Gray (3) b 1784 in Scotland. Coming with her parents, at the age of 8 years, they settled in what afterward became Conoquennessing Twp. or perhaps nearer to Forward Twp. Butler Co., Pa. Beginning her married life in the above Cabin, with her husband, John Critchlow, the son of William Critchlow, Pioneer of the Cumberland Dist. and his wife, Mary Burnsides, b in Scotland.

Wm. Critchlow, the father of John, with a brother James and a close friend, Thomas Scott, all three knit closely in the relationship of the Grays, and all members of the famous 'Col. Dan'l Morgan's Sharpshooters' was buried on a part of his farm, on a hill South of Big Creek, (near Reibold, Pa.) his grave was decorated by the S.A.R. and the Gray Clan Oct 28 1933, registering the honor due his memory as 'The Hero of Saratoga' the Battle was Oct 7 1777 when Gen. Gates won the day for the new Colonies.

John Critchlow (11) enlisted in the War of 1812-14 and lost his life at Buffalo in 1814. Sophia reared her two small children alone. Mary (Polly) afflicted with some lameness, lived to be 76 never married. Sophia's (3) son Thomas (13) b 1813 lived to be 77. He had the ideal qualities of the Mercant. Had started a Store or Trading Post, as they were called at that time, at Powder Mill near the head of the Run-Creek- The exact location of this Post being unknown, but it is known that there were several dwellings on the land that lies to the East of the old Powder Mill, which was established by the Grays, McKinneys and Purviances, as described elsewhere.

This Post must have been started about 1829-30, from existing records, was removed to the newly planned Village of Peters town (Conocoquenessing) in a building which stands now (1951) on the N.E. Corner of Main and Renfrew St. The Store was open for business two days a week, he also was the first Post Master in this same building since 1852.

In 1860 the Critchlows sold out and removed to Prospect, Pa. establishing a Merchantile business there, still owned and operated by his descendents.

The mother spent her life with her son Thomas, living to be 1871

Thomas died in 1889, well known and respected by a host of friends.

It is told that he was rather gruff spoken. Little Birdie Nicklas came into his store, the old fashioned Counters were high and sloped inward to the floor, She was tiny and the overshoot hid her, she piped up.

"Please Mr. Critchlow, Twant ti get"----- At this he leaned over the high counter and demanded; "What do you want?" He sounded so gruff that she was badly frightened and ran crying home.

James Gray b Skibo Scotland. Eldest son of Thomas and Mary Gray. Migrated and settled in Butler County Pa. At that time called 'The New Westmoreland' The Deed to the Farm, recorded in the Butler County Court House, gives grounds for the belief that the Family came before the time set for travel to close on October 1st. 1791.

Some physical disability, believed to have been bad eye sight, caused him to be listed as 'unfit for Military duty' (his two brothers, William and John were both in the 1812-14 War.)

James Gray was widely known as a good farmer and lover of fine horses, he settled on land and established a large Farmstead some two Miles West of his fathers place, married Margaret Peterson, the oldest daughter of Peter Peterson, named on another page of this History.

Peter Petersom, Hero of the Braddock's Defeat, settled South of Butler, Pa. His Deed Dated Mar. 5 1787. He and his wife and other members of his family buried in the old section of the North Cemetery Butler, Pa.

Twelve children were born in this home. Margaret died in 1848 and buried in the old White Oaks Springs Cemetery.

James established the first Carpenter and Journeyman Shop on the Banks of the Conoquenessing Creek, (at that time called a River,) Many men were trained in his shop, (often called 'Uncle Kelkers' a derivation of the Scotch word 'Caulking' in plain English stopping leaks etc.,) He busied his talents in training good workmen, who excelled in erecting buildings, laying strong masonry and producing a fine grade of household furniture.

Several old homes-in our own knowledge-still in good use attest this skill and prove able to endure another 100 years. The United Presbyterian Church at White Oaks Springs on Rt 68 and the Methodist Church in Conoquenessing both are fruits of this man, his sons and the men whom he trained, in his Shop not far from the old old Indian and Pioneer Camp, Murderingtown on the Kuskuscius, Venango Trail, now called Franklin Road from Pittsburgh to Erie's Presque Isle Peninsula, the door to the Great Lakes Road to the mysterious West, by way of the Lake water-way.

One of these houses was built on Graham land, heavy strong stone foundations with a very large Cistern built in the South end of the Cellar, strong stone blocks rise to the top of the first floor, then the second floor is formed of logs, clap boarded. Any room is as large as all of the floor of the most modern home.

The Peter McKinney Tavern built in 1839, 100 feet SW of the old Cabin home first built in 1792-or 1791- was of this same construction, This was built a decade before the Village was plotted for town use, in 1849.

In the period before the Civil War unrest, James became unsatisfied and unhappy, went to Piketon, O, to his daughters home, Elizabeth Brown, where he lived until death, he was buried in Brown Cemetery at Piketon, O.

Several men are spoken of as 'having been trained as Carpenters and Cabinet Makers, at the Shop of James Gray, at the old Murderingtown Shop. In the Butler County Histories.

The above picture of James Gray, a ver old Daguerreotype, must have been taken about the time of his marriage. We are indeed fortunate to have these pictured faces of our old Pioneers.

Thomas Franklin Brown-son of Elizabeth Jane Gray and James Brown, was born the old Brown home near Renfrew, Pa. He went with his parents to Jasper, Pike Co., O. about 1850, born 1851, went to Riga, Mich in 1868 a grandson of the 6th gen. has a Record of the Browns, names and dates, says the home was called 'Bradner' we know of two old Brown, early home sites, have not located the place called Bradner as yet. Anyone knowing this will kindly report.

1043		William Casey.. Pioneer Family, Cattle Drover. Wm. Casey made extensive trips to the Pittsburgh Markets. On one trip he was waylaid, robbed and shot from behind, left dead by the road-side. The Casey Casey farm was just across the Conoquenessing Creek from the James Gray homestead. Tradition and family tales speak of him as being the brother of Elizabeth Casey, who married Jeremiah Gray, brother to Hannah. They being the children of one James Casey, Am. Rev. soldier who received land for Military Services. A very old Casey Cemetery, lies on the hill above the Conoquenessing Creek, some 1/2 Mi. nearer to Evans City, from the old Murderingtown-Amberson Bridge. Much neglected, almost obliterated, in 1933.

William Gray

b Skibo Scotland. In some Settlement that belonged to the Estate, where the family had resided before coming to the 'New Westmoreland'

William was of a studious Poetical type, disliked to fish and hunt, and above all, avoided the very necessary Forest Ranger work, that was a ''MUST'' in the life of every Pioneer man-rather 'male'-women, also, must be able to use the old Musket, life, itself often depended upon this knowledge of self defense.

William wanted no tilling of the soil. No excitement of the horse race, no dangerous days at the Powder-Mill, which his brothers operated.

He would help his mother, in all her tasks, in making garden, caring for her herbs, her bee'skeps' her making soap and apple-butter, (her old copper kettle, which will produce 26 gallon of Apple Butter-by actual test- is still in the possession of our family.) Her weaving and skutching of the flax, her tanning hides, churning and baking bread in the out door Bake-Oven, pickling and spicing winter stores that required much labor to gather and prepare for the final step/ Then there was the sanding of the bone white spotless floors, platform shelves, erected some 12 to 15 feet above the ground to ripen tomatoes on and dry fruits, away from the nosey hens.

And those precious hours of reading and study, when he lay sprawled on the warm earth, in the groves about the beloved old White Oak Springs Church. Religious 'Mecca' of the old Pioneers.

William Gray Loved to study.

His Bible, Fox's Book of Martyrs, an occasional Ben Franklin's Almanac, a very few, priceless, books. And he literally dogged the steps of the early Ministers that rested in his father's home, on their long weary, dangerous trails through the Wilderness, (as late as 1865, we are told that it was heavy forest from the old Church to the new Village of Peters town, -now called Conoquenessing.)

Study, study, read, ponder. His was a passion for learning that would not be denied.

His reward lies in the fact that he, in turn, learned many souls to read and write, and paved the way for intellectual culture. And. Even today, his skill as a Teacher is remembered, by old-timers, a tradition. His son Absalom after him, was also a Pioneer Teacher.

A ''Paper'' permitting men to teach, was given them by the Itinerant Ministers. One of these, Francis Poythress, was a regular visitor at their home.

Descendents of his son Absalom, still retain the Teacher's Certificate given him, after it became necessary to secure such credentials.

It is said that when some older boys chafed at discipline and became unruly, William would stamp his foot and declare, in his deep vibrant voice. "THAT, will be enough" (it was spelled that way and spoken so, then,) the culprit would meekly subside in his rude slab-side seat.

William walked great distances to teach. The Critchlow School, near his sister, Sophia's home, South East of Conoquennessing, was one of these, also at Break Neck, (now called Evans City,) and later a School was built at the Southern point of the present Village of Conoquennessing. This is credited with being the second School in the whole District. It was the custom to have School, hear the three 'R's in the homes, as well as to have Church Services in the homes, before Public Buildings were available.

In the second decade following the organization of Butler, a female school-Seminary- opened, as also the Witherspoon Academy, this latter where the English Lutheran Church stands on North Main St. The former on the South Side of Center Avenue, near the present Free Methodist Church.

William Gray

Served in the War of 1812-1814. Wounded, came home less an ear. Married the widowed Mary MacDonald, who had two small children, builded a home at Whitestown, Pa. Taught School a quarter Century, reared his family, died at the age of 48. bur White Oaks Springs Cemetery, beside his wife and daughter Nancy.

William Gray

b in Skibo Scotland 1798, served in Capt. Thompson's Co. 2nd Pa. Militia, is also named in the 138 Reg. Capt Robt. Martins which was recruited at Whitestown, Pa. and Capt. James Murrin's Co. 26 th Pa Militia. His grave is numbered with the Veterans Grave Registry of Butler Co. has the regulation Am. Rev. Markers, as well as the family tombstone.

Carhart Walling, distinguished in the American Revolution, bur at Kittanning, Pa. belongs in the bounds of this family, his wife, Catherine Graham is bur a few feet North of William's grave, she is an Ancestor to Mrs. Lillian Flick Gillespie.

A Pension was granted Mrs. Gray by the Pennsylvania Legislature by what was called 'The Pamphlet Law' in 1847, soon after his death, This is recorded in the 'To Arms' section.

William Gray, the Teacher.

Chapter 8

JOHN GRAY

Believed to have been born in Scotland.

Was the first positive means of identifying the Butler Co., Pa Grays with the old Father, Thomas' stories and files-he having died in Armstrong Co., Pa.

Thomas declared, frequently that 'wee Johnnie was cumin twa, when they settled in the 'New Westmoreland' (this was verified by the dates on John's tombstone,) He also-among other things-said that 'John and Mattie strongly differed in their Religious views, so much so that they attended different Churches' we find this confirmed by Butler Co folks that were unaware that we knew this fact.

John's grave is in the White Oaks Cemetery and we have been assured by competent witnesses that 'Martha is buried just directly South of the Methodist Church, a child by her side, the grave unmarked, but known, in 1951.

JOHN GRAY

Began house keeping in a commodious home just East of the spot where the old Powder Mill was located on Powder Mill Run. There is evidence that they lived, for a time, in a home just 1/4th Mile SE of the original Thomas Gray homestead. They finally occupied the old home and sold it to Phillip Nicklas.

In his youth, he gave good service to his Country, in the War of 1812-1814. Beside the usual 'Forest Ranger' duties that were compulsive at that time.

JOHN

GRAY Caused a wee bit of excitement when the word came out that 'He and bonnie Mattie Critchlow had 'Taken out lovin papers' which is equivalent to our present day Marriage License, one old lady remembered that her mother ran 'hypering' home to bring the news. (Hypering was a term for hastening.)

His wife, Mattie was a daughter of William Critchlow and Mary Burnsides. (John Critchlow, who married a sister of John Gray's was also a child of this same Wm. Critchlow)

Their father, Wm. Critchlow was honored as 'The Hero of Saratoga' his grave suitably marked by the SARS and Gray Clan. The Critchlow Families-the old father was David- came into the new section of Penns Woods, from the old Cumberland Valley, soon after the first settlers arrived.

Will Book A. Page 178 in the Butler, Pa. Court House Records a voluminous Will, in which both John Critchlow and John Gray are named. John as ---- 'my big coat which I bequeath to my son-in-law John Gray. Also notes to the effect that 'the earliest date found in Butler County of the Critchlows, is 1808. It is of interest to note that; in Records found the name is sometimes spelled; David Chistzlow, also Cristzloo.

It is fitting that these old Pioneers, our fore fathers should be be noted and remembered. We owe a debt to them for long hard strenuous years of labor that did much to make our modern life easier and our path more clear.

NOTE:

In the Gray-Craig Cemetery, at Tidal, Armstrong Co., Pa. were noted graves of 1422 and 1956-as above- at the head, the stone carried the following inscription;

"Our mother here lies under the ground
The dearest friend we ever found
But through the Lord's unbounden love
We'el meet again in realms above."

SIGNED: "The children"

Witnessed by a large group of Grays who had gone there to certify the grave of the old Patriarch, Thomas Gray. Later the Historian visited the place, on a funeral occasion, and found that the graves had been removed to some other place. Thus proving the fact of surviving descendants.

This fact. And the names of the two brothers and their wives on the 1866 Land Deed, in the Butler County Court House, are sufficient proof that these are our Grays.

Chapter 9

MARGARET GRAY

Born, the second child, (making, now a family of six,) in the Cabin home of the Thomas Gray's, one half mile South of the old White Oaks Springs Church, (which was then only a plot of some eighteen or twenty Acres, laid aside for the use of Religious needs of the 'Scotch Bottom' section of the 'New Westmoreland' no new made graves in the 'GoD'S Acre' No buildings, for the earnest sincere Settlers worshipped their God, in the open, or in convenient homes.)

1796 The year of Margaret's birth, was a very hard winter. Heavy falls of snow, a long -from Oct 1st to April first- deep piled drifts making any communication with the less than a score families very difficult.

Food was scarce owing to the difficulties of planting and harvesting, and the dangers and inroads of the wild animals, also many visits from Indians, mostly 'unfriendly' the, nearly five years had produced a measure of comfort, the brush covered shelter had given way to the two room log house with one half story second floor, and a rude ladder to reach that, some had outside open stairways. Each of the two cabins, some 10 feet apart, had a strong chimney built at the outside ends, the whole covered with a sort of a continuing roof, creating a sort of sheltered porch, a good place to work. The kitchen fireplace, a good commodious area to use the long legged iron pots, spiders, dutch-ovens, as well as to heat the very necessary 'bed-warmers' contributed to heat, both in winter and summer. And. Much labor for the busy housewife, (and the younger boys, who chopped and carried wood for its use.)

Court Records. Family Bibles, Cemetery Markers and the many traditions of older members contribute to the picture a dynamic current, uncovering great dreams of a free future, homes and places where our pioneer fore-fathers trod literally bare-foot, sometimes leather moccasined.

Many Legal entries prove to us that our ShortS' came to the new Settlement at a very early date. We are led to believe that they came from what was then known as Prince George County in Maryland. At any rate, one of the family, James Shorts is recorded as having married Mary Grimes, Feb. 9 1779, in the Recrds of that County.

Shorts members who figure in the section we are especially interested in localizing at this writing, show that one Richard Shorts- of this family, served in the American Revolution aftermath- especially- he was in the 2nd. Reg. Inf.

Sarah Shorts, on May 11 1811 was charged with contempt of Court, at the Butler County Seat of Justice. Young, fiery quick tempered, one can easily understand her impatience with the straight laced, inexperienced dispensers of Law and order in the very new County Court. Set up in 1800.

Mary Shorts born about 1750 (records not real clear) was married to young Peter McKinney, who had figured in the 1776 rejoicing, was another sister, who gave birth to the first white child in the new wilderness, (Elizabeth McKinney was born March 3 1792,) the young parents were married at the settlement at Braddock's Field, according to History.

Records antedating 1750 should show proof of the claim that the families of the elder William Shorts, whom we have been trying to picture, were located in this Maryland section, whether it was of long or short duration.

William Shorts another brother married our Margaret Gray and settled on land in the BaldRidge Dist. which lays between the present Village of Meridian, Butler CO., Pa. and Renfrew. There are many Court entries of Deeds etc., Land in Butler Twp. from the Lemmons and Harris and Wm. Shorts.

In 1814 Thomas Shorts sold land to Wash. J. Shorts. and the ones we have certified records of by this name, were not even born. Our Margaret Gray and William Shorts had their first son born in 1811, named William Gray Shorts.

William Shorts and Margaret Gray Shorts exemplified the ancient Scottish Clan Spirit established by both their fathers. generations of their race were born in the same home that sheltered the parents, here were born Margaret's children, her grand children and her great grand children, before it left the Shorts name.

Carpenters, Masons, Blacksmith's and a host of Teachers and Professional citizens were sent out from this home, to do their appointed bit in making the Pioneer dream come true.

We have located the generations of two of the surviving sons, the third son b about 1813 eludes our search, excepting for one grandson, Mr E. A. Flickner of Pittsburgh. EE.

Margaret and William were both adherents and members of the old first Covenanter group and later the United Presbyterian Church, at White Oaks Springs Cemetery, where they both sleep beside their two small daughters, in the center of the Cemetery. Margaret died first, dates unknown.

We had been mis-informed, concerning these families, for many years, knew early facts, in a general way, from records of the older families located in Armstrong Co., Pa. Every inquiry, in Butler Co., Pa. met with a most discouraging lack of information. Had concluded that there were no more Shorts' families.

Your Historian made a sick call on an aged invalid, member of the same Church, and there met Mrs. John Jamison of the Pittsburgh Dist. She was a daughter of Washington Shorts. About the same time, (winter of 1939,) we received a letter from another Shorts girl, Mrs. Catherine Agnes Shorts McClintock, also of Pittsburgh. A cousin to the first lady named. Through these we have been happy to locate the entire lists of families of our Margaret Gray Shorts. We feel that a reprint of this last named letter, would be very interesting. And. In a measure be an added proof added proof for the authenticity of the History. We are much indebted to both of these ladies, and the very material assistance which was rendered by another Shorts girl, Mrs Rose Shorts Hansell, the very efficient Historian of the Shorts Family.

The letter sent to Norman P. Bish, dated Nov. 20 1939, explains itself. My Dear Mr. Bish: For quite some time I have been thinking of writing to you in regard to the Gray Clan. As the Editor of the Gray Clan Bulletin, I thought you might be interested to hear of some folks that think they may belong to this Clan: And as you have requested information about any you have not listed, I am writing to tell you of some of these. To begin, my name is Mrs. James A. McClintock. My maiden name was Agnes Shorts. Some eighteen months since, I met one Mrs. Critchlow, and knowing that my father had relatives of that name, I inquired about their ancestors, and after meeting her husband Mr. Thos. R. Critchlow, who could tell me more about them, we found that we were of the same stock, Mr Critchlow's grandmother and my grandmother being sisters, whose maiden name was Dodds. Some time afterward, we were again speaking of our relationship, and Mr. Critchlow mentioned the fact that they were also related to the Grays. I had always known that we were related to the Grays on my grandfathers side and told Mr. Critchlow so. I had been told that my grandfathers mother's name was Gray - her married name being Shorts. But I did not know the given name of either of these great grandparents.

My parents had also spoken of Uncles, Aunts and cousins by name of Gray. Some time after that Mrs. Critchlow handed me the "'Gray Bulletin'" dated Jan. 1939 and told me to look it over as she thought our names were mentioned in it, and see if I would recognize any of our ancestors. I did so and found that you had listed as the Sixth child of the old Pioneer couple the name of Margaret with this statement 'died out in the next generation' and the name of Shorts in a parenthesis, as if that was her married name.

On another page where the location of graves were given, the names of Margaret, Mary (Polly) and Sarah Ann were listed, and followed by the statement that these three girls each died at about the age of seventeen or eighteen and that they were the only children of Margaret Gray.

As I read these names and that they were buried in the old White Oaks Springs Cemetery, I knew we were of the same Clan, only that a great mistake had been made when it stated that they had died out in the third generation. For beside the three girls named above, there was also three sons. William Gray Shorts, Thomas Shorts and Washington Shorts.

Another mistake was that these girls had died young, for I remember them very well when I was a little girl, they lived to be quite old although never married. William Gray Shorts, who I think was the oldest of the family, was my grandfather, he had a daughter who died about eighteen or nineteen, she was also named Sarah Ann, probably named for the Aunt of the same name. She of course was buried in White Oaks Springs Cemetery, as she was also my grandfather, grandmother and a number of her children.

William Gray Shorts married Mary Ann Dodds and had six sons and two daughters beside the one who died a young girl. Thomas Shorts also married, but I have forgotten her name, except that they called her 'Aunt Betsy' they had, I think, four daughters.

Washington Johnson Shorts. Third son and fifth child of Margaret Gray Shorts was born at the Baldrige homestead and married Agnes Lefever from the Glade Run Dist., they had two sons.

My grandfather and grandmother lived all their lives in Conoquenessing Twp. (extreme SE Corner.) Butler Co., Pa. and were staunch members of the old White Oaks Springs Church-U.P.- and their children were baptized members there, until marriage and moving away to other localities.

In fact, I and my brothers and sisters were all baptized in that Church. My father James Calvin Shorts, was the oldest of my grandfathers family, and I am the oldest living, of this family. We have been holding Shorts Annual Reunions for a great many years, that is just the descendants of my grandfathers family.

At the last reunion, held July 4th 1939 our historian reported a total of 225 living descendants, including- of course- those intermarried with our family.

At any rate. "Our tribe is far from having 'died out' as yet"---
Now Mr. Bish, I have given you just a few facts of the Shorts branch of what I now think is the Margaret tribe of the Gray Clan. If you think from what I have written that we belong to this Clan, and wish any more information in regard to it, I will be glad to tell you anything I can.

As to the Critchlows of whom I have written, I found that we were related both by my grandfather and my grandmother, as M. Thomas Critchlow son of Sophia Gray was a full cousin of my gr-father Wm. Gray Shorts and these cousins married sisters.

In a way, I feel as though I know you, as my daughter had you as a Teacher at Westinghouse HS. Mildred-now Mrs. Louis T. Shannon-graduated from there Jan. 1921. and my grandson Robert McCrae who graduated 1937 knew you also.. Any later Bulletins would be thankfully received.

Sincerely, Mrs J.A. McClintock. Brookline, Pgh.

The Families of Washington Johnson Shorts 3rd gen. son of Margaret Gray Shorts-&William)-was born abt 1819.

2914 143 These were located by the efforts of Mrs Mary E.Shorts Wachter who knew of their locating in Michigan. Also 2856 139 Mrs. Rosa D.Shorts Hansell who has been the efficient Historian of the Shorts Branch of the Gray Clan. These had been holding annual Reunions since 1921 It was organized and Officers elected first in 1928. They still meet as a Shorts Reunion,as well as being included in the older group. The Gray Historian also made extensive minute search.

The older-Thomas Gray Clan Reunion began in 1931, coalescing some eight or nine groups which had been meeting by smaller families,previous to the 'CALL' to meet at the home of Chester P.Bish in Conoquennessing,Pa. August 1931.At which time some 90 members of the James,John,William and Sophia Gray Branches responded and were organized, and Officers elected.

2834 Thomas Shorts (on pages 137 and 154,) 3rd gen. 3rd child of Margaret Gray-(8) and William Shorts,(2831)b abt 1815 living in 1872 was a skilled Carpenter.Built a house and Barn for John Brandon,(This was testified to by J.Cleffer Brandon,b 1844,)in Conoquenessing Twp.Butler C., Pa.
 Learned his trade with his Uncle James Gray(4)whose Shop was located near the Conoquenessing Creek,between Buhl Bridge and Amberson Bridge-the former on Rt68.-a few hundred feet from the place known from earliest days as Murderingtown, the Indian Camping place where George Washington was shot at and escaped.
 Mr.Brandon said that the logs had to be cut and hauled to the place where they were to be used,the carpenters then hewed,cut and morticed,and, instead of a Plane,they split and hewed the logs smooth. For the walls and the floors. Much of the furniture was also made the same way. (There is a tradition of an old Hand-made Organ made in this early shop,where these carpenters learned their trade from James Gray.This organ stood in the barn of the late Caspar Fehl for many years, the frames may still be there.)
 The Brandon buildings seemed a long time in building, the family were very impatient to settle in them. but Thomas Shorts took his time,everything had to be just right.(This was about 1853.)

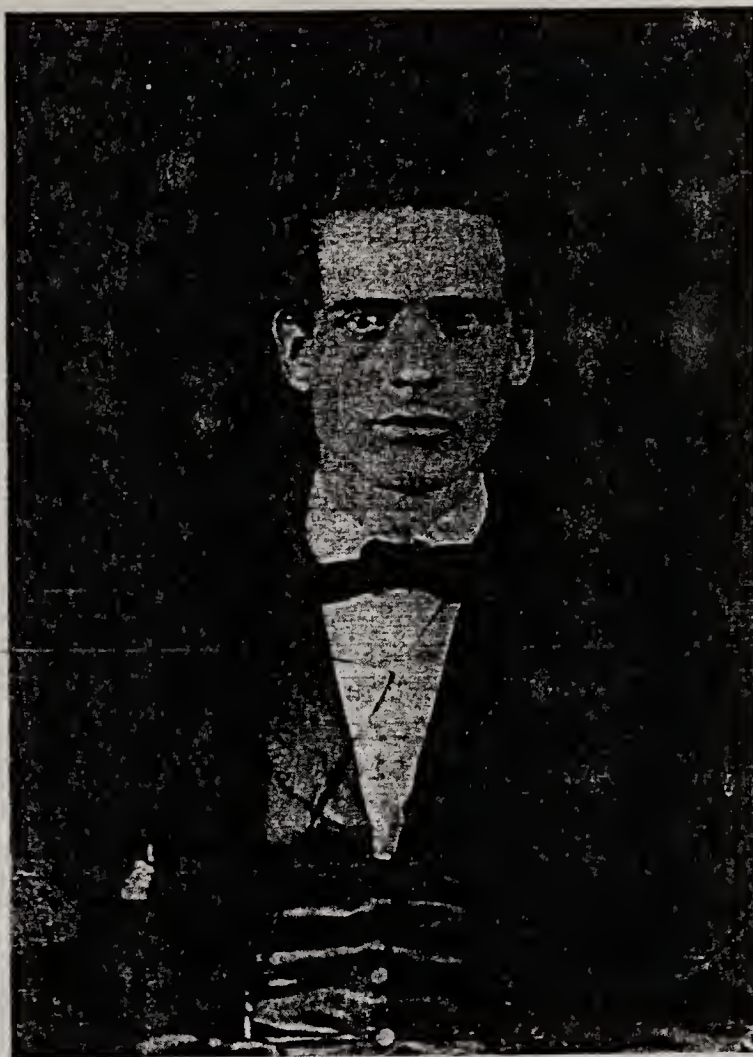

Many elusive traditions hover over this man.He figures in Court Records,in land deals, etc., his first wife,known*now- only as 'Aunt Betsy' lost her life in a fire that destroyed their home. which stood by a road that parallels the Meridian -Renfrew road. some 1/4th mile or less from the old Shorts homestead,to the SW. A baby was also burned with the wife, so bad that it also died.

He spent some time at Harmarville,Pa. in the Allegheny River Valley where some of his relatives had settled.

One Court note says that 'Elizabeth Casey Gray wife of T.Shorts was named EXTR for David Renfrew,a prominent citizen of the Renfrew Dist.who lived to a great age. This was in 1866,whether this was the first wife 'Aunt Betsy' or the second one 'Elizabeth Casey Gray Shorts' is still unknown (1951) these incidents are included to help future Genealogists locate positively, this man.

In another place we record the facts of the death of one Jeremiah Gray#, (son of James Gray,)who was married to Jeremiah Gray-Elizabeth Casey,he choked to death with dust from an old fashioned 'dust-piler' threshing machine. His widow, later married Thomas Shorts, then a widower, whom we now describe. Her four children were reared by this Thomas Shorts.

Peter McKinney sold land to Thomas Shorts in July 1836-Bounded by; Harris, Lemmon, Wm. Shorts, (this would be the Sr. Wm. Shorts,) Thos. Shorts then sold it to Wash Shorts. 23 Sept. 1839. Wash Shorts (then living on the place, sold to Thomas Gray 6 May 1853.
 One Deed recorded in 1839 names him as single.

Chapter 10

Thomas Gray Jr. 'Uncle Tommy' was born Dec. 24 1799 at the first Cabin home, in what afterward became Conoquenessing Twp. Butler Co., Pa.

Almost a quarter mile East of the Route 68, (which runs due North and South) there, the Gray home lies to the right of the Renfrew Road that branches direct East from 68. The old-home-site is the first farm site to the right of the Renfrew Road.

Hunting trips and 'Forest Ranger' duties discovered some beautiful land about 60 Miles to the East, a trifle farther North, in the undulating hilly country bordering the Allegheny River, crossing this at the very convenient Ferry near the huge curve in the River that later became Brady's Bend, named for the famous Indian Scout Brady.

Here, Thomas Gray Jr. bought land from the Holland Land Co. and established a home.

Thomas brought his new wife, Elizabeth Craig here to share the crude but comfortable home, which soon became the center of all the necessary work-shops, stables, barns, fruit houses, forge-houses and arrangements to provide care for the families and the 'beasties' and wayfarers.

Elizabeth's 'Bed-of-Simples' was not overlooked either, her Sage, chives, hor-hound, Pennyroyal, peppermint, catnip, comfrey, yarrow, tansy, hyssop, rosemary and rue. Many others of which we never even heard. This was to be their permanent home and they had great need of these primitive helps. In time, they became the neighborhood center, where ailing folks did receive comfort, aid and means of healing.

Leaving the Allegheny River at Rimers, Pa. 3-4 Miles out on the Trail to the Trading Post at Kellersburg, the Grays established their home, n-e of the road forks where the old old Village of Shouptown, and Trading Post, (this now called Tidal, Pa.) was soon established. A Covenant Church on the Northern edge of the Village, nestled in the hill which rose sharply and was crowned by the Cemetery which Uncle Tommy set aside when his two little girls died of the dread Diptheretic Croup, for their burial.

The Gray home is to the West of the Cemetery on lower lying ground. Red Bank Creek-River, outlines these tracts to the North and empties into the Allegheny River at Red Bank, seat of the old Stewartson Furnace for iron, of anti-steel days.

At last reports, this land was still in the Gray name. Many Grays sleep in the Burial ground. Thomas Grays Deed called for 133 Acres in what afterward became Madison Twp. Armstrong Co., Pa.

THOMAS HENRY GRAY. Revered ancestor of the preceding pages listing. As well as those following. Born at the old home at Shouptown, (now Tidal,) Heard the call of his Country and enlisted and served during the Civil War.

He gave his life for his country. Was taken prisoner and died at the tragic Andersonville Prison Farm, in Georgia. His grave unknown. His three children were reared and educated at the Soldier's Memorial Home, at Dayton, Pa. Going out into the world as exceptionally fine Christian Citizens.

The youngest daughter, in a letter to your Historiam, expressed Regret that these children should have been sent to the School to be cared for, when there were so many relatives, that might have made homes for them.

At this date, any explanation would be inadequate. Referring to the tabulated lists, we find that his fathers family was very much broken up, his aged mother a semi-invalid. The whole country was in a state of unrest and confusion after the Civil War, covering a period of time.

Communication was very slow and unsatisfactory.

Letters in my possession, reveal this fact, some written and folded and sealed with a sort of wax, instead of the envelopes so common now. Carriers often used, instead of the United States Postal system, to which we now enjoy.

Suitable Markers have been placed as Memorials, in the Tidal, Pa Cemetery. where so many of the families rest in the hallowed ground donated by the planning and generosity of Thomas Gray Jr.. Even though the Soldiers fell in line of duty, graves unknown. The grave of the old Pioneer, Thomas Gray Sr. is also here, not far from the towering Monument erected there by his son Thomas Gray Jr.

Mary Gray. Tradition, Data and fact name her as the last child, and youngest of the family of Thomas and Mary James Gray Sr, born in the first Cabin home that was built in the Wilderness. Family Records state that she married a man by name of Boyd, usually referred to as Wm.S.Boyd.

This family were credited with being the owners and operators of the early Corral, (or Cattle-Rest,) known as 'Boyd's Field', where cattle were kept for longer or shorter periods of time. Some of the Drovers coming from great distances and resting their cattle there, often holding Auctions there, selling them to other Drovers who would take them on the Kuskuscius Trail, to Pittsburg Markets. Family spirit prevailing, we have several others, mostly Nephews, who were linked with this cattle-droving business.

The old Boyd's Field was located on the South Side of Butler, Pa. the Spring still known as Boyd's Spring, is located on the South Side of Center Avenue, the major part of the field lay to the East of this, The Standard Plate Glass Works are on some of the Boyd land.

Butler County History states that 'W.S.Boyd (Merchant) Founder of Springdale-SS. Butler- bought from Sheriff McBride, a farm, 150A in 1834, he rather came in 1834 and plotted the town of Springdale 1872. This he had bought in 1839.' He died in 1884. Sept 8.

Various Deeds Recorded name as his sons; Harvey H. Thomas A. in Patent Book No 7-197. also Albert G. and wife Elizabeth F named in 1888. In march 1890 is named Mrs. Mary Boyd. Mrs. Mary Boyd is named with Harvey H. as the widow of W.S. Boyd.

Authentic sources supply the few threads we do have to support our family records, but we do not offer any certified information.

We do know that the Boyds who are of the Gray lineage buried their dead in the farthest Southern part of the old South Cemetery

We record, just what we do know to be facts here, and hope that some future Historian may be able to uncover the threads that bring this family into its proper place with the rest of the Gray families.

One Elizabeth Boyd b 1735 near Chestnut Level, Lancaster Co., Pa. in 1757 married Robert Steen, came to Butler Co to live. We do not know that she was of this same family.

Strenuous and wide spread search has been made for the descendents of this couple. Not yet completed, in 1951.

Thomas and Mary James Gray's first child born in the Wilderness home. Bringing her 'wee bairns' to the number of five.

Court Records, Histories, Old Monuments in Cemeteries, data in old Family Bibles, and data and traditions of older residents, make up the only web which we feel is authentic enough to publish with our family History.

We offer the following findings;

2215 109 Arthur Boyd Marshall 4 gen ... born Conoquenensing, Pa. and knew the families well, (he and his people moved to Brandons Ferry, on the Allegheny River near to Franklin, Pa. and later to Franklin, about the Civil War period. Was much interested in the Clan movement-a Director until his death, in 1940-sent us a letter stating that "There can be no doubt, in any way, that the families which are recorded here, are of the Gray descendents."

However, these only cover the one branch of her family.

1155 75 Benjamin Franklin Gray... 4 gen 1860 1944
Another loyal Gray rooter, and Director, son of Absalom Gray gr-son of Wm. and gr-gr son of the Pioneer Thomas. Born at Whitestown, Pa. Very well informed, expresses strong claim to the same effect. These. Are only two of the many who have the same statements. Some of the Gillespies yet remember of their father calling him "Uncle Ens."

The concensus of opinion being that this land where Enos Graham and Nancy Gray made their home, lay parallel-and to the West- of the present Rt. 68. The very first settlement home being near what is now known as Shannon's Bridge. Lying to the West of the old Thomas Gray land and to the North-West.

Court Redords show Enos-sometimes spelled Aeneas-Graham in father and son, as well as the name of Mordecai Graham. These names being quite prevalent in the earlier Court Records, make it very difficult to decide which ones belong to the same family. The fact that they had so many enterprizes in common, building Bridges, houses, Carpenter work, laying foundations for Churches, laying foundations for Spiritual developement, in the new Community, Plans for educational developement, and the great underlying wish, that they sleep in near-by graves, in the old-old Cemetery, at White Oaks Springs.

Butler County Histories furnish the following:

Malcolm Graham came to the 'New Westmoreland' so on after the year 1800, had a large family, built a Bark covered Cottage on land that is now the edge of Forward and Conoquenensing Twp.

(This land lies South of the present road that runs west from 68, leading directly North and South, in the Village of Conoquenensing, veering slightly to the SW before it reaches Evans City, Pa. and to the N.W., again to reach Harmony. It is in this triangle that so many of our old Settlers were interested. The old Murderingtown, where it makes the sharp turn crossing Conoquenensing Creek, at the Creek, the old farms of this Graham homestead afterward bought by James Gray.)

The Graham Acreage beginning in the edge of Forward Twp., extended several Miles to the North. Malcolm had brought with him a large connection of Grahams. Some of his sons were; Enos Graham Sr., Mordecai, Alex., remembered as 'Chuffy' they were sometimes called 'the Brisk' - the old Scottish home was 'Brisk-Hill in Scotland' so many men of similar names had to have some method of individual recognition.

There are at least five old home-sites of Grahams at intervals of a mile between each, and several farther North. Land jobbers caused very real troubles to anxious would-be-settlers. I must accept the word of these who 'knew kin' until-and unless, some future kin comes forth with the full answer. Dozens are buried in the old White Oak Cemetery, scores fought in all the Wars of our Nation. One lies in the center of the Cemetery, inseparable 'buddy' of the John McLeod who carried 'Mad-Anthony-Wayne' wounded, from the Battle Field. The McLeod and Graham lads buried close by, as they lived in boyhood.

Mordecai Graham lived near the Cooper School, this again brings memories of others who were married into the same Graham-Gray-Marshall groups.

CHAPTER 15

SECOND SECTION

NORMAN PLINY BISH
(An Appreciation.)

Norman Pliny Bish.-No.221 Page 35. Born 1873. Died 1945.

It has been suggested, in a way that is practically a command, that we include a short Biography of the life of Norman P. Bish.

Memories crowd and press, from earliest childhood, of our very close association. I shall try to bring to life some of these golden days, well knowing that this is only the picture of many, many of our other Gray families, since we have been privileged to meet and enjoy the close friendship of distant cousins. We can easily see that the oft repeated words of the truly Noble old man, Thomas Gray and his equally noble wife 'Bonnie Mary' have been the 'guiding star' of so many of our Race.

It is very difficult to comply with this request, because it is so personal, as to be applicable to others than brother Norman.

In our young formative years, our parents were careful to well-enforce the words of the 'Old Thomas'---'I tell 'e' to 'Keep 'e's feet out 'o' the diert,' '(And he did not always mean mud.)

Norman was born at the home of his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Sarah White Calvin Gray, (Peterson Gray having passed away before the daughter MaryAnn Gray was married to Chester P. Bish.) at the commodious farm homestead on the outskirts of the Village of Duncanville, Armstrong Co., Pa. (now called Widnoon.) on April 23, 1873, his mother having been called there for a very unusual task.

The widowed Sarah Gray decided to have all of her farm buildings painted, including also the house. The best firm of Painters available were colored men.

The inborn scruples of Sarah, against the negro race, was so strong that she would pay her well, if she would come and cook and care for their room while they were there, she would give her her a cow, a web of good home-made rag carpet, some 30 yards, a butchered hog and and a half beef. Sarah always declared that 'Colored people had no souls' to her last day; the slave man and woman that her father gave her with her 'dowry' were promptly set free, by the newly married couple.

Chester P. Bish was spending his spare time, using his two strong teams of horses and his two teams of oxen, in the urgent transporting of lumber, from the 'Upper Lumber Country' to the section about the Great Western, where building was in progress and the timber also used for charcoal, in the infant steel industry, which originated in that section of the country, and was one of the major fields of labor, in the period after the Civil War.

The trees of the dense forest were cut down, hauled and rolled to the Rivers and water-ways for transportation.

All of the men, some, pretty rough and uncouth, loved the little flaxen haired lad. Big Tim, the colored painter was there. He never tired of sticking the queer little tags, that came on Tobacco Plugs in early days, on the door frame and telling 'Little Massa' that the money came out of the wood, when he was a good little boy.

One day, the great mass of logs came sliding down the steep 'chute' on the hill by the Mahoning River Bank. Rolling striking tumbling about in a very frenzy of motion, they settled on the breast of the swollen River. The men ordered to keep vigilant watch, even through the night, listening to the rumbling and grumbling of the mass of logs. Waiting the time when the 'Jam' might safely be broken, the 'key-log' moved to send the lumber to its goal.

It was pretty bad that day, men watched fearfully, all through the huge Camp. Suddenly the cry arose! 'For God's sake men 'Little Masaa' is out on that log jam.'

The little active lad, then two years old, had eluded their notice, and was indeed out on the muttering mass of logs. And Every man feared his very life to try to rescue their idol.

The swollen waters made rescue work very hazardous.

Before the distracted father could reach the River-side, a man grabbed a peavy, and started to run and slide over the rumbling logs to the little child.

Strong men held their breath and frankly prayed. Poor MaryAnn almost distracted. A Miracle! He reached the child and started the dangerous journey back, and placed the lad in his mothers arms. And. Lo! the rescuer was 'big Tim' That scene was never forgotten by anyone there.

Came 1876, the lure of the new 'Oil Country' caught this family, Chester and MaryAnn, Norman and little brother Fielding Gray Bish left the beloved hills and Mountains of Armstrong Co. and came to Petrolia, Pa. locating in a Pioneer Log House with outside steps to the second story, until they should build a house.

Years passed rapidly. School Days, at the old 'Sheakley School No 6' helping father-tagging him, in his Carpenter Shop, at the oil-wells; driving home the cows at even, gathering nuts in the fall. Walnuts, Hazel-nuts, Hickory-nuts, Chestnuts, Butter-nuts, in rich stores. Making plays for the three younger children, carrying water from the old Dick Jennings well, a kind that mother liked. she was never very strong, practicing his Music Lessons on the Mason and Hamlin Organ, watching for the swarms of bees that would settle on the very tallest trees, helping put them in the 'skeps' (he soon called them hives,) harvesting rich stores of honey, carrying little sister over the deep mud-puddles, and out of the scratchy huckle-berry bushes, where she wandered.

All of the clean, fine hearty satisfactory doings of normal boys.

In 1886 the family left Petrolia and bought heavy interests at Saint Joe Station, some seven miles NE of Butler, Pa. The Schools of that period were exceptionally fine, with large attendance. Some of the students being as much as 25 years old. The studies included

French, Latin, German, Civil Government for some of the students, many of the Branches that soon were relegated to Academies, (as our High Schools, of that day were termed,) many of the older pupils taught the younger, attendance often reached as much as 65 and 70, in a one room School.

In 1888, before he was 16 years old, he had passed, with flying colors, the tests required for Teachers. (Was granted no School, because of being under age.) However, a teacher died and he was called to fill the vacancy, having many pupils under him that were much older than he. This School was a section of Donegal Twp., Butler Co. near Buffalo Run. He taught another full year there.

About this time he was converted, at the Methodist Chapel, at St. Joe - on the hill - in the Erie Conference, Rev. Branfield was the Pastor and one of the Cartrights the Evangelist.

He taught Sunday School there, the attendance was around 200. He then became convinced that he was to enter the Ministry, was granted a Local Preachers License. Went about filling engagements in many Churches, he had a rather dramatic delivery and a real earnest sincere message and did much good work.

(In passing, he came to the point of Ordination, and then decided that his strongest influence lay in the building and formation of Christian principles in the field of Education, he was very successful with youth, in his approximately 53 years of teaching, he had the warm appreciation of some ten thousand young men and women.)

From this home, he came to Renfrew, Pa. to attend the Academy, making the long trip, on two trains, to get there, each day. Soon College claimed his attention, he graduated with honors from Grove City College. As a Teacher and student, he ranked high and was a thorough master of any thing he ventured.

Those who value home training will appreciate this memory of the family. When our work necessitated living in a section, isolated or lacking cultural advantages, the family had a habit of surrounding the large dining table on Sabbath Afternoons, the big Bible with many pictures in it, open.

Those of the seven of us, old enough to enjoy pictures would take turns in choosing the one we liked, that day, the older folks would take turns in reading and explaining these, answering many questions I can see those pictures yet. To this and the careful training of the parents, one can attribute much of the strong moral fiber of all the family.

Norman invariably, in all his appointments, organized a Choir, (if there was that lack,) and a Band, and nearly always, a "Men's Chorus" enlisting and training men to very creditable performances, many men who did not even know they had a voice.

His Teaching years covered, a Normal School in the vicinity of Chicago, some years at Chagrin Falls, O., Sandy Lake, Pa., Tidoute, Prospect, Clintonville, Pa. Sharpsburg, in the Pittsburgh Dist. then at the George Westinghouse High School, in East End Pittsburgh. Here, he taught some 26 years, retiring in 1941 at the age of 68.

His last years, in this work, perhaps a decade and a half, he devoted to teaching and training students in the art of teaching, history. Not from any given Text Book, but from life. For instance, Transportation. From the earliest mode of carrying burdens and travelling, to the present day speed and high pressure, speed and more speed. What brought it on and why the world did it. The same with Political Economy and all the major problems of today. He taught, by request, longer than the ordinary retiring age, because of the conviction, of his superiors, that this was vitally necessary, and he was a master in his teaching methods. He loved to travel. Especially in the fall of the year, when vale and Mountain were flaunting all the colors of the Rainbow, and Nature seemed composing herself for her annual rest.

December 28, 1933 at 4 A.M. He and his wife, Eleanor and son Glenn and daughter Janet left his home in the North Side of Pittsburgh Pa. to visit some elderly, ill relatives of Mrs. Bish. Some 19 mi. from home on Route 19, on the Bear Creek Hill the Auto struck ice, became unmanageable, summersaulted twice, and rolled over, instantly killing Mrs. Bish, seriously injuring Norman. He was Hospitalized many weeks, before he learned of her death. He wore a heavy cast for weeks, after he was able to return to teaching.

The four were all good singers, well trained, had been going along singing a favorite hymn. The awful suddenness of the accident made everything confused, but they thought it was 'It is well with my soul a Hymn that they all loved and sang often. Their practical faith and Religion has been a strong comfort.

His spare time now began to be enlisted in my task. Passed on by our Mother, who had, some years before this impressed us with the sacred duty. My sister Dale and myself had treasured every scrap, written and spoken, (filed by us,) that our Mother and other older relatives, had proffered us, wondering just how we might 'start the ball rolling' after we had started and he found we really meant business, his trained business-like mind was of inestimable benefit.

We are proud of his part in the great search that he given us a record of several thousand certified names of the descendents of our old Patriarch.

We hear good reports of the far reaching effects of his Gray Clam Bulletins, upon which he spent many hours of painstaking labor, and considerable financial outlay. His name SHOULD stand high in the annals of the Gray Clan.

Sometimes, as I sit at my typewriter, vainly searching for the correct idea to convey the striking characteristics of some of our 'kin' I can almost hear him and imagine him at my shoulder, or across the table, (as we so often sat, counselling, in his Rodenbaugh Avenue Home,) saying 'Now, Sallie, - his name for me - 'be a bit careful how you say that.' Words fail to express the sense of loss in his passing, on that cold stormy below Zero day in Jan. 1945, when he slipped away so quickly, to meet all the loved ones gone before, and the Master, whom he had long loved and served.

One of his former students wrote me. 'He will be missed by those who remain: Yes. But his spirit will still remain to encourage and inspire us to nobler living. 8-continuing-' My memory takes me back to early boyhood days, in old Prospect, when he spent some time teaching in the Academy. He inspired many of us who were his students to work and climb the ladder of learning and living, his leadership in Community life during the Spanish War Days made a lasting impression on me. I remember him much later, at the William Critchlow Memorial celebration, at Baldrige, (Oct 28, 1934,) taking part in the Program, when he lined out the old time Psalms that we sang, two lines at a time, in true frontier fashion.-----'

This tribute from Howard T. Critchlow (20-25) of Trenton, N.J. is only one of the many fine expressions made to us on his 'hame-gang' Jan. 13 1945.

We laid his mortal remains to rest in the White Oaks Springs Cemetery, whose bounds were laid in 1804, our family living in that immediate vicinity since 1894.

Another treasured tribute, we record here, the words of one Erma Beatty, a pupil of the yester-year, at the George Westinghouse High School, who she is or where she lives, we have no means of knowing.

He has not scaled great heights nor won a corner in the hall of fame;
Yet, battles won by Washington are not more sacred than his name.

For he has taught young lives to see
The fine and noble things of life.
His words have made them want to be Kind, Loyal soldiers in the strife

It's Mr. Bish whose deeds I praise;
It's he whose worth we cannot rate;
It's he whose name will shine and blaze and shine among the truly great.

We include the story of a 'thriller' which belongs strictly in the Oil Country experiences of brother Norman Bish .

The Oil Settlement known as ''The Sheakley Hollow Oil Field'' was on the border of Fairview and Perry Twp's. Butler Co., Pa. At one time a thriving Hamlet.

Our nearest outlet to the world was to cross the Allegheny River at Monterey. The Pennsylvania RR. had built a road through there from Pittsburgh, Pa. to points North and East.

Norman accompanied his mother on berry picking expeditions, Raspberries, and Blackberries being plentiful. This day they noticed strange markings on the heavy grass, and through the underbrush, as though some large log had been dragged through , but in very odd crooked paths. They were both unafraid, but felt a very peculiar uneasy, uncanny sensation, that there were snakes near them.

This feeling was so strong that they soon abandoned their task and went home.

Next day, as father made a trip to the Neighborhood 'Ice-House' where the men had cut, hauled and stored huge quantities of ice, for the use of the whole neighborhood, he learned that a huge snake had escaped, some way from the train of a Circus, which had stopped at Monterey, perhaps for water, and made its way through the wild River underbrush before its loss was discovered.

Some folks, who were not used to seeing things double, had seen it lying under the Bridge which covered the Creek, and declared that its head was at the one end and the tail protruding at the other end of the Bridge.

These busy years covered many thrills. Oil Wells 'coming in' showering golden fluid 40 feet in the air, even over the tops of the Oli-Derrick's, sometimes, everyone scrambling for a safe place, as it often caught fire from the large Steam Boiler, which was usually fed by large sections of logs, and making an intense heat. (Sometimes men did not reach safety, as one of father's very close friends, Mr. Gilbert Bartley, who was burned to death, some 200 feet from our home.)

We experienced, during that period, a Small-pox scare, bringing Dr. Foster from Petrolia, in a hurry, to vaccinate the whole family, (I was three then, but still remember his making the small incision for the virus, still bear the scar, still remember his making believe he was vaccinating my pet kitten.) ----- A Flood on Bear Creek, carrying all kinds of logs, boards, chairs, light furniture and small buildings, as well as chickens and puppy-dogs on its crest. --- Going to 'Fairin-town' to the Annual District Fair and horse races, over near Fairview, in the roomy 'Family carry-all' with two horses drawing the same-all day of hot sticky fun, a grand picnic dinner, the wonders of the strange animals, -- Merby-go-round, the Balloon man, the unspeakable nerve of Nellie Ely, the venturesome lass that dressed in red tights and rode her strange, very high wheeled steed, called a Bicycle, with a small trailing wheel, all go around the Race track, - the shame-faced comments of all the women who were resting near our Carriage.

The Organ-Grinder and the small dancing Monkey, dressed in red, who held his cap for pennies.

Needless to say that the small active boy was learning much from all these experiences. ----- He was learning stoicism or heroism when he assumed Leadership in the family upon the occasion of his father's losing his left thumb, cut off with one of his intricate saws in his Shop.

Two Doctors were operating on the maimed hand, the smaller children had to eat, (we had missed the noon meal,) mother said 'I just can't seem to make myself eat.' none of the children could overcome the horror of the strange proceedings, the strange odor of the anesthetic came through all the house.

Norman said 'I can't eat either, but we are just going to eat, whether we want to or not.' And We did eat.

In t he last two decades of Norman's life,he did much Speech planning 'Ghost Writing' for Law Makers,--- Senators and Representatives-- men of affairs who were staunch friends. This is no disrespect to any of these,but someway,they depended upon him.Many long hours were spent in this friendly task. The very first plans for making the 'Golden Triangle' in Pittsburgh's new Gateway,a beauty spot an d Memorial to a great City an d a greater Nation,were from his busy brain .(No doubt but his map of changes migh t still be among his effects,in the first stages,of the drafting of this map,which bears close resemblance to those which hav e been published in the Pittsburgh Papers. Unless his Administrator has not kept the ones witnessed by myself.)

Speaking of floods! We are concerned with the reports of wide-spread devastation coming from Kansas this year of 1951. We have over 100 of our Gray Clan living in this vicinity. The little Mountain St ate of West Virginia has had plenty. 35 feet in the West Union District,much loss of life and homes. A little less disasterous one in April 12 1948 brought us to 36 in. in our own home.

Roaring waters,floods,lowering skies,
Puny man with streaming eyes,
Watch the ruins where they lie.
No sign of the blessed sun .

Time. The great healer of every wound
Nature.And Nature's God
Submissive,waiting,enduring,expecting,
God.Nature. Time. Soon every hill
Will smile again and peffume float around.

Grace Sarah (Bish) Graham.

Chapter 16

TO ARMS

A ROSTER OF ALL THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN KNOWN TO WEAR THE UNIFORM OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

FROM THE RANKS OF THE GRAY CLAN

In the course of human events, it becomes necessary to use force to defend our beloved land.
Our Race have given their full share of bone, sinew and sacrifice.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.

THE LORD IS MY SHEPHERD -----HE LEADETH ME
BESIDE THE STILL WATERS.

HE RESTORETH MY SOUL -----

THY ROD AND THY STAFF, THEY COMFORT ME.....BIBLE.

From infancy we are indebted to those who help form our path of life.
How much greater is the debt we owe to those who have willingly given up everything life can bring to us, when trouble comes.
Whatever the cause for National strife, the Patriotism and Christian determination that our Nation shall stand, brings ready response.

TO ALL THESE

Who through the years have offered manhood----- and womanhood on the National Altar----- We wish to do honor.

SOME----- We know not

RANK or BRANCH ----- or STANDING

THEY KNOW AND GOD KNOWS

TO ALL THOSE WHOSE PASSING BROUGHT THE CITATION OF HONOR
WE PAY TRIBUTE

We inscribe here for all to know these Presents

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

TO ALL WHO SHALL SEE THESE PRESENTS

GREETINGS:

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
PURSUANT TO THE AUTHORITY VESTED IN HIM BY CONGRESS HAS AWARDED THIS PURPLE HEART
ESTABLISHED BY GENERAL GEORGE WASHINGTON
AT NEWBURGH, NEW YORK, AUGUST 7, 1782
FOR MILITARY VALOR, MERIT, AND FOR WOUNDS RECEIVED IN ACTION.

RESULTING IN HIS DEATH -----Name and Date.

THIS ----- DAY -----, MONTH -----, and YEAR -----.
Given under my hand in the City of Washington.

Henry L. Stimson
(Sec'ty of War.)

J.A. Ulia
Maj. Gen.

the Adjutant General.

IN GRATEFUL MEMORY OF PRIVATE-----CORPORAL-----CAPTAIN -----LIEUTENANT -----GENERAL -----MAJOR.
(Whatever Rank.)

WHO DIED IN THE SERVICE OF HIS COUNTRY
IN THE ----- AREA

HE STANDS IN THE UNBROKEN LINE OF PATRIOTS WHO HAVE DARED TO DIE THAT FREEDOM MIGHT LIVE AND GROW AND INCREASE ITS BLESSINGS

FREEDOM LIVES AND THROUGH IT HE LIVES

IN A WAY THAT HUMBLER THE UNDERSTANDING OF MOST MEN

Signed: FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT.
PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

CITATION OF HONOR

UNITED STATES ARMY AIR FORCE

----- RANK and STANDING
 HE LIVED TO BEAR HIS COUNTRY'S ARMS. HE DIED TO SAVE HER HONOR.

HE WAS A SOLDIER
 And he knew a Soldier's duty... His sacrifice will help to keep aglow the FLAMING TORCH that LIGHTS our lives.

THAT MILLIONS YET UNBORN MAY KNOW THE PRICELESS JOY OF LIBERTY AND WE WHO PAY HIM HOMAGE, AND REVERE HIS MEMORY, in SOLEMN PRIDE REDEDICATE OURSELVES

TO A COMPLETE FULFILLMENT OF THE TASK FOR WHICH HE DIED
 SO GALLANTLY HAS PLACED HIS LIFE UPON THE ALTAR OF MAN'S FREEDOM.

Signed:

We insert the names of three brothers, whom we are led to believe, served in the Civil War. The story told by two authentic sources, we quote from a latter from Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Brown Wright. (5 gen.-556, 50.)---'expressed sorrow in that the two daughters of James Gray-31-((131 and 134)-Margaret and Elizabeth Gray were so alike in sorrows. Margaret, widowed with eight children at 35, (rather ten children) four soldiers 'gone to War' and Elizabeth widowed young with eight children, one born after his fathers tragic death by drowning. Of these four sons and one daughter served in the Civil War. One son was actually in the act of writing to his mother, when he was killed. (What she did not know was that another daughter of James, (139-31) also lost her husband tragically, when she was very young, a son also died tragically, when very young, these nearly all, while James and Margaret still lived.) 371-42, G.D. McCormick has found no records, as yet, of these Uncles C.W. Services. But two others, neither of these having met in life, claim they were-

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

1417-85-29 George Brunermer's CW.Record is; Co.D.11th Reg.2-8-1868.
Trans.190th.PV.6-1-1864. bur White Oaks Springs Cem.

The foregoing Tabulation is Correct. To the extent of our data furnished by interested relatives.

5-74-90. William Gray.2 gen. AM.REV. Served with Capt Thompson's Militia,also with Capt James Murrin's Co. 26th Penna. Militia which was recruited at Whitestown,Pa.(1812-1814.).....1799-1847 1146-75-121.Mary McDonald Gray (his widow) Pension Granted her: In 1847, By Special act of the Legislature. as ''A Westmoreland Widow-Citizen'' By the Pamphlet Law of Pennsylvania.) Both of these are buried in the old White Oaks Springs Cemetery. William was wounded,lost an ear in combat.

Any History of the 'Scotch Bottom' section of the 'New Westmoreland' would be incomplete,without some reference to the Military services of the old Pioneers,who were somewhat related and who helped to make the Country safe.

Carhart Walling.A relative in the William Gray Branch.A very distinguished AM.REV.Soldier,married Catherine Graham,(from the family known as (The big Graham's)ancestor to Mrs. Lillian Flick Gillespie. Catherine is buried a few feet North of the William Gray grave. An outstanding Memorial erected to Carhart,in the Kittanning, Pa.Cemetery.

Peter Peterson. Named on pages 21& 200 .

Received a Land Grant from the Proprietary Government in what became Butler Co., Pa. This Deed is dated March 5 1787,(111 Ser.Vol 26.p 29.) --- (This may have been in the consumation of the promises made the Soldiers who fought in the Revolutionary War.)

Family Traditions,certified by incidents recorded in Histories and Court Records tell the story. He was one of the five or six or eight survivors of an entire Company of 80 men,who bore the brunt of Gen. Edward Braddock's defeat,and his personal displeasure.

This Tract of land lies South of Butler,Pa. in Butler Twp. and is minutely described in the Deed.

Peter Peterson deserves notice,because he is very obviously one of the very first Settlers. Land had to be proven, a process of law,which seemed to include some occupancy and crude improvements, a bit of ground seeded or prepared for seed. Peter Peterson's ancestors came to the new Continent as early as 1700,landing at-or near- Cape Henlopen, settling in the Swedish Colonies on the Eastern Sea Coast, they branched out into New Jersey and Virginia,and later, to the North,among the earliest Indian Scouts,Hunters and Forest Rangers.Peterson blood flows in hundreds of the members of our Gray Clan.

We feel that these facts should establish his precedence over claimants to 'first settlers'. Knowing that Deeds were not granted until certain formalities were consumated We are sure that he was a Forest Ranger,on the frontier. In Military records he is designated as 'from Westmoreland

County' (and this section was divided from the original Westmoreland when the present Westmoreland Co.-with slight changes-was set up by the Assembly of the Province of Pennsylvania, by an act of Feb. 26, 1773.)

Watermans and Watkins History of Western Penna., published 1862, records: 'Peter Peterson came before 1800, probably as early as John Morrow, (which is recorded as 1789, in the SW. part of the Township, from Somerset Co., Pa.) On page 180 it records; Peter Peterson had been an AM.REV. soldier, and at Braddock's Defeat, was one of a Co. of 80 men, who were in the hottest part of the fight, and were noted for distinguished service.'

Peter Sr. and Peter Jr. owned land in the County and a cousin Peter Peterson owned considerable land in the new City of Butler, Pa. Among other skills this last was a Blacksmith.

William J. Gillespie. (-J.W.) (1249-79-127 on p 198. deserves an honorable mention. Born 1847, dec. 1902.

Co.B. 6th Pa. Reg. Art. Served as County Commissioner Butler Co. Pa. is buried at Prospect, Pa.

Alexander Gillespie.-1250-79-130. 78th Reg. Co.E. (2-27-1863 to 6-10-1865.) b 1849 dec. 1916. bur LaCrosse, Wis.

Hiram Gillespie/1248-79-126. was a CW. Prisoner at Andersonville, Ga Prison Camp. Died there.

Of Pioneer fame, we boast celebrated forebears. Men and women. Browns, Grahams, Casey's, MacDonalds, Shorts, Allison's, Whites and Calvins. Pearces (The Pioneer Pearce came from New Jersey and was the very first Justice of the Peace, in the New Westmoreland.)

The Shorts from the Cumberland Valley, (and one Sarah Shorts, a Military minded little lady, was charged and sentenced for contempt of Court, away back in 1811. She would be an Aunt to the William Shorts who married our Margaret Gray, and Mary, who married Peter McKinney.) Her brother Richard served in the AM.REV.-1812-1814. in listing; 2nd Reg. Inf. His birth year seems to be 1784. and brother James Shorts 1752. His marriage to Mary Grimes b 1754 is dated 1779. in Prince George Co., Md.

The Scotch Settlement of Western Penna has been all too remiss in the proper posting of the deeds and doings of these Pioneers. First Churches, First Schools, First Homes, First Powder Mill west of the Mountains, (this was strictly a Gray and McKinney and Purviance affair, rebuilt from the ruins of the old Campbell Chop Mill,) the ruins are still traceable. First Agricultural Fair. First center of the old Scotch custom of. 'Hating the offender out,' 'who dared to transgress public opinion.

THE PURPLE HEART

an explanation. Answering one questioner, and should others wonder. We cite the following. We feel, strongly, that the very greatest honor is due our brave men, that a grateful race of people may bestow.

"TO ARMS

"At Exeter, New Hampshire, there is a Museum of the Society of Cincinnati. In a glass case hangs a faded blue tunic. A Memorial to the UNKNOWN SOLDIER of the War of the Revolution.

His Name. His Race. His Battlefield, or place of burial, is unknown. BUT. We do know that he served his Country beyond the call of duty, for on the left breast of the faded coat, is pinned a heart of purple sprigged silk, bound with braid and edged with narrow lace.

This is one of the first emblems of the Order of Military Merit, created by Gen. Washington, at a time when he was prevented by Congress, in conferring Rank or Office, as a reward of Merit for unusual duty.

This, is the oldest such decoration in this Country.

We are told, that it is the second oldest in the World. The only other such decoration being the Cross of St. George of Russia, which ranks older.

It is a matter, now, of History, that John G. Fitzpatrick, searching Records preparatory to publishing writings of Gen. George Washington, on the celebration of the hundredth anniversary of his birth, discovered the story, made diligent search, and developing it, from existing Records, he gave it renewed life, sometime after the WW#1.

THE PURPLE HEART. The first Military decoration for bravery, given to soldiers without respect to rank, in the U.S. Army, has changed since the days of Washington, who originated it.

DURING THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR, it was indicated by "A figure of a heart in purple cloth" edged by embroidery, wore on the left breast of a soldier.

Unnoted for many years, it came into existence again in 1932, as a result of an order by Pres. Hoover: "By Order of the President of the U.S.A., the Purple Heart established by Gen. Washington at Newburgh New York--- Aug. 7, 1782--- is hereby revived out of respect to his memory and Military achievements."

Then, it became a medal bearing the likeness of Washington and on the reverse side the legend "For Military Merit"---

It is now considered the award for soldiers and civilians working with the Army who have been wounded as a result of enemy action and require Medical attention."

We have requested permission, of the Publishers of the Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine, to reprint a small section of an article written by Marjorie R. Manlove, in the Dec. 1950 Issue. A Symbol Speaks. Page 928. "One day I heard the General and his lady discussing a Connecticut soldier-Sgt.- whom he wished to recognize for meritorious service. He suggested a Badge of somekind and Legend has it that the first PURPLE HEART was made from a piece of satin ballgown, cut in shape of a heart, edged about with lace from a woman's petticoat. Thus. On Aug. 7, 1782, the Order of the Purple Heart was established."

As we read our Roll of Honor, we will note a large number who are eligible for the PURPLE HEART .

CITY OF THE DEAD
CHAPTER 17

Making plans for the Gray History, the late N.P. Bish expressed the wish that "Our History would be different, and to honor the Pioneers gone before, it should include a brief description of the earlier burial places."

We wish to do this, using much of the material which he had prepared, in as far as accurate knowledge may be ascertained.

Many of our friends who received the Gray Clan Bulletins, (now suspended with the death of Mr. Bish.) Live within a radius of 100 Miles of White Oaks Springs Cemetery, the old original burial place of the founders of our Clan. Many who come from a distance, wish to tarry a bit, and pay respects to these old Pioneer Memories.

Mount Nebo Cemetery, SE of Whitestown, Pa. is the oldest Cemetery, in the section early called 'New Westmoreland' a little later 'Scotch Bottom' Abdiel McClure gave land for that purpose in 1800. This was the first Public Burial ground. The first interment was tiny Barbara White, daughter of Matthew and Frances Spear White, (distantly related to your Historian,) on Feb. 12 1801. A very hard long winter, the snow was 30 in. deep on the level, much labor was necessary to make a path for the sad train of mourners.

Some of our families lie here. Shorts', Welsh's and perhaps others about whom we know nothing. A larger number of Gillespies, Thompsons & Critchlows sleep at Prospect.

William Critchlow, the old father, the 'Hero of Saratoga' whose grave we claimed and decorated Oct. 28 1933, is buried on a hillside near the buildings of his old home. Pictured on page 24.

Some are buried in the old neglected Cemetery a short distance SW of the old Murderingtown-Amberson Bridge location. (The McDonalds and Coopers and Allison's. Some, at the old (almost forgotten) burial place, East of Rt. 68, when one is at the steep bend above the historic old Buhl home, near Buhl's Bridge.

The second Public Burial Ground was the White Oaks Springs Cemetery, on Route 68 7 mi SW of Butler, Pa.

Dunning McNair, the 'Land Jobber' speculating in Real Estate. In the vast Acreage of the 'New Westmoreland' whose reaches he never even realized, some believed it belonged to Virginia, some thought otherwise, however the land Titles recorded in the Butler County Court House, for the period before 1800, were given by the Proprietary Government at Phila. as recorded elsewhere in this work.

DUNNING MCNAIR gave 10 Acres for Burial and Church purposes, at the place then, (and still,) known as White Oaks Springs. In 1804. This was even then known as the Scotch-Covenanter Church and Cemetery.

Wm. McLeod was the first interment, he died in 1804. There are many of the McLeod's and McNairs buried in the White Oaks Cemetery.

The fact that crossing the turbulent Conaqua Creek, (River,) as it was sometimes termed. No Bridges, and roads mere Bridle paths, it was almost a matter of impossibility to reach the slightly older Cemetery at Mount Nebo.

(This Creek was named by the Indians. meaning 'A long way straight')

City of the dead

Col. Purviances 12 Companies of Soldiers constituting the 2nd.Reg.Pa. Vol.made rendevou at Whitestown, these with Capt.Morgan's Sharp Shooters and Capt. Robert Martin's recruiting his Company of 100 men, for Black Rock in 1813, drained the whole Valley of the Conoquenessing of its man power, we cite this,because so many of these sleep in these forgotten graves,in both of these Burial Places.

John McLeod, a d c to Gen.~~Anthony~~ Wayne, was one of these who sleep at White Oaks Springs,his 'David-and-Jonothan' friend,Daniel Graham, near-by.

Traveling from Butler,Pa. on Route 68, West ward an d South. 7 Miles, we come to the old White oaks Springs Cemetery. The Church being on the North (right) side of the Road. The old Springs on the South, bordered by the newer cut off of 68,which creates a triangle, very similar to the old,old original trail. A gap in the fence admits you to the Cemetery. Pause and notice a small old, slow growing evergreen tree. The grave of our old first mother Mary James Gray,lies with her feet to this tree. The oft repeated story of the old lonely homesick man, Thomas Gray,has served to identify this grave. The old Grays,true Scots, tho both were of Noble Lineage,in the old home land, feeling the weight of the responsibilities they had cast aside,when they came to the 'New Westmoreland' and feeling the even greater weight or the need to exert every energy in the building a firm foundation for those who should follow, a deep dependence on the God of thier fathers,the 'Gude-Mon' whose name they hardly dared utter. And the Sabbath,His Day, never to be used for light unnecessary deeds, they chose to be buried near the steps of the old Brick Church,with a row of creek-stones around the graves of this old mother and her beloved grandson,William Gray,who was born 1813 and died 1830 was buried the same year as Mary Gray,his grandmother. A stone from the old home on the Renfrew Road,where she died,was placed at the head of her grave in 1948,by the Gray Clan, with suitable markings. (Mary Gray James, wife of Thomas Gray,b Skibo,Scotland, settled in the 'New Westmoreland' in 1792,mother of eight children.) Her grave is some 19 ft. from a Monument marked Snodgrass. Mary James Gray's dates are 1761-1830. William Gray by her side, 1813-1830.

A large number of the Grays lie through the center of the Cemetery. William Gray.No 5.- The Teacher and 1812 Weteran,his grave well marked Born 1789 dec. 1847.(3rd child of the Pioneers,aged 4 when they came there.) Next North of his grave,(in the North central part,) lies Mary MacDonald,his wife,-1146-75-121.- born 1777 dec. 1860,blind for years. Then Nancy Gray Brunermer-1151-75.b 1820 dec.1860,who died im giving birth to their only child Nancy Brunermer, who died at the Soldiers Memorial Home,at Brookville,Pa. May 1949. bur there. We h ave evidence that the entire two rows,North and South in the center of the Cemetery,almost to the Southern end are Grays.

TIDAL PA

The final Pilgrimage to our Silent Cities, May start at Butler, Pa. Leaving on Rt. 68. to the North, pause a moment at the very old historic 'half-way' house, at Woodbine, prepare for a very delightful drive, full of historic interest.

As you near the Allegheny River, you will be passing through many places that once were busy, hustling bustling Iron Furnace Towns, before the day of Andrew Carnegie, the Iron Master, who closed these small furnaces, in order to centralize and expand the growing industry.

Pause. Lunch and relax at the place where the very fine view of the great bend of the River shows eight Miles of surpassing beauty, at the Narrows. Keep on 68 until you turn sharply to the right, in Rimersburg, Pa. where a good Road will lead into Widnoon, Pa.

This is also sacred ground for our race, as it was here that the old Patriarch wended his way-weary and travel-worn, from Butler County, to his son's home for the last 23 years of his life.

In the Western section of Widnoon, (in early days called Duncanville,) turn sharply to the right, this road leads to Tidal, Pa.

The old home where Thomas the Pioneer died, still standing in 1945,) was to the West of the Cemetery, in the Valley, just before you take the second right turn to the Cemetery. The land was largely a gift from the land of Thomas Gray Jr. (Additions from the Craigs.)

To your right, (which will be East,) not far from the lower part of the Cemetery, the Gray's all sleep. A very tall Monument is noticed with many Gray names inscribed thereon.

Our main point here is to locate the grave of Thomas Gray Sr. 'the Pioneer.' We do not have the exact location of all of the others But if you will stand on the South, (lower,) side of the Monument, with your back to it, his grave lies just ahead of you at your feet, unmarked, excepting that there is a date on the tall stone.

This is misleading, as they probably did not know the exact date. The inscription says he was 70 years old, whereas he actually was nearing or past 90. From all Legal Records. He was very well preserved and looked younger, from Traditional stories.

Still standing there, you will have graves of Grays all about you, Craigs, also, as they were closely intermarried with Grays. Most of the graves are well marked.

Back of you, for sixteen graves, or more, lie the families of Thomas Gray Jr., who was born in Butler Co., Pa. and settled in Tidal in 1833. To the right, many of the children and grand children of Peterson Gray and his wife, Sarah Calvin Gray lie in the same row.

Peterson's son Calvin Gray. (142-32-117.155 Penna. Vol. 'Zouaves' sleeps in the National Cemetery, at Gettysburg.

Thomas Gray Jr.'s son, Thomas Henry Gray. (3297-157-106.-POW-1832-1864), died in Andersonville, Ga. Prison-o-War Camp. Grave unknown.

(His rating was Sgt. Thos. H. Gray. Co. D. 103 Penna. Vol.)

Another son James G. Gray. Co. E. 147 Pa. Vol. died on the 'Sherman's March to the Sea. (Atlanta to Savannah.)

A third son Wm. O. Gray. Co. H. 155 Pa. Vol. died at Washington D.C. (Three of these graves are sacred Memorials, only. But. Never-the-less kept green when the family lived there.

Just back of the right arm, (were it extended to full length,) lies the graves of two uncertified Grays.

These we believe to be the brother, James and his wife, who came to the 'New Westmoreland' with Thomas Sr. They owned land in Butler Co., East of the 419 Ax. bought by our Patriot on April 3 1792., and on a part of his land the Grays of the second generation builded the first Powder Mill, on Powder Mill Run.

Some 100 feet or more, farther East, a little to the North, lies the grave of two sons of John Gray (6-88-) 1421-88 and 1422-88.) named on page 108.

William Gray (1421-108, b 1817- married Sarah Bell. and settled on the Road to Tidal, from Rimers. not far from the River. There was a family, known by my own mother. But we have been unable to locate them. Samuel. (1422-88 and 108. b 1819-1889.) was married to Mary Graham, who died with their infant. Buried at White Oaks Springs.

Samuel remarried Martha J. Watterson of Watterson's Ferry. They were known to have a daughter Nancy and two sons. (reported in the John Recorded) Nancy, had the 'Gray voice' and was a very beautiful girl, she was reputed to have married a McClatchey- and some connection with people by name of Phillips. (These four elder Grays, signed the Deed Transferring the Gray Farm in 1867.

All of these graves were certified by a large group of Clan Members, with your Historian.

A Check-up in 1946 revealed that the graves of the two, Samuel and Martha had been removed to some other unknown place. And No other trace of them in 1951.

''Beneath those rugged elms, that yew-tree's shade,
Where heaves the turf in many a mouldering heap,
Each in his narrow cell forever laid,
The rude forefathers of the hamlet sleep.

---For them no more the blazing hearth shall burn,
Or busy housewife ply her evening care;
No children run to lisp their sire's return,
Or climb his knees the envied kiss to share. ---Thomas Gray. Post.

We wish to state that our claim for the Thomas Gray's residency and ownership of the Lands, and ancient Holdings of Skibo, Scotland, rest upon the talk, memories and data, that are our heritage of the old Pioneer, Thomas Gray.

Some doubt. Some say 'it makes a good story' but the fact remains that these stories were a part of the continuous talk of the old Patriarch, whose pictured face, (with his Mary, and his four sons, we have in our possession.

It has been my experience to have many of these stories repeated to me, coming from entire strangers. People who, I am very sure, never even heard of our old Thomas.

Some of our members. Miss. Maude Porterfield, (now deceased,) Mr. Elmer Gray of Washington D.C., Rev. Jos. C. Brown (who has served the Clan as President, for many years, among these, have made search and found threads, but as yet, nothing tangible, to strengthen the web of the story. There is a certain lapse of time that seems very difficult to bridge.

It is our earnest hope that, in the future, some interested person may discover the whole story of their occupancy during the Centuries. From the days when those hardy Norsemen invaded and held, the section North of the Firth-o-Forth.

AMERICAN OCCUPANCY

The story of our American occupancy---- We are as sure of our statements, herein inscribed, as Data, History, old Bibles, Court Records and the testimony of many many old-timers, can furnish basis for the same. We are glad to submit this Scroll to the Clan. There is so much. Our greatest task has been to use brevity.

In our halting, inexperienced way, we wish to bring before future readers, a picture of the old 'Trail-Blazers'. To inscribe small cross currents, intertwined with known facts, that appeal the more to us, because they are 'Our own Race'. They left a world that had its degree of comforts, with ordered lives and companionships, and came to make a home in the new untried wilderness.

Four small children. Sophia, aged 9. James 7, William four and 'wee Joh nnie cumin twa.'

Some one. Whom, we will never know, had been the fore-runner, and had sent word back that 't he hill and Valley Country, in the 'New West-moreland' 'was a good place for them to locate' it was 'summat' like the the old Scotland' and they came.

THE TRAIL: MUSKUS KIUS, VENANGO TRAIL, FRANKLIN ROAD.

Whatever it might be called at th at time. Deeply rutted by the mocassins of the Aborigines of Western New York and Pennsylvania. Through dense forests, they came. Indian Scouts banded together, formed a sort of Frontier Police Force. Jeffers, Col. Sam'l Brady, (the man known for his Big Leap, to escape the Indians,) many others. These all, welcome visitors to the humble cabin homes.

It is very difficult, at this late date, to determine just WHO, was the very first settler.

Many claims have been advanced. However Court Records which duly substantiate individual Records and traditions of families, must carry weight.

Communities change rapidly, so much so that when my own family came to Conocoquenessing in 1894, we found very few living there, then, who knew certainly about our old Relatives, who had made such a heavy contribution to the early life and development. Those who knew had scattered 'far and wide' and our first dependence on authenticity of our own Records, had to come from Court Records and, Church Files. As well as Monuments and grave stones. And some old Bibles.

This accounts for much of the confusion of different reports of the names and status of 'First Settlers' we shall record, here, only those which are capable of being proven, by these sources.

Some of these are of interest to us:

Pioneer Robert Brown and Joseph Brown of Penn Twp. Robert, 'The founder of Methodism in this section.--- Also John Wharg who reached the age of 102.---Waterman and Watkins give grudging credit to our Peter Peterson. Saying 'He came as early as John Morrow' who was credited as of 1789.-- Our Tradition and the Court Deed places him in 1787.(p 21-200-202.)---There are a number of others whom we might record, but we do not have their Court Records of Deeds to establish proof.

It is sufficiently interesting and important to repeat our findings on the initial settlements in what afterward became Conocoquenessing Twp.South-.

The Butler Daily Eagle. A Daily News-Print (Founded 1869,) Issued a 'Sesqui-Centennial Edition of their Daily, on July 1, 1950. Giving a very comprehensive view point of the beginnings and development of Butler County, Pa., in the 136 Pages of its 6 large Sections. On Page 2 of the 5th Section, they have honored us by giving in a complete story, the offering made by Your Historian. We wish to have it included here, we should say that this has been requested.

Any record of one hundred and fifty years of strenuous living, of any given community, or state or county, would be incomplete without due notice given to its most humble beginnings.

It is the accurate knowledge of some of these beginnings which prompts us to submit a few items which may be used in their proper places, if so desired.

It is well-known that the first road or path, that furnished entrance to the section that afterward became Butler County, Penna., was the old Mus kus kius Indian Path or Trail, wending North in a straight line, from the confluence of the Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers, to Franklin, Pa.

It is not so well known that the section now known as Conocoquenessing township was the scene of the first settlers. (in that part of the County,) this was also the location of many of the very 'Firsts' of the new industries, necessary to the growth and support of the actual settlement.

Settlers gathered at Mills Creek, in the Cumberland district, waiting the time when enough hardy settlers were ready to make the long hazardous journey into the wilds of the country described to them as the 'New Westmoreland' and we have authentic record of one such - the first of these, consisting of five families.

LITTLE SCOTLAND

All Scotch families, they soon founded what was known as 'Little Scotland' Peter McKinney and his young wife Margaret Shorts McKinney have, for years enjoyed the distinction of being the first settler family. As a matter of fact, proven by Court Records, and Census figures, there were the following families.

Peter McKinney and wife, their first child born March 10, 1792.

James Gray, wife and four sons under 26 years of age.

His brother Thomas Gray, wife Mary James Gray, three sons and one daughter.

The other families are not completely certified, but are believed, from existing data, to be named Purviance, McDonald and Graham. These came with Gist, camping at 'Murderingtown' now known as Anderson Bridge on the Conocoquenessing creek, an age old Indian Camp ground, they came up over the ridge some two miles, to the North East, (almost on a line from Evans City, to the present City of Butler.) The McKinney Camp was at a Spring in the Eastern part of the present Village. The Gray's a half-mile farther straight North. Just half way to the present location of White Oaks Springs.

In Deed Book G.p 464, Butler County Records, we find 'General Assembly grants sales, April 3, 1792. Commonwealth to Thomas Gray Sr. 439 A., 119 p. bounded by; Daniel Graham, Colin MacDonald, William Purviance and James Gray. Peter McKinney on the South.

The Census for 1800 calls it Cunningham Dist., or township. The first Powder Mill in the new section was built on a Spring Run, which ran between the two Gray brothers farms, located definitely a short distance east of the Rock Point School House. This was built and established by the Gray, McKinney, Purviance men and operated many years. (Has a history of explosions, rebuilding and also used at one time as a Chopping Mill.)

Standing on the tiny bridge over Powder Mill Run, facing East, the Mill was first located some 100 feet to the right of the road.

FIRST TRADING POST.

The first Trading Post was also near this Mill, started by Thomas Critchlow, was removed to the settlement of Peters Town, (later called Conocoquenessing,) in 1852. The first Post Office was located in this store. Open two days a week, operated by the Critchlows. Nebo was the first church built with its Cemetery, White Oaks Springs was the second Church. Wm. McLeod buried in the nearby cemetery in 1808.

The first five families had held religious services in the homes and established a group known as the 'Covenanters' this was the beginning of the present White Oaks Springs Church.

The earliest records secured of this church, are given as of 1804. Mention of the Scotch settlement, even then spoken of as White Oaks Springs, are found in the records of the Monongahela Presbytery, with Rev. Joseph Kerr directed to visit the field.

However there was the earlier group of the Covenanter families, which held meetings. It is known that one Francis Poythress, an itinerant preacher, a Virginian, who was originally of the Church of England, Episcopal, later converted to the Methodist doctrine, travelled far and wide, all through this district. Mungo Dick and James McConnell were among the earlier ministers, who followed Poythress.

FIRST AGRICULTURAL FAIR.

The level field directly west of the White Oaks Church property, is the site of the very first Agricultural Fair, in the 'Scotch Bottom' section of the 'New Westmoreland' soon to be known as Conocoquenessing Township. Competitive racing of the fine horses, raised in the community, the usual showing of the finest products of the arts of housewifery, and inventions to lighten the drudgery of the taming of the new land, the wholesome intermingling, socially, helped much to make this the really BIG event of the year. Animals, fowls, stock of all description, lent color and excitement to this historic ensemble.

There are some, yet alive, who remember the later years, of this Fair.

ESTABLISHED SHOPS

James Gray, son of Thomas Gray, born in Scotland in 1786 and brought to this section in 1792, with his father's family, established a cabinet and Carpenter Shop, along the banks of the Conocoquenessing Creek, a few hundred feet East of the old Murthertown settlement. This was the first carpenter and journeymans shop, training many men in the arts of fine workmanship, who excelled in erecting strong buildings, laying lasting masonry and producing a fine grade of household furniture. Homes still in good use prove the skillful work taught here.

Another first settler, also interested in this Shop, was Peter Peterson, (father to the wife of James Gray,) who received honorable mention in the Battle, at the time of Braddock's Defeat. Peter Peterson received a Land Grant from the Provincial Government dated March 3, 1787, located in what is Butler and Penn Twp. south of the present city of Butler, Pa.

This Deed is recorded in the Penna. Archives, Deed Book 3rd. Ser. Vol. 23, page 272. Described as being a part of the 'Haley Tract' many historians erroneously describe this as a (part of the Haley farm.) he was described as being a 'forest Ranger and veteran of the American Revolution.'

KUS KUS KIUS TRAIL.

FRANKLIN ROAD.

The foot-sore Settlers, tramping wearily, wagons, and hosts of marching men used this old Trail. Which was made by the foot travel of the early Indian Traibes. Early History proves this, the final Nations to be represented here, were the Shawnee and the Delaware. They came from the Forks of the Great Rivers, at DuQuesne-then Pitt, as the tide of Occupancy turned, (this road was also known as the "Venango Trail" the most prominent Camp being the Murderingtown spot on the Conoquenessing.)

On this, travelling to the Battle Fields of the North, Anthony Wayne, "Mad Anthony" stopped over night at Whitestown, Joseph Bonaparte, brother to Napoleon, came with his train of followers and defenders, his Camp was reported to be in the flats, East of the Trail, between Whitestown and Murderingtown. Waynes intervention eventually made life easier for the settlers, who were worried with depredations, and feared for safety.

The Road, then named 'The Franklin Road' was started and built with infinite labor, by the intrepid settlers, in the early 1800 decade. One authority names the Bonaparte Camp as 'one night and a part of a day, the traditional Camp for refreshment of man and beast was at a point near the old Trail. (Kuskuscies,) directly West of Conoquenessing, bearing a trifle to the North. Here they found good grazing meadows, watered by the Semi-Conon, and in shelter of a near-by wood land. This would seem to be within two miles of the Murderingtown Camp site, on the Whitestown side.

Captain Robert Martin's 138th Penna. Militia which made rendezvous at Whitestown, Pa. passed through here, enroute to Erie.

The following Poem was sent to us with the request that it should be included in our Gray History. Recalling very early days of the "Little Scotland" Nixon Station, Callery, Evans City, (then called Break Neck,) Peters burg, (Conoquenessing, Pa.) Mrs. Mary Graham, a former Post Master at Callery, Pa., (now residing at Connelville, Pa.) found it among her fathers effects, sent it to Mrs. P.R. Warnick of Nixon Station. She, in turn sent it to the Butler Eagle. It will bear reading. We made contact with Mrs. Graham who consented to its use and said she would be interested in examining our History. Not being signed, the Author is unknown.

LITTLE SCOTLAND

. As I lift this violin and draw on it this bow Backward goes fond memory, full forty years ago.
When all along old Breakneck's stream, and Glade Run's rocky heights
I played this self same violin for their revelry at night.

The Douthetts and the Dodds, the Critchlows and the Hights
The McCandlesses, the Wallaces, the Browns, the Gray's, the Whites
Through the mazes of the dance tripped their fantastic toe,
As I with youthful vigor, jerked the fiddle bow.

There Evansburg, so famous for its towering hills and bogs.
Its' pretty girls, its' whiskey slings, its' tadpoles and its' frogs,
The Evanses, the Ashes, the Boggs, the McElwains,
And hosts o f German citizens with queer and crooked names.

The Likens'es, the Coverts, the Wilsons, and the Barrs,
The Waterses, the Hamiltons, the Blakeleys and Dunbars,
Would crowd the heated ballroom, with cheek and eye aglow.
And heel and toe it lively, as I swept this fiddle bow.

The Millers and the Martins, the Slaters and the Snows
The Coxes and the Conbys, the Spences and the Crows
The Johnsons and the Irvines, the Purvises, the Kidds.
I played for them 'fandangoes, 'the hornpipes, reels and jigs.

They would all flock together and you bet they had their fun.
For there was no pride among them, in the days when I was young
They would throw out stove and table, with their 'broges' they'd weld the floor,
As I played for them that good old tune called 'Nellie on the Shore'

Dave Spence and Mollie Moore, George Wolfe and Jennie Fry,
When they balanced on the corners, you would see the splinters fly.
Joe Brown and Martha Davidson, how they'd cut the pigeon wing,
As I played old Highland Schottische, some called it 'Highland Fling.'

Mag Adams, she's a bouncing, she's stepping rather high,
So I'll change it to another Schottische called 'Comin thro the Rye'
And when by luck or accident, I chanced to break a string.
The dance went on the same, for big Jim Mahood would sing.

But Jolly Jim, he whistles now; he cannot sing a note,
They shot him. Down in Dixie Land - Shot him through the throat.
That brings to my memory a sad and dismal sight,
I'll lay aside my violin and take my pen and write.

From Seven Pines to White Oaks Swamp, on down to Gaines's Mill,
I see a trail of blood and death, clear back to Malvern Hill.
I see my young companions, as they lie in bloody gore,
Wounded. Bleeding.. Dying. On Dixie's sandy shore.

Here lies Bob McPherson, there poor Walter Scott,
Alas! - How quick these brave true men, in death are all forgot.
Dave Stewart, Sil Amberson, Zeph Wilson and a Barr
And close beside them, pale in death, my schoolmate, John Dunbar.

There's Captain William Stewart, his Company loved him well,
A brave and gallant soldier, at Fredericksburg, he fell.
And my cousin Captain Simeon Brown, they shot him through the brain,
As he led the 'Roundheads' to the charge on Bull Run's bloody plain.

GEORGE WOLFE and William Johnson, John Duncan and John Young,
Fred Wolfe and brave Polk Sample, with my comrade, James McCrum.
Milt Garvin, Hen Shannon, James Bartmus, John Dalzell,
And hosts of other Comrades, their names I now can't tell.

I hear a wail of sorrow in many a stricken home,
Weeping. For their fallen ones, that sleep in graves unknown.
I hear the slave on bended knee, bless Abe Lincoln's name
As the strokes of the Union Army break the chattels chain.

Four Years. Of Tears---and Bloodshed---, till Grant surrounded Lee.
As Sherman swept through Georgia, From Atlanta to the Sea,
And.--- The starving ones in prison pens---ALL gave a mighty shout
When the Union men released them--or the Johnnies let them out.

I'll lift again my Violin, Bid my LIVING DEAD adieu,
As they sleep in graves that's now unknown---In fading shrouds of blue
I'll play a dirge--- a Funeral March--- as my tears of sorrow flow,
For their Country-- They have fallen, with their FACES to the Foe.

BUILDING HOMES

History records that "In 1792, There were many difficulties and privations to endure--food was not only scarce, but the means to produce it was lacking. And. Topping this, the first settlers were confused by the conflicting claims made on this section. Not being certain just from whom they were to receive their titles." History says that at the conclusion of Peace in 1783, there may have been twenty five thousand Anglo-Americans in Western Pennsylvania, Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, but still no real security for the settlers.

The provisions of the land Act of 1792 gave rise to so much misunderstanding, many gave up their holdings rather than to endure any litigation. Those who remained, made some arrangement with the reputed owners, and stayed.

We do not know positively, just how long our Gray family camped on the claim, but we are very certain of the date of the Recorded Deed. We are just as certain that they stayed. Whatever the difficulties. If it was the State of Virginia, that automatically required, by municipal regulation of May 3rd. 1779, the recognition of an actual settler, as one 'who had made a crop of corn, or resided on lands for one year-making certain improvements.'

As late as 1771-1772 the section was all Wilderness.

SAFETY DESIRED FOR HOMES

Savages exercised cruelties during the Revolutionary War.--- All of Westmoreland and Allegheny Counties were laid waste, and people fled to the Forts for safety. The terrible case of Massa Harbison, occurred not far North of this same section. This is so generally known, and so much a matter of History, that we will not recall more of it. Hannastown, the seat of Justice had been completely destroyed by the Indians, the remnant of the settlers, fleeing for safety.

Gov. John Penn had a petition sent him from Fort Shippen, dated 1774, One of the signers was Andrew Allison, some others---David Critchlow (direct ancestor of our Critchlow's,) James Critchlow (spelled Crutchlow) Sam'l Criag, Alex Craig, John Craig, Matthew Miller, Jas. Watterson. All men whose names have figured in our Clan.

From 1732 to 1758 the only trails were those of the Indians. And, the ones made by Surveying, French and Indian Campaigns ect. Two definite trails show from the Coast. One from the New York Harbor to Phila., Baltimore and thence to Fredericksburg on the Rappahannock. That seems to be a center for several points. Some distance farther South, on the Rappahannock, on the Eastern Bank, there is a very early settlement called Westmoreland, (History says, probably from the old Country Cities,) The old Trail there leads North to Fredericksburg, East to Phila., and westerly-to northward to Yorktown, through the Mountains at Fort Cocke, then to Cresaphs, or Oldtown, thence to Fort Cumberland, where the Trail branches, one way N.E. to Raystown, (Bedford,) the other to Little Meadows and Great Crossing. Great Meadows, where the Dunbars Camp was located, thence to Giest's or Mount Braddock, where so many of our earlier folks camped and waited until sufficient numbers of settlers would assemble, and safe Guides freed, to venture into the trackless Wilderness.

A Dream! --- Beloved old Skibo, with her gently rolling hills-her ageless History--Joys--Sorrows. But Home. Gone forever. The long Ocean Voyage---Another Night Mare.---Fort Cumberland! Endless waiting on Supplies and Companions in misery--- and safe Guides.

But in the distance--The shining hope of blessed freedom and peace. Even though it must be reached through strange terrifying lands and trails and shuddering glimpses of muscular half dressed copper hued men, fierce and forbidding looking.

Braddock's Trail---Forbes Trail---Hannasburg, rather Hannastown, where Gen. Forbes made way for his Army, going to Fort Pitt.--- The breath taking and heart stopping tales of the horrors of the burning of Hanna's town, not yet ten years old, but never to be forgotten. The cruel atrocities of the savages---the pain and loss and suspense of the hours while the Indians camped at the Crabtree bottoms and planned what to do next.

One -at this late date- may smile at the strategy of the less than 60 men, with their 45 rifles-and the precious human life, in the Fort, who routed the blood-maddened Indians.

Actually impressed the Indians, that reinforcements were arriving, when they used the two old drums and a stray fife-- the men at intervals, marching and countermarching over the old plank bridge -in full trot-into and out of the Fort.

The Military music from the Fort- the tramping horses--the exultant shouts of the men--all this carried terror to the hearts of the cowardly Indians. 300 of them-- fled, leaving heartbreak and terror in their wake.

This section still called "'Old Westmoreland'" to 1782 (it had been instituted as a Seat of Justice, by the provincial Legislature, Feb. 26th 1773,) men gathered from the Redstone, the Georges creek, the Youghiogheny, the Monongahela and the Catfish settlements for the periodical return of Court.

Some of our men who fought in the American Revolution, have their credentials, as from Braddock's Field.-- Fearful hearted women, stoical men, watchful guides, Rattlesnakes, and more rattlesnakes, wild beasts stalking their passage. One can not even realize one half point of their state of mind.

Fraziers, at Turtle Creek.---Fort Duquesne, later Fort Pitt. Then the Venango Trail (the Kus kus kius Indian Path) connection the forks of the great Rivers, in an almost straight line, with the old Settlement at Venango (Franklin)-Fort Le Bouf-& Erie (Ft. Presque Isle.)

All of these were of supreme importance to our Five or Six families, with whose comings and goings we are intensely concerned.

No Roads-almost no paths-by slow painful stages our 'Scotch Bottom' Settlers would be compelled to follow the 'Trail' to the Camping place called Murderingtown (now Amberson's Bridge) where many many Indians had Camped in the past and held their fearsome "'War-Dance'" and orgies, planning extermination of the hated whites, who had invaded their hunting grounds. --- Gist must have had a lively remembrance of one trip there, when with George Washington, whom the Indian tried to kill, but was spared by a Higher Power.

The Scouts allowed the Trail-weary families to rest here, (a most beautiful spot, which even now will richly repay the investigating Tourist, with its deep waters-at that time called Con qua nasong River shimmering overhanging tree branches--high hills,almost mountains uprising--its old Cemetery-so neglected,nearby-holding the remains of many of our fore-bears,notably MacDonalds.

Its modern array of comfortable Cabins---not 1/3rd mile from the spot where our old James Gray,son of the Patriarch,built the first Carpenter-Journeymans Shop to train many men in the finer ways of wood work. An old wooden organ,built there, existed as late as 1940 some 130 years later.

Following our family Scouts. They keep close to the Creek,(of River proportions,) a short distance farther East,then a road-rather a Trail,branched out from the Creek to the higher table-land,to the North of that. All of this section later known as 'New Westmoreland' still later as Forward Twp.,Butler Co., Pa.

All of this section being pretty well watered,would make it good looking to them and easier of access. (Renfrew,Reibold and some of Baldrige being part of this,Baldrige centers on Butler, Forward and Conoquenessing Townships.

Peter McKinney chose one spot,near an everlasting spring,that still flows,and in good use-some 157 years later-1950- built his shelter of bark,camped the families for a time--in time laid the foundation of the old Village of Peters town-Petersville,Later Uncle Sam demanded a new name and it was called Conoquenessing-(the Indians 'A long way straight'-- a most beautiful location,richly endowed with fertile fields-the settlers sterling qualities,descending from these old stern Scotch ancestors.

Our Thomas Gray went on some 1/2 mile farther North,for his section of 419 A.110 perches of land.

GRAY CAMP

On this section,Thomas Gray made Camp. in that long ago winter of 1792. Built a rude shelter of bark and tree branches and clay.beside another Spring that now (1951) is enclosed with a cement house,the spring water passes through in a stone trough,provided to set in the crocks of good milk and butter and all the things that modern ice boxes have outlawed.

Several interested critics of this work,have made the comment that we have not localized the surroundings of the first old Thomas Gray Camp. Made in that cold dismal winter of 1792, with its barren and meager years following. The only plentiful things we might recall from old tales and traditions,were hunger,loneliness, Indians and wild animals.Deep snows and hazardous trails.

Standing with your back to the Butler Court House,(Butler City is in reality newer than our Scotch Bottom section,) your left hand points North,on Main Street.Two blocks and we turn left on Jefferson Street,nearing Conoquenessing Creek we make a turn to the right,thence on to this Street up the New Castle Hill-Street-also Rt.68- passing the State Police Barracks,The Fair Grounds and the large Deshon Hospital and Settlement. Deshon Manor.
Seven Miles out on 68 we reach the White Oaks Springs Country Church and Cemetery. These being on the right-North-Side.

LOOSE ENDS

Continuing on Route 68, via the new cut-off, which leaves the old historic Springs, which gave the Church its name, in the trip corner made by the new road. Very shortly after the new road joins the old 68, we make a left turn, - the first road-proceeding down this road several hundred feet, we notice the first farm-stead, to the right. This is the old Farm. The old (stone covered spring,) is seen first.

The house now standing, has had additions and improvements made in the years. Mr/A.D. Nicklas, whose father bought it from the Grays, added a wing, and removed the large deep fireplaces. However the main part of this was built by the Grays. The old first cabin-or Log home, was built a trifle North West of this house, perhaps 100 feet, and was directly west of the Spring.

THE GRAY HOME

The log home was built on a plan much used by Pioneers. Two. Longer than wide Cabins, joined by a wide porch extending all the distance between, the roof covering it all. Doors opening from this porch into the rooms, on each side. The simple bar which was their only lock, being operated by a deer skin thong, which protruded through an opening, when this was pulled inside, the door was most effectually locked.

The wide deep stairways, were later more modern luxuries, the first mode of reaching the upstairs-half stories, were a rude ladder, then sometimes a crude pair of steps, on the outside of the house. The busy housewife did all of her cooking at the deep fire place. Long legged iron pots and Dutch Ovens, griddles and tea kettles, were hers to use, a handy crane at one side to swing the larger pots in to the strong blaze. Fire-tongs, and shovels and wood boxes among the very necessary furniture for the fire place.

Mother Mary immediately began the task of making her part of the home, her few articles of cooking hang about the deep fire place, these added to as the travelling merchants-Peddlers- began to come to the isolated homes, from time to time. Her valued spinning wheel all her implements for flax scutching, spinning and weaving the necessary cloth for household uses, close at hand. The family stock of clothing hung on convenient pegs in the walls.

MOTHER MARY'S KITCHEN GARDEN

Her Kitchen Garden. And Bed of 'Simples' (Yarbs- or in the present day language) Leeks, Pennyroyal, Catnip, Sage, Bone-set, Peppermint, Caraway, Dill and many other herbs, that we of the present day have no knowledge. These were carefully tended, stored after the harvesting for winter use in the family as medicines, spicing and seasoning, some of them used in the preserving and pickling of the winter's store of meats. Pork, Deer, Beef Bear and wild turkey. The fine hams and sausages, dried beef and liver-wurst, head meat and scrapple filled the great meat house that stood some 100 feet from the house.

Her two old cherished sweet apple trees, not far from the house, with their yearly burden of delicious sweet apples, the fruit of a visit from the 'queer' old maker of good will, 'Johnny Apple-seed' John Chapman who made the planting of Apple trees his life business. These trees, in my personal knowledge, had reached the great height of some 75 feet, when viewed by the Historian as late as 1940.

A VISITOR

In 1894, when our family came back to make our home in this vicinity, one of our first callers was a grand daughter of Mother Mary. Mrs. James Gray Jr. (494-47.) She talked family, for hours, with my mother, came early in the morning and at her departure, just before dusk, she urged mother to "Please come to see me, (her home then near to Amberson Bridge-the old Murderingtown Dist.) She added as an inducement "I will cook you a good meal and give you sugar cured ham for dinner, made after Mother Mary's recipe."

MOTHER MARY MOVES TO HER LAST HOME

Returning to the Meridian Road, that we left to investigate the old Spring and Grounds. Travelling East, away from Route 68, we pass the old Moose Park and come to the first road to the right. This bears up on higher ground, and passing the John Smith farm home, (once the home of John W. Gray-1423-p88)-marked -4-on the Map.) We reach the cross road that starts at Conoquenessing, (leaving there at the very corner where our Thomas Critchlow had the first store and Post Office (13-25) This road runs directly East, into the Meridian Road, close by the Short's settlements and Baldrige, and on to Renfrew, Pa.

On the said hill top, a trifle SE and some 3/4ths or a mile distant from the first old home of Thomas and Mary, they moved, when it became evident that her strength would not meet her will to work and her daughters had all been married and left home.

A small plot, some 20 A, was bought on the top of the hill, a very good location, on clear days, one can see beautiful scenery, the eye carries for ten miles. The devoted sons and grandsons, spared no effort to build the home. Her last year in the old home was shared by the Nicklas family, father, mother and young son, Leonard.

We viewed this spot marked -3- on the Map, in 1949, acting as guide to Mr. and Mrs. Harlow W. Langholff and son David, who had come on from San Jose, Calif. (594-p 51.) for the Annual Gray Reunion, they stayed over to visit the old home sites of Our Ancestors (We had been at West View Park, near Pittsburgh, that year.)

Mother Mary's room, with its cheerful open fire place, where one could rest and dream, the sleepy hollow rockers on either side. Her trusty old Highboy near-by, where she could find whatever she wanted in the deep draws, bright colored rugs on the floor, carpeted for comfort for old tired feet.

An arm chair beside the solid Oak table, a weathered book case and beloved volumes, the old Leather bound Bible that they had bought in Edinburgh, Scotland and cherished through the years, on the table. The Clock, also brought from Scotland, still ticking bravely. The crisply curtained western windows held a lovely view, over the rolling green fields, dotted now, here and there, with homes where real people lived..

"Tammias, I maun be going hame. I cant abide not being able to do things. It says in the Book "Thy days of the years are three score and ten. and if by reason of strength, they be four score years, yet is their strenght labour and sorrow, for it is soon cut off and away." I canna even stand to make the 'parritch' Thomas was alarmed, nae, nae Mary, youre ower tired and donsie from the excitement, "but his keen eyes, versed in understanding his 'bonnie Mary' even before she spoke, knew it would not be long. Tender hands and soft spoken words, loving care for every slightest wish, the days passed, all too soon came the anxious night when sharp pain wracked her frail body, and in the misty dawn of a cool October morning, her gentle spirit slipped away, to meet the glorious company gone before.

The foundation of this old home -3- on the Map, is still intact, on my last visit there, in 1949, with the hand wrought hinges-iron- in the stone that supports the outside door of the cellar. (A stone from this foundation forms the base of the Marker at the head of Mother Mary's grave at white Oaks Springs Cemetery.

A MISTAKE

(A mistake must be registered here: One of those things, for which it is hard to account. On the Marker, placed at Mother Mary's grave, it says that Mary is the wife of James Gray.

Whereas: Mary James born in Scotland, was married to Thomas Gray, born, Skibo, Scotland.

Thomas is the husband.--- James, the son. Named for her own family name of James. Her maiden name. (James was her first son.)

We rejoice. That we, 160 years later, can register a strong testimony, that the home of Thomas Gray, with its foundation of good will, its center of Christianity, its promotion of all useful arts, is just ONE of very many that existed in the "Scotch Bottom" and farther out, and set roots that will extend to Eternity.

Thomas Gray. Lord Gray of Skibo, Scotland. Had a full life. He had his loyal wife. He had his wonderful family. Four born in Scotland, and four born in the land of his choice, America.

He had his Barns, his cattle, his sheep (a sale records that 100 A. of land was sold for a Merino Sheep,) He built wagon sheds, tool houses, Corn Cribbs, work shops, caves, all the necessary equipment for a large establishment and the comfort and convenience of his family. He was very active in building and maintaining a house for the 'Gude-Mon' his Heavenly Father.

A POWDER MILL

Roads through the Wilderness, Bridges to cross the turbulent streams, these followed the building of homes. Soon a new need arose.

Gun Powder. It was no small task to travel to the Trading Post at Fort Duquesne-also then called Fort Pitt. for salt and gun powder.

The youth of these families decided to "Do something about it" Even the women had to share in making these long trips by foot.

James, the second child-oldest son- became associated with the sons of the other families, Purviance, McKinney, -perhaps others- and they built a Powder Mill on land belonging to their Uncle James Gray.

His farm lay to the East of the 400 A. x. of Thomas Gray.

An investigation of the Map shows where we left the Meridian Road and from that point, proceeding a curved mile-perhaps less-farther East, we come to Rock Point School house, then the crossing of the Powder Mill Run, a Spring Run, still called Powder Mill Run.

Standing on the tiny bridged crossing of this run, we look to our right just less than 100 feet, to the right, was the foundation of the old Powder Mill. Referred to elsewhere. Plans were made by the Gray men, along with the Purviance's and McKinney's and Powder was made her for many years.

The remains of this old Mill, indentations of the foundations etc., (first of its kind, for a radius of many miles,) still remain, viewed 1940 by brother N.P. Bish and myself, earlier pointed out by Jacob Cleffer Brandon, who was a life long resident of that section, a Civil War Veteran. This Mill was fed by a small spring Run stream, of course had a Dam built for water reserve. An explosion and fire is credited to its History, it was a very useful and necessary convenience for the early Settlers, for a wide radius of miles.

It was also, at one time converted to a Chopping Mill, being rebuilt. This constitutes a fine point of pilgrimage.

THE FIRE FIGHTER

Maude G. Brown Crowe. (1450, p88) Relates the story of her Grandfather Thomas Gray. (1420-p88). His wife, Elizabeth Sarver, (1432-88), a lady of Pioneer German extraction. Her mother, or some one in her family possessed the 'gift' of being able to draw fire from a burnt surface. Grandfather Thomas scoffed at the very idea of anyone being able to do this. In fact had absolutely no faith in it at all, and was not slow to ridicule the whole procedure.

He was interested in the Powder Mill which we have been describing, and we know the Mill had several explosions to its History.

Many tests had to be made, in the process of manufacture.

He may have been the 'tester' of the firm. But this day was making a 'test' of a handfull of the powder.

The 'sample' blew up, it exploded in his hands. He was burned severely.

He needed attention, and quick. Came home, but nothing that he or Elizabeth could do gave any relief from the intense pain.

Finally he said to Grandmother Elizabeth 'I'm going to Sarvers.'

'What for,?' said Elizabeth, 'Wildly. 'What do you think I am going for. I'M going to get the fire taken out of this hand.' 'I cant stand it.' 'Said Elizabeth; 'Oh No! Tommy. You never had any faith in her taking out fire, it's no use for you to go.. It wont work.'

We'el. I'm GOING. And. If she can take out this fire, I'll never make fun of her again.'

He went, and was cured. Maude continues; 'Well, I guess it worked on the canny old Scotchman, but it surely humbled his pride, to have to give in and acknowledge the fact.' Needless to say his families chuckled over it many times.

JOHN GRAY (6-p 88, 1791-1853.)

Served in the War of 1812-1814. His grave in the old White Oaks Springs Cemetery bears the Am. Rev. Marker, as well as his family stone.

His War record filed in the Court House in Butler, Pa. His wife, Martha Critchlow, daughter to Wm. Critchlow & Mary Burnside, another hard working, strenuous, efficient Pioneer, both uncompromisingly against those who did not hold their high ideals. And, high ideals were common, those days.

John, the good builder, conscientious and skilled. Some buildings still in use, attest to his skill in masonry, formed with hand hewn stones, and hand hewn logs and boards. With good proportions.

He and Martha were divided in Religion. She could not approve of his stern Calvinistic policies.

Martha sleeps back of the Methodist Church, in Conoquenessing, Pa. a child by her side, her grave still unmarked.

These outstanding items were traditional with the families, and constituted strong proof, with data and Court Records, of the truth of the stories of the old homesick, twice exiled, Thomas Gray.

FIRST AGRICULTURAL FAIR

Almost without exception, the sons of the 2nd. and 3rd. gen Grays were proud owners of really good horses.

An agricultural Society, known also have been the first in Butler Co., (Perhaps a cruder effort at the later popular County Fair.) Had been organized.. It is noted in History. Almost all of the whole 'Scotch Bottom' men were interested, as the White Oaks adherents were called.. The Martins, Mahargs, MacDonalds, Grahams, McKinney's, Grays, Browns. One might just call the rollof the whole community, to cover these.

This Fair Grounds, first located on the level ground, just West and across the Road from the present White Oaks Church, extends to the N. & S. Road that runs beside the old Graham School. Bounded on the East and West by these roads and on the South by the old 68. The indentation of the old race track was visible as late as 1920.

This Fair held all the features dearly loved by homesteaders. Contests for the best Bread and Cake makers (among the women,) Jelly and Apple Butters, Meat products, Preserved fruits, Hominy, home-made soaps, home woven Carpets, Fancy work, quilts and rugs.

Fine seeds, (that really grew,) of all kinds. Machinery, Prized stock, contests of the fastest horses. In fact, they 'Had everything' One old friend recalled that even the women were 'hoop-skirted (and the smaller ones wore pantalettes.'

SHORTS

James Shorts married Mary Grines. Feb. 9 1779, as noted in Historical Files. (Whether the father came to the new Wilderness home, is unknown.) in Prince George County, Md. Came to the 'Scotch Bottom' Settlement established a home, known widely. Comfortable, convenient, cheerful and efficient.

Richard Shorts served in the Am. Rev. War. 2nd. Reg. Inf. (this seems to be 1812-1814.)

Sarah Shorts, noted in 1811, served and charged with a Court Warrant, as 'Contempt of Court' whatever her supposed injury of opinion, is not stated, but we can imagine the fiery determined little defender of of opinion, as she claims the rights of the Constitution of her Country.

Mary Shorts, married Peter McKinney at Braddock's Field. James Shorts married Josephine Gray, (dau to one Wm. & Martha Davison Gray.)

Wm. Shorts. born 1786 married our Margaret Gray.

Many Deeds are recorded in the Butler Co., Pa. Court House, concerning these families. One item we wish to record as a justice to those who were uninformed.

LOOSE ENDS

Thomas Gray makes deposition and swears:

To a signature of William Shorts. and Thomas Evans.

Stating: He believes the signature to be that of Wm. Shorts. later known as Wm. Gray Shorts. Because of his son William Shorts, the names being confusing.

Wm. Gray Shorts was baptized, Wm. G. Shorts. (Widow and children were named as indentures, conveying the land to the party of the second part. (name not clear.) --- Signed C. A. McKinney. J. P.

A study of the dates prove that this could only be William Shorts, the father, who married our Margaret Gray. - The Wm. G. Shorts b 1811 dec. 1882. (He married Mary Ann Dodds, of Pioneer family.)

This, recorded after the death of both Wm. Shorts and his son, Wm. G. shows the lack of recording Legal business, ages, marriages, death etc., of that time.

Margaret Gray 'Peggy' the family beauty and possessor of the poignantly sweet singing voice, a heritage from her Scottish Ancestors, married, at a very tender age, the young Wm. Shorts, of the family who came from Fort Cumberland and Braddock's Field, to make a home in the Wilderness. Both she and William lie in the old White Oaks Cemetery, whose adjoining Church held their life long allegiance.

 " HEAR THE PIBROCH WAIL " AFTER 150 Years.

Early in August 1931. We located Benjamin F. Gray, (155- p 75) - 1155- at New Galilee, Pa. (Through the advices of Frank E. Clark, a prominent Prothonotary of Butler Co., Pa.) He is the son of Dr. Clark a well known Pioneer Doctor serving the section known as Conoquenessing Twp. N. et. al. These men had been boyhood neighbors. We feel it will be interesting to record this find, because it was our first step in the locating of the Gray Clanners.

B. F. Gray, (1155-75) b Whitestown, Pa. May 1860, son of Absalom Gray (1147 p 75) 1808-1875. one of the very earliest Teachers of Western Pa. And still remembered by the older folks. His first State Certificate, is still in the possession of his descendents. - Absalom was the son of our William Gray (5-75) b 1789 in Skibo, Scotland, who came to the 'New Westmoreland' with his parents,

 Among the earliest memories of Benj. F. Gray were the stories that we have met in so many places - from many Gray's - who cannot even establish an authentic date to connect them with our Grays. The same that our old home sick Thomas carried to the home of his son Thomas Jr. in Armstrong Co., Pa. Riding his favorite horse - carrying his old Leather bound Bible and Brass Clock both bought in Scotland. These went with him to his 'last haven' after the death of Mary James Gray.

B. F. Gray was an interested Director, and attended every Reunion, until increasing frailties prevented. His friendship and advices, with his accurate knowledge of early events, has done much to make our heavy task a success. --- In a letter soon after the first Reunion, he wrote; --- I wrote my sisters, in the West, telling of our splendid day and the lovely people we met --- real blood relatives. We owe you a debt of gratitude for the opportunity of meeting our ain people.

William, scarcely three years old when the family settled in 'Scotch Bottom' was the studious member of the family, preferring and usually securing solitude. Much to the distress of his unsympathetic family, this being a departure from accepted customs in the old Scotland home.

William had been intrigued and inspired with the knowledge and easy fluency of the 'Saddle-Bag' Ministers, who were welcome visitors in the home, the Rev. Isaiah Niblock had come fresh from the University at Edinburgh, Scotland, visiting with the cousin, Dr. Gray at Baltimore, Md. before he came on to the 'Scotch Bottom' section. He served the new Congregation, at White Oaks Springs, also at Butler, Pa.

William, now about 14 was completely overcome by the desire to study, he was somewhat of a natural Poet also. We can vision the crude surroundings and limited environment, and feel very sympathetic with the lad, and, rejoice that he made a success of his chosen work. In the face of much opposition and frustration. Both he and his son Asaalom Gray belong high, in the lists of the Pioneer Teachers and Educators.

It seemed to be well advertised that he was 'dilatory'---'no use to appoint William to the necessary 'Forest Ranger' work,--- Or; Did you know that William managed to be absent when all the able bodied men were called upon to help 'with a Raisin'---or clear a field, or fell trees and dress them ready to build homes and barns, or work at the Powder Mill.'

Those who made these criticism's, much overdrawn and over emphasized never paused to remember that the lad, who spent many hours, near the old White Oaks Springs, in study and solitude, held the ecstasy of a soul that had learned others to read and write and think, because he, William, applied himself to his meager list of Books, and cultivated friends with the travelling Ministers, who were privileged to confer the degree of that day, to those whom they felt worthy, after close examination of their skills.

William served in the War of 1812-1814, came home wounded, sleeps in the White Oaks Springs Cemetery, beside his wife, Mary MacDonald Gray. His son Wm. Gray Jr., sleeps beside the grave of 'Mother Mary Gray' who was buried in the SW. section of the same Cemetery. By her own request, 'creek stones around her grave---a child by her side--- close to the steps of the old Brick Church.' (Whose indentations of the foundation is still visible) ---these stories, interwoven with discovered facts confirm the many tales of the old Thomas Gray, our Pioneer.

One saying of the old Thomas Gray fits in here.
'Never greet 'e'-- there maun be one lazy one in each generation'
and. Usually, this is a mark of distinction upon one who has boundless energy and many interests, in life.

ARMSTRONG

Thomas Gray Jr. (9-23 & 157) Came to manhood. Made many hunting trips into the Wilderness that crowded the Allegheny River, to the East and North of the oldhome Settlement.

The County of Westmoreland had been erected by the Assembly of the Province of Pennsylvania, by the act of Feb. 26, 1773. It was the eleventh County of Penna, and the last to be erected under the Proprietary Government.

(In 1771 this wide region was included in the County of Bedford but Settlements grew so rapidly west of the Mts. , that a new frontier County was demanded. A general settlement of the Country west of the Allegheny Mts., did not begin until the land office was opened in 1769.

Thomas Jr. came home from one of his hunting trips and reported to his father.--

'This section that we have always known as 'New Westmoreland' was to be divided into several sections. The section where they lived, (1/2 mile South of the White Oaks Springs Church on Rt 68) was later to be named Conoquenessing Twp., it was included in a strip 33 M. long, 23 M. wide, an area of 785 sq Miles. To contain 502,400 A. Land. The name was to be Butler County.

The Commission appointed to select the seat of justice was named: Abdiel McClure, James Amberson, (The Forest Ranger,) and Wm. Elliott. These Trustees were directed to have surveyed, 300 A. which had been granted by the Governor by Robert Graham, John and Sam'l Cunningham for the use of the County, on the North side of the Conequenessing Creek, near Cunningham's Mills. To lay out a lot for the Public Bldgs. The residue to be sold by auction, in town lots: This would make it much easier to transact legal business, was his immediate comment.' This, in response to father Gray's question, as to where it was to be set up.--- Clarion Co., lies to the North, Jefferson & Indiana on the East, South by Westmoreland (Armstrong Co.) West by our new Butler Co. Butler and Armstrong Counties both to be set up the same date, Mar. 12, 1800.

This hilly country, where he had found good hunting, was to be named in honor of another famous General, Armstrong. Average length 25 M. Breadth 20 M. Area about 620 sq. mi. Acreage, 400,000 A. 'They do say there are close to 2400 people to start with.

LOOSE ENDS
THOMAS GRAY JR

The youngest son, Thomas, would be a youth when all the older ones, Sophia, William, James, John, Nancy Gray Graham, Margaret Gray Shorts, and later, Mary Gray Boyd (Youngest daughter) were married and trying to establish homes and settlements. And, to all accounts, there were large families.

It must have been that many requests were made of the old father, to finance-or help- with new enterprizes, and perhaps illness made inroads also, on calls for help.

However this may be, we find the lad complaining a bit. (Maybe he, too, wanted to establish a home.) His father's reply, is classic. We can just see the dear old Scotch gentleman.)

'Noo, Noo. Tammas. The Gude Book (Bible) tells 'e' that--- 'If thy brother hae need'- 'Thou must DIVIDE'
(He literally lived that) and no doubt it was ingrained in his very life, in the old home, in 'Bonny Scotland.'

Thomas had divided and divided, until the young fellow rebelled, and said 'he would go to a new country, where he could build as he wanted and be able to use the proceeds of his own hard labor. (It is very interesting to note that he ALSO acquired the 'dividing' habit, as he enlarged his home, family and heart strings.) But he did make good.

Two of the elderly sisters of his wife, name of Craig, never married, lived in his home, for many years.

Their spinning wheels sat side by side, in the spare room. their side-saddles hung on the wall of the deep old farm Porch. Even after their death.

I asked my mother 'If she were never tempted to use them.

Her Horrified response was--- 'Oh No. 'One didnt do things like that at Uncle Tommy's.'

One of these sisters and a girl friend, both fell in love with the same man. They made a Pact 'whichever one got him, she would see that he made a mineature Bureau for the other.' The Craig sister got the Bureau.

----- BROKEN DISHES

Some of our men were reported to have been 'Pretty Graff' spoken, to say the least. But. Never 'Short Tempered' Never.

Samuel Gray. The third son of John, (No 1422-p 108) Married quite early Mary Graham, who died with an infant. He afterward went to his Uncle Tommy Gray's home at Tidal. There, he met and married Martha J. Watter-son, a tiny vivacious Irish girl, from Wattersons Ferry, on the Allegheny River.--- We record an incident of their early married life. Smile. But. Do not criticize.

On a trip to the Local Trading Post, Martha found a set of lovely flowered dishes for sale. These were then somewhat of a novelty. She wanted them, bought them and brought them home.

Set the table daintily, for the evening meal. Proudly displaying the dishes. Said she: 'Samuel. How do you like my new dishes?'

For some unknown reason, he did not. And said so.

Without hesitation, she picked them up and threw them at him, one after the other, until she broke every one.

LOOSE ENDS
PIONEER RELIGION

Men and women, who 'walked out' on all their worldly possessions, because they were wearied with the need to use subterfuge in the exercise of their Religious life---had to compromise conscience to live--oftentimes,-- had to worship their God, in secret caves-- at secret times.--had to bake their Bible in a mound of Bread.---or hide it high in the Chimney. ---These. may safely be trusted to carry the torch for the Everlasting God, wherever they may be placed.

Their hearts full of thankfulness for the care of the 'GUDE MON' as they were wont to speak of their God. Their earliest impulse was to furnish a place to worship God.

"Set thou thy trust upon the Lord
And be thou doin g good;
And so thou in the land shall dwell
And verily have food."

"To the hills, I lift mine eyes, from whence comes my aid."

Mostly Log Meeting Houses. But the glory of God shone in and made hearts lighter and burdens easier. Hannastown, on the Trail. Middlesex.-- Deer Creek.-- Nebo.-- White Oaks Springs.

Whitestown on the Trail, was the first place of Worship, in the 'Scotch Bottom' The Presbyterian Church established there., still stands a monument to a God-Fearing people.

It soon became necessary to find a place of worship, where a raging Creek crossing was not necessary.---Services. In the homes--under the trees.---Over in Ayers' Barn. (a short distance to the SE of the old White Oaks Springs.) Word sent out, whenever a travelling Preacher visited their section. Great pages of Holy Writ committed to memory. The present generation can scarcely realize, just how much comfort the Word of God was to these lonely settlers.--How much in their general conversation.- It had depth and meaning for them.

These old Pioneers, including our Grays, were devout sincere Christians. Old Records have been searched.-- older people questioned.--- We find that the old Records of the Monongahela Presbytery show, in 1804, some mention of the Scottish Settlement, even then spoken of as White Oak Springs. One Joseph Kerr was to visit the field.

Rev. Mungo Dick is spoken of, in History, as having visited it also, but no dates. Family Records show, James McConnell, who was born in Antrim, County Dervock, Ireland. He was an Associate Reformed Minister, These records certified to by Mr. J.C. Brandon, life long resident of this section.

"A Church was organized at Deer Creek, Allegheny Co., Pa in 1802. and from 1811 to 1845 James McConnell was Pastor."

He preached in a tent made of branches and brush, with hewn logs for seats and an upright one for a Pulpit, later a better tent, below, (South) of the Road, at White Oak Springs. (This confirms the data of the old Gray family.)

People came for miles, walking in their bare feet, to save their shoes Came early, to visit first, and care for the ridden animals. They had an all morning session, then ate the prepared lunches, then had their Afternoon Church. Only closing in time for the farthest to reach home before dark.

I visited Mr. J. C. Brandon, at his home, a few years before his passing, upon a beautiful day in Summer. Note Book in hand, and full of questions. I was most delighted to learn that his fine memories, ran parallel to the traditions and records of my own mothers people. My Grandfather, Peterson Gray, was 32 when Mr. Brandon was born, thus making the matters related, of a common interest.

He spoke of the story of James McConnell, which ran as I had known it, "Rev. McConnell was very jealous of the inroads of the Methodist itinerant Ministers. The story told on another page. Following this. "It be true, St. Paul says; 'We must sing hymns and Psalms and spiritual songs.' -- 'But He canna mean Hymns -- Nae Nae.' He canna mean Hymns." In Zero weather they met in Ayers Barn.

McConnell had organized the scattered settlers, in a Church named Associate Reformed. At White Oak Springs. in 1815. How long he preached there, before this, we have no means of knowing.

There was some dissention at Nebo, concerning the question of using Watts or Rouse's version of the Psalms, in 1817-18 which took away adherents to the number of 150. These made the nucleus of the White Oak Springs Church.

Mr. Brandon's grandfather John Brandon Sr. was a Charter member of the Nebo Church, we feel that their records are clear. He said that "The first Church services beyond those held in the homes of the Settlers were held in the beautiful Grove South of the plot chosen for the "City of the Dead." (and eventually for the Church.)

The hewn log seats and Pulpit location was near the Springs that gave the first name to the group, and still claims the name.

Mr. McConnell ministered faithfully, until he left. Had organized the Church, first with some dozen members backing. This was the culmination of 'Home Religion' --- Circuit Riders, visiting isolated cabins, for Bible Readings, Prayers, Hearing Scriptures Chapters recited. Settling small difficulties, officiating at Marriages, Baptisms and Preaching belated Funeral Sermons.

All this. And the semi-annual Catechetical Classes, that made such a good part in the solid Christian character of those early days, and we are safe in saying that much of this was builded upon the firm foundation of daily, kindly Christian advices and living of all the home folks.

Rev. Isaiah Niblock. b 1794 in County Donaghan Ireland, landed in New York in 1818, came to Pittsburgh Apr 23, 1819, was sent to the Scotch group at White Oak Springs. On the third Sunday in May 1819, he had the record of baptizing 40 in one day. (Our tradition was that my own grandfather, Peterson Gray was the first of this group.) His Elders were; Thos. Dodds, Hugh McKee, Geo. Matthews. And 16 Charter Members. He remained there until 1834, and supplied two more years.

From 1818-1820 a Brick building was erected. The contract let to David MacDonald, sub-let to James Gray, (my great grandfather,) and Wm. Cornelius. These built the Masonry also much of the Carpentry. (It was my priveledge to witness the Courtly handwriting of this James Gray, in a Record Book, of the erecting of the Methodist Church at Petersville, (Conoquenessing) which he had also built. This one built about 1857-58) --- Jas. Gray then lived on the farm in Forward Twp. originally owned by Enos Graham of our families.

Rev. Miblock(231) was followed by Findley,Drennan-this came to 1853 (which ushered in the year of a strong revival of Religion) the Union of Presbyterianism and Associate Reformed produced the United Presbyterian Church at White Oaks Springs,where we plan to hold a Memorial Reunion in 1952.

In response to my question whether the people of that day/responding to religious influence,or the depth of its understanding,Mr. Brandon replied. Speaking somewhat as follows,it being very difficult to keep notes of this,as he spoke rapidly.
Yes. There was a very deep and real faith,both spoken and lived. The people were of a Religious type. They also craved social contacts with other settlers.---Word would be sent out that there would be Preaching,on a given Sabbath,at some settlement home, or by the old Springs,and people would gather at the appointed time,from far and near,their hearts overflowed with the feeling of awe. Doubtless remembering the sad state of religious observance which they had to endure in the old home Countries.And. From which they had escaped.

The strains of old ''Dundee,-Dukes Street,--St Martins,-- Old Hundred and many others, many taken from the Scottish Psalter,fitted to the majestic Psalms,and SUNG,-- without having to curb the voice, would doubtless awaken deep emotion and stir the heart, as well as float o out over a large expanse of the surrounding country.---Perhaps almost raise the rafters'-- we imagine.

It is told of our Thomas Gray(3rd.gen. -1420 p 88)that he could be distinctly heard for a Mile. This is one of the Grays who stood in the little cupola-like,precentors stand,before the Pulpit,and lined out Psalms, a line at a time,then they all sang that,-he lined out another line-it was continued in that manner. (Anyone that wishes to really appreciate the beauty and solemnity of this,should some time attend a service in some of our Jewish brethern's Temples.)

Our Families,old and young,were actuated by a deep desire to worship God and learn of Him. They knew their Bible.Chapter after Chapter committed by,both old and young.

COMMUNION FALL AND SPRING

Friday. Preparation.---Heart Seachings and receiving the TOKENS. Without which-no one could commune.

Saturday. A very Personal preparation(Services both of these days.)

Sunday. A very Real Day,of Holy experiences. Quiet and reverential, Whole families wending their solemn way to the front of the Church and filing into the seats on each side of the long white draped table. Peace,--quiet meditation,-- the very Presence of the Holy Spirit was evident.The Emblems of the Holy Communion,passed to each, another quiet time,then the blessing on each and the return to the seats,making way for others.(Never to be forgotten in life.)

Monday. The closing service, with Baptism of those who were ready for the rite.Babies,Children and Adults.

LOOSE ENDS

Mr. Brandon, to whom we are much indebted for this living picture of our early Pioneers. Was born 1844 at the old home, scarce 800 feet from the home in which he died, in 1939 (His father and grandfather, both 'Scotch Bottom' Pioneers, were devoted Members and Elders, his father being one of the seceders from the older Nebo Church. He was very familiar with the progress of Religious influence. - A Sunday School Teacher for 3 quarters Century. He described a very unusual happening of that day.

 "It must have been the direct result of the meetings held by Mungo Dick or Calderwood, perhaps Francis Poythress, Because it happened about the year 1800. This was before the organization of the Nebo Presbyterian Church. (So it was not THEIR fault." He smiled whimsically over this" But Religious services were being held at homes around in all the different homes in the District.)

(Our Records name Francis Poythress, an itinerant Circuit Rider (p 73) A Virginian, reported to have been originally of the Church of England (Episcopal) but later converted to the Methodist tenets, but whose zeal and passion for souls surpassed his Denominational tenets. He had penetrated far and wide through the Wilderness reaches. In all likelihood, he was the very first Evangel that visited the remote Settlers. Records show that he did go as far as Logstown, to the North. (Aliquippa.)

--- and a remarkable Revival spread through the entire "Scotch Bottom" Settlement. This afterward comprised the scope of both Nebo and White Oaks Springs (Perhaps Middlesex and Plains also) but to continue-- This revival was accompanied with remarkable physical manifestations.

It was called "The Falling Work" (We find this noted in very early works on Religion, in England.)

(Inadvertantly, I see I wrote Calderwood, when it is Calderhead.)

Many of those affected would fall prostrate upon the floor, ground or Cabin, wherever the meetings were held. And would lie in an unconscious condition of trance, apparently losing all power of the will to check or control. Sometimes for many hours.

It was purely mechanical-that is involuntary and absolutely beyond the power of the will to check or control.

(Mr. Brandon's story was afterward checked with Mr. A.W. McCullough's written for the Mount Nebo Centennial, and the aforesaid English writers, - these were practically identical. Mr. McCullough recalls his Grandfather, Andrew S. White, tell many times of this experience. --- It also belongs to my mother's story of the traditions of the Gray families.)

Meetings were going on at some point between the Creeks, (Big and Little Conoquenessing) at which there had been very unusual spiritual and physical experiences attracting the attention of the Settlers for Miles around.

Among those who went out of curiosity to see the strange occurrence, was Stephen Crawford, his farm some 3 Miles to the North, He was a blacksmith-the first, by the way, in Western Penna., having opened his shop on his farm, about 1796. He was of great physical strength and impulsiveness of mind, and had absolutely no time for, or stock in such 'goings-on' in fact felt & said, they were of the evil one.

LOOSE ENDS

when Crawford reached the place, (my mother always said-barn-) someone told him, before he reached the building, that a good friend of his, and neighbor, (naming him) had just fallen over, and was lying as if he were dead.

Crawford immediately lost his temper, and replied. "I'll soon waken him." "When I go in and lay hands on him." he pulled the door open with a jerk, reached the man---And. he too fell prostrate, beside his friend.---There they both lay, unconscious to everything that went on about them.

When he aroused, it was very evident that he had experienced a very deep conversion, from that time forth, he was a completely changed man. Was a devout faithful Christian as long as he lived.

Eventually the hard, harsh, crushing self, elements, of the older folks were softened, the 'Tokens' fell into disuse, (no one had to sit on the fence, outside, while the rest communed--because they were not deemed fit-) Singing was read from the Psalters,--not read out line by line-- Organs came into use, night services and Sunday School introduced. And along about---1930-- Members were allowed to sing Hymns.

History records the fact that when the Singing changed from the line by line method, our old Thomas Gray-an Elder- was so disgusted that he was dumbfounded, stood up, jammed his hat on his head and stomped out declaring that "He wouldn't listen to such an ungodly performance," was a long time before he would return.

In my knowledge, two Henry sisters married Shannons. both elderly widows. A strong campaign waged, to secure an Organ for the Church. (about 1896) the sisters objected, but were overruled. Rather frail, they did not attend often. One day a large concourse of people were there, holding some sort of Presbyterial Meeting. One of the days, tables were arranged outdoors for the noon meals. One of these old ladies, tired and came into the Church to rest. I can see her yet. Bowed with age, her large Ebony Horn, with which she could hear, her eyes rather dim. She wandered around the loved walls, and discovered the new Organ.

She was so hurt that she never again, in life, came into the Church. And. She had-not knowing- complimented the Pastor, Rev. Grimes, upon the newly discovered beauty of the singing, not long before that fatal discovery.

One other memory which Mr. Brandon recalled a part, the rest known by the writer.

After they decided to hold Sunday School- (Sabbath School, to them) it was the custom to give 'tiny tots' a picture card.

This Sabbath it was 'The Hindu mothers throwing their babies into the Ganges River' as an appeasement to their goddess 'Siva' and was a very real picture.

Emma Dean Anderson, of the Eastern section of this 'Scotch Bottom' was much disturbed over this inhuman action.---Declared "when she grew up, she would DO something about it." And. She did.

She spent many years in India, training and Christianizing Hindu's has at least three generations of Christians, who call her 'MOTHER' She still lives, now, in sunny California, nearing the 100 year mark. She was a part of our Scotch Bottom, attended our Schools, & Churches and related to some of our Clan.

REVEREND JOSEPH CHRISTY BROWN

Born in Penn Twp. Butler Co., Pa. (1448-88.)

Son of Christy Ann Gray (1433-88) and Joseph Brown .Pioneer. 1437-88) worthy son of a Noble heritage, on both sides of his house, we are proud of his friendship and proud of his fine Leadership. Both in the circles of Christian endeavors and the Gray Clan.

Joseph Brown (1448) and his estimable wife (1630-p 95) Maude have followed the Master's Call, for many years. The experiences of the years are helping him to achieve even greater victories. He has spent much time on the Board of Education of the Methodist Church and is in demand as an Instructor, at the Schools of Religion, also the Annual Camps, where both Ministers and Religious Workers, meet for 'Post Graduate' work and study of the Word of God and Methods of carrying this Message to many other groups.

Rev. Brown has been the capable Leader of the Gray Clan, elected at the first Annual Reunion, as President.

This post he has held, until 1950, when he pleaded the heavy increase of his Ministerial work.

(He was succeeded by Dr. O. B. Gray of Massillon, Ohio.)

Two other sons of these parents, (1433-1437), felt the 'Call' to the Ministry. (John Thomas Raymond Brown (1447) called to 'come up higher' just at the point where he was fitted to embark in the Ministry. His life-work finished early.

Nathan L. Brown (1438-88) a very successful Minister. We count it a high privilege to have known this 'Man-of-God' we recall him making a Sunday School address, at a Convention about 1914. His vibrant stirring message, went straight to the heart of the several hundred present.

You could hear 'a pin drop' He emphasized the fact that Character and sincerity were what counted.

He also said "'I was born over here in Penn Twp. My father was rich-- 'in boys' We had a stony farm, but, Praise God, we made it pay. We had more than the -outward- shell of life. We cherished the Spirit, in our lives.'"

He, answered the call to 'come-up-higher' much over a decade since. His Witness still lives in the memory of those who knew him.

Men like these are not the product of chance. Some say "'I don't believe in this Heredity and Ancestry stuff.'" Such as these believe these sentiments.

Let us look at his ancestry a bit.

Brown s. came to our section in 1797. one Robert Brown is credited with being 'The Father of Methodism' in all of the section near-by. Thomas Gray (1) left Scotland, where countless generations, stretching back to 1060 A.D. Because his conscience would not allow him to subscribe to deceit and fraud and oppression.

John Gray (6-88) a very staunch Covenanter, lived and died in the folds of the White Oaks Springs Congregation. His wife converted to Methodism. Neither one would even so much as --bend-- a conviction, it is a matter of History-tradition and fact, that he was buried in the Cemetery of his choice-Church- and Martha (1419-88) in the Cemetery of her Church, a mile distant.

Both unquestioned Christians and loyal to each other and their good

The Following story is denied by our good friend, Maude Brown Crowe (1450-88) She says that 'The Brown's were all and always good strong Methodists,'--We still think she was entirely too young to remember. However, It does porve-a bit- the steadfast belief and rather hardness of heart, of the earlier Covenanters, in 'Little Scotland' this is tradition, founded on fact, and cannot be denied.

METHODISM

Were one to use the tripod of the Surveyor, and draw a line directly North from the Methodist Church, in Peters burg, (Conoquenessing,) then, go North on Main St, a long block, until we reach the Street just North of the sturdy old Pioneer Hostel, later called a Tavern, with its three large Cellars, built of heavy thick stone walls, underneath. Now the home of P.J. Nicklas. At this West side street, we reset the tripod and draw a line directly West.--- sighting along the street that begins there and runs west.

At the point where these two lines converge, we find the spot where the large tent was erected, which brought into being many of the Methodist Churches, in a large area. Including Prospect, Phillips City, Conoquenessing and later Renfrew. (We have no data on the Brownsdale Church.)

The Ministers who visited this Community, were strong leaders. Asbury, became a Bishop. Wm. Taylor then known as 'The California Street Preacher. later became a great Missionary-and also a Bishop. In his book entitled 'Story of my Life' he speaks of this Tent Camp-Meeting & the dedication of the young Church, in 1858.

In 1857 D.P. Mitchell was the Presiding Elder of Allegheny District, and John Ansley, who came into the District in 1846, from West Va. was located at Butler, Pa. in 1857 and named as -preacher-in-charge- named a building Committee. The first Church Board was: Jos. Henry, Pres. John Huselton Sec. and Milton Ricchason, Treas. per Records. Also Alex. Bryson, Henry Ingraham, Henry Wintersteen & John Ferguson. Noted that Business Meetings were held by male members. Malcolm Graham sold the ground for the Church lot and James Gray was under contract to lay the masonry and build the frame work. dated June 7 1858. Contract price for this was-$300.00. The inner completion came to $1250.00 not counting furnituring and painting In 1858 S. Crouse seems to be the Pastor. He was also at Butler, Pa.

In 1855-56 there was a very general wave of Religious enthusaasm. It struck the old Valleys with a singular force.

At this Camp Meeting many brave souls were brought under a very real conviction of sin and experienced a joyous conversion.

Who can say what this meant in that troublous War-term pre-war period.

THE DEVIL BREAKS LOOSE A TRUE STORY

Using perfectly consecrated Christians. And legitimate channels. Matter of History. 'The Rev. Isaiah Niblock, early Shepherd of the White Oak Springs flock, (then still Associate Reformed* forbade his flock ever to enter the Tent, or attend the sinful meetings, where strong men were prostrated with their sense of guilt of sin.

The singing rang out over the hills-likely all vocal-a strong challenge to lovers of singing, luring many. Members of the Covenanter group came & sang, the 'Tabbo' forgotten, three of those guilty of breaking this rule was Jacob Fry, -Vandling and Thomas Gray. How they did sing.

Next Church day they were severely hauled over the coals, sessioned for their conduct. One submitted, two would not & became strong Methodists.

MARY ELIZABETH BROWN WRIGHT (556 p 50) Piketon Ohio

'----- did not know my grandmother, Elizabeth Jane Gray Brown (134 p 48) was a twin, or had any brothers but James, (133 p 31) how well I remember my great grandfather James Gray (4 p 23 & 31) I was a little girl, (she was born 1862-he died 1868) would carry him drinks of water and talk to him,-----remember well when he was buried, the lot was taken from our home farm, in Pike Co., O.----- a little brother of mine was the first grave, later it was almost full After gr-father Jas. Brown (513 p 48) got settled, (late in 1850) my father was oldest----(W.J. 514 p 50) ---in those days they boated on the Canal, from Portsmouth to Erie, my gr-father Jas. Brown was boating corn-had his own hprses and my father drove them on the toe-path, to draw the boat,---had made the trip to Portsmouth and was coming back-locking through. At the Elbow-Lock, it was a stormy night and their lantern went out, and, someway he got thrown under the boat, his son, called but no answer. He found his hat on the water. He was drowned.

My father (W.J. Brown-514) took the new home, about 25 miles, he rode one horse and led the other----- when the dear old grandma saw him coming, she knew something had happened,----- He was laid in the family lot, also James Gray Jr. was buried there. (133 p 31)

Grandmother raised her large family. Four soldier boys, (and Sarah Ellen, (519 p 48 & 196) also fought in the Civil War, until she was wounded,) Matthew O. 517 p 48) was killed at Kenesaw, while he was writing to his mother. Jeremiah Calvin Gray Brown (521 p 48) was

All are gone now---life seems but a dream sometimes. Uncle Thomas Brown (516 p 48) married Ellen Marie Pryor, she died with their infant, he went to Michigan, there remarried, Lavinia Pearsall, he worked in the lumber country, they had three children. Sarah Ellen, (later named- Emma (877 p 61) died, Cora (878 p 61) and William Oliver (876 P 61) who lives at Van Wert, O. (later Jackson Center, Mich.)----- father corresponded with Lemuel McCormick (347 p 42) of Riga, Mich. also Manuel (346 p 42). she was widowed too, and her four sons had been in the Civil War.

Grandfather James Brown (513 p 48) had two brothers and some sisters who came here from Brownsdale, Pennsylvania.---before he did, I think they came in 1850, one brother was Jesse, who raised a big family, one sister married John Teagart (Taggart)--- Alex. Brown brought the old mother, Mrs. Jane Brown , with him from Penna. She is also laid in the family lot.

My oldest sister, Minnie Laura (560 p 50) married and went away to Calif.---one by one, they went, and persuaded the old people to sell our home and go ----- all went but me,--- mother only lived four years (555 p 50) died in 1908 and was laid away in San Jose, Calif.-- father came back and stayed with me, he was buried in Waverly, O. ----- Mary E. NAMELESS: A JUSTIFICATION

A son of the Gray Clan involved in and iddited for Murder.

Over 100 years since, a son was born to a Gray girl.

The father;- Son of a noted Pioneer/probably reared in the old Nebo or White Oaks Springs Church.

Certainly in the ''Scotch Settlement'' visited the commonly known ''Booze Factories'' at Harmony, Pa. In a day when Booze was just beginning to show the effects of the deadly 'rot-gut' (as one names it) quality, some credited it as being developed with common lye, such as the Butler County-Soap Factory-Mine- housewives, were proud to use as a base to make their Home made soap.--- That period had also developed the inordinate Gambler. (The get-rich-quick, bug struck 'Little Scotland' a sad combination.

This ''Booze'' drove out all sense of fatherly care, duties or provision for his family.

A fourth generation member of the Clan, relating this to me, (it is known by few of ours,) commented that ''I dont know what Preecher Niblock m eant to marry that sweet little girl to that man. He was drunk at the time'' and continued' the whole neighborhood was so stirred over it.' No good could come of it, was the conclusion.

NAMELESS; Came to his turbulent, adolescense, shamed, because his father was the common Gambler and Drunkard.

Crushed, denied, starved for all the dear delights of other boys.

No education, mayhap, even many times really hungry.

These very experiences causing what we, today, might term an introvert.

His only outlet, beside the love of his mother, was the care and training of a beautiful Colt. This grew to a highly prized Stallion.

The father becoming more and more involved, in drink and gambling, one day he was so deep that he knew no way out.

He. On the suggestion of tthe man who held his promise, decided to give the boy's Stallion for the debt.

This brought about a most furious quarrel. Someway, in the attempt to transfer the Stallion to the-supposedly-new owner, whether it was the attack of the Stallion, who acknowledged no other Master, or otherwise, the father was killed.

Of Ccourse. A Trial. How this was settled, we need not state, if we knew, but, in any case ''Who would be the guilty party?''---

The weak-willed father.

The boy. Born as good as any of OUR loved sons---BUT, from very force of circumstances, an outcast from normal companionships, and thus driven more and more to caring for his beloved horse.

PERHAPS. Deeper than even this. The good Citizen, who, carelessly cast his vote, (not -her- then, I am glad to think,) for the univesal brewing and sale of this 'Liquid Murderer' ---Just so he could've a drink, or not--- as he chose' Who was the guilty one.

God have Mercy on our united Souls.

A letter sent by Mr. Wm. H. Bishoff. (Who instituted and organized the efficient) Registrar, Department Veterans Graves, Registration.

''----- Letter of inquiry forwarded to my Office.

I wish to state that we have marked the grave of William Gray who was a veteran of the War of 1812-14, or the second Revolutionary War.

Our Records show that he served in Cpt. Thompson's 2nd. Pa. Militia. And, also in Capt. James Murrin's Co. 26th. Pa. Militia.

We shall see that the grave is maintained in proper order, and will be marked perpetually, thanking you for your interest, assuring you of our co-operation, I remain, Very Truly Yours.--W. H. Bishoff. Registrar.

JOHN NEWTON MAHARG (1493 p 90)

Member of a Pioneer family. (We read of John Maharg in Peen Twp., as living to be 102 years.)

J. N. Maharg, the popular Commissioner, married Mary L. Brown (1440 p 90) Their son John Christy Maharg (1501 p 90) Successful in the Insurance Field and ranks high among Clan Promoters.

We shall repeat a story told by the elder member, at our very first 'Gathering of the Clan, when we 'heeded the Call' Not by the Pibroch, nor by the 'Bon-Fires' set out from Cliff to cliff, as signals, but by the Modern spokesman of the old Highlander Thomas Gray.'

His story is one on the Grahams.

It seems; 'And I hope I remember rightly.' We are told that the name Graham is sometimes called Grimm, Graeme or even in strictly Scotch speech. 'Brisk' (Supposed to have come from 'Brisk-Hill' in Scotland.

When the Scotch came in such a swarm, from Scotland, (some from The haven in Ireland-tho still Scotch,) Many had tarried in Ireland, long enough to acquire a mixed 'brogue' nad a few bonnie Irish lassies, as wives.

There were so many Grahams that they felt the name would be very confusing, in the new Country.

They discussed the question so much that the Ship's Captain vowed he would settle the matter.

'Stand ye all in a row.'---- Now.Number.--- Now. All the even numbers fall back.---

'From this day forth, all you even numbers will be Grahams.

And. All ye ODD Numbers will be Mahargs.' (Graham spelled backward.)

We have no report that any of them ever regretted this action.

Mahargs, successful farmers, in Penn Twp., were also uch interested in the educational field, as well as Political and Business life of their land. In his younger days, Mr. Maharg made long journeys with the busy Cattle Drovers of the earlier days.

MARTIN J. HAZZARD (1231 p 78) Anderson Indiana

'-----to have been at sea all these years as regards the Gray Clan is indeed a source of profound regret.---- I cannot but feel that to fan the flame-cultivate and preserve the ties of kinship tends to a richer-fuller spiritual life for all concerned.

You and I are in perfect accord with respect to the influence of the races of people back of us and the count of heritage.' 'Let's call in John Burrough's and have a theresome. He did so handsomely by it.*

'The perfect apple on the tree has escaped many mishaps of wind and storm and hostile insect and germ, but it is not a matter of chance that it is an apple, and that it is sweet or sour, red or green, round or flat. That apple is always thus with possible modifications. Soil, climate, exposure, culture-- all have their influence.'-----

For the youth particularly, I believe too that the knowledge of a worthy heritage contributes a steadying influence-- sort of anchors them, so to speak, it should serve both as an inspiration and a standard whereby they may from time to time pause,----- and guage themselves--- only to resume the struggle with renewed moral and also spiritual vigor.

The task, to which you people have dedicated yourselves--- does, I know --in proportion, often appear to be a thankless one. But. Countless kindred souls will, beyond any question of doubt, parade through the generations to come---- blessing you--- and again blessing you for the vision, patience and perseverance you have devoted to this monumental task. -----

My earliest recollection of my Uncle Frank. (B.F.Gray. (1155 p 75) brings memories of one of his visits to us, when we resided in Bradford Pa. I, must have been about four years of age.--- twas bedtime, and he was telling me about God.----- that 'He' was right there in the room ---all around---everywhere.--- Twas but an incident long since forgotten by him no doubt, but upon my young mind it stamped itself indelibly.-----

Best Wishes for the success of the Gray History... Martin Hazzard.

Martins mother, Elizabeth (1156 p 78) and his Aunt, Rose (1153 p 75) were both well known for their devotion in the work of caring for the underpriveleged. Both Spiritual and Physical.

ELIZABETH JANE GRAY (134-31) b 1818 FORWARD TWP. BUTLER CO PA.
(James-4- Thomas -1-)

(A recent request prompts me to include this story, for the benefit of the whole Clan, because it portrays so much that interests every student of early history.)gsg.

A quiet country road, beginning near the little Methodist Church, the masonry & frame work speaking clearly of her fathers handiwork and supervision. We turn our back to the old Village of Peters town-later called Conoquenessing. Named for the land owner, Peter McKinney, who was one of the first group of weary Emigrants-Graham-MacDonald, Purviance, McKinney and two Gray brothers- in the fall of 1791-at least in that close period, judging by the regulations for settlers claims. Margaret McKinney was born there in March 1792-our old Pioneer, Thomas Gray and wife, with their little daughter, Sophia and sons, James, William and wee Johnnie (who was 'cumin twa' were among the group of travellers.

We leave the Village behind, following the road, going due West, winding over hill and dale revealing a wide vista of entrancing country-side soon we cross the old Injun Trail that leads from Fort Pitt to Franklin, still going due West, we reach a point on a high hill, some two miles from the old Village. The old Harmony settlement still farther West, we leave the Harmony Road, bearing down to the left, over the ridge, toward the beautiful Conoquenessing Creek Valley. Perhaps a mile from the place where our George Washington was the target for an assassins bullet, and so Providentially spared-at the Amberson Bridge Camp, called fearsomely Murderingtown.

James Gray (4) and Margaret Peterson (129) had established a home there, on the edge of Forward Twp., in the shelter of the slope of the hill, Conoquenessing Creek, rushing on its noisy, turbulent way to the River, was just South of them.

Their first home was, as was common then, a sort of a double cabin, two roomy sections with an inner porch, between the two, all covered with one roof, an upper loftlike room was reached by a crude ladder.

A huge hearth was spread before the great fire place, a hole worn in the center of the hearth, caused by many feet and much sweeping, with the brooms made of stout birch swithes, bound together to a handle. The puncheon table, made of hewed logs, with the rounded side down, forked branches fitted in for table legs, chairs made much the same, only they were called stools. Finely polished trenchers, also made of wood, for dishes and bowls, sharp clean sticks for forks, the crude spinning wheels and flax scutchers much in evidence, contributing to the necessary labor of clothing the family. The Crane that held the cooking pots over the fire, shovels, scoops, bed-warmers, candle moulds all the very necessary articles, hung tidily at the side of the fire place. On a small table, the huge home made water bucket. Necessary-make shift vessels that slowly gave way to new and improved ways of living.

There was no sadness there. It was a glad spontaneous life, gloriously free from the tyrannical Rulers, the treacherous intrigues, left far far behind. well nigh forgotten, in the thrill of the new life, so different from old Skibo.

Who can measure the worth of the songs of the birds, the fragrance of flowers, beauty of ferns, music of running brooks, the splendor of gold and red sunsets, or express the value of them 'We cant eat them or wear 'em or sell them for 'trade or swap' and yet there is a beauty and sense of well being and peace, that perhaps, has never since, been attained.

Elizabeth Jane, the small twin daughter with Sophia the opposite- and so blond- came to cheer James and Margaret and be the especial care of the three older brothers. Elizabeth Jane and Sophia they were baptized, when Pastor Isaiah Niblock came to the old White Oaks Springs group and baptized 40 in one day, at the service in the old Ayers barn.

Elizabeth Jane was married very young to James Brown (513-48) and lived near to her home until she had four sons and three daughters, so many years of farming without the later acquired knowledge of how to skillfully feed the soil, helped to bring about the uneasy wish to move to other land, where they might find richer farming opportunities.

Jessa and Alexander Brown had gone to the newer country in Southern Ohio to examine the land, soon after 1850, they were convinced that it was a good place to settle, they emigrated there with the old widowed mother and the sister Margaret Teagart. the mother Jane and her family came from the Brown's Mills section, not far from Coopertown, between Brownsdale and Butler, Pa. Settling in Pike Co. Ohio. They persuaded the brother James (513-48) to come to them.

James and Elizabeth took their seven children and boated down the Ohio River, came to the new home with their possessions, children, household goods and stock.

In the fall of 1851 having made his good harvest, the first after his arrival there, James and his son William (514-48) made their way to the Market, by Canal. Were returning home, on a dark stormy evening, pressing on, trying to get home sooner, young Wm. driving the horses on the toe-path, the father steering from the boat, something went wrong when they were 'Locking-through' the Lock gates, and James was swept from the boat and drowned. All that the frightened lad, 14 years old, could find was his fathers hat floating on the water.

Fifty years later. William (514) who had obeyed the call to 'Birse Yonte' and emigrated to Pike Co. Ohio with his fathers family, that long ago day. Is now coming back to the land of his 'birth and childhood' as he expresses it in his Diary. A visit to old scenes.

Now as he is carried rapidly Northward, by train, he relives the days of preparation, so long ago, to leave the places he now longs to visit. 'His farewell visit to the grave of the beloved old grandfather Brown at Brownsdale, some 8 miles to the East, the scenes at the old White Oak Springs Church, the Minister, Rev. Wm. Findley, who had married his parents and baptized all of their family, the Cemetery where the beloved old grandmother Margaret lay sleeping, since 1848, and the great grandmother, Mary Gray, whose grave had been made near the steps of the old brick Church, Now razed and the new one near-by.

Fancy roams to the old log School House at the edge of the McAllister place, near the Southern edge of the old Village, where boys gathered from miles around, soon another one was established at Break Neck, (later named Evans City) a mile or so farther North of this School, was the old Gray homestead where his grandfather James and his great grand father Thomas settled in that bleak, long ago winter day. He wonders where the 'old boys' are. Some left the old places, as he did, some were sleeping in far-flung Battle fields, some in the old home Cemetery. The McKinneys, the Welsh's, the Grahams, the Duncans, the Browns, the Brandons, the Critchlows, the McLeods and McNairs and Witty's and Nicklas's and Millers, and Purviances. And one of these, a hot tempered old-or young- man in a fit of temper, over some fancied wrong, had the double sin of murder and suicide, and they wouldn't allow the burial in the Cemetery, but, for years the stones sat in solemn disgrace-outside the Cemetery fence.- Another such, was buried in the center of the cross roads, where the roads cross South of the Village of Conoquenessing, he was always afraid to pass over that.

He comes to the departure from home.

The family of the James Brown's are ready to leave; many of them to never again see these loved scenes. They are starting from Grandfather, James Grays-the wagons loaded heavy, the horses in harness-the beloved colts tied behind the wagon-the essentials are there, to start a new home in this Wilderness of Southern Ohio, on the Scioto River. Or not far away, Camp-the Brown's called it-later the family sent word back that it was Jasper, Pike Co., Ohio.

Up the hill. Away from the sheltered home under the hill-crest, not far from the noisey Conoquenessing Creek, with its famous 'Swimmin-holes' and the 'horse-hole' where the bottom of the creek was never sounded, and they were strictly warned to stay away from it, passing by the lovely old orchard, with its gnarled trees -and grandmothers prized sweet apple trees-that 'Apple-seed Johnny Chapman' had coaxed her to plant, telling her that 'these apples would sweeten the whole family, when cloudy skies overcast the family'-(God rest his soul) leaving behind all of the intriguing spots, the good fishing place, near where (speaking under your breath) you say 'This is where George Washington was shot at, and they do say-the Lord wasn't ready for him to leave this world- the old Indian Camping places where we dug up flint arrows of every fascinating shape,-the favorite walnut and hickory nut and Chestnut trees, all, now giving promise of a full harvest in the fall- there is the thickets where we gathered berries for the family to use all winter, made into delectable jellies and jame and pies-- there a place where the wild honey bees just loved to hide their stores. And, we just loved to harvest them- here, our favorite trapping places- now, we pass the home where Aunt Hannah (140-31) Gray Casey lived with her husband William-who made trips to the far away Pittsburgh Markets, and once, he didn't come back, the horse he was riding came back, but he was found by the road-side, brutally shot from the back, all of his money from the Cattle-Sales, Gone. And Aunt Hannah left with tiny Becca, to rear alone.

A little farther along we pass the home of Uncle Jeremy Gray (137-31) the neighbors barn near-by, where he was helping to thresh with the old 'Chaff-piler' working in the 'mow' where the dust was stifling, he choked with it and died right there by the barn-leaving his widow and four small children.

Memories press--- and crowd--- and burn, this tearing out heart strings leaves its sobering marks.--- Even father James is blowing his nose, mother openly crying-the little girls, too young to heed, here we found mothers wild, sweet cherries, that she dried for a winter tonic, when appetites languished---there a sturdy farm home that the Gray men had built with strong masonry and towering timbers and cheerful windows, and small William had carried water for them to drink.

On. To the Trading Post and thriving manufacturing center at Harmony. Here, the cousins and relatives who 'spelled us a ways' sadly turned back with many a lingering wave of the hand-shouting "'Good-by and may God speed and keep you'" the horses soon lost to sight, flying past Jerry Rapp's ancient seat--on through the Village of Harmony---sharply turning to the left--riding briskly on through the lovely rolling country side-- mile after mile--soon reaching the Beaver River, where it roared into the beautiful, glistening wide Ohio River.

Here. We rest while the arrangements are made to go down the River by boat, through Wheeling and Moundsville W.Va. and New Martinsville and Parkersburg--- gazing with wonder-filled eyes at the island connected with the name of one Aaron Burr. 3rd. V.P. of the U.S. once almost a President, held high in the regard of a mighty people, then, falling to the depth of being tried for Treason--- acquitted, tardily, fought a duel with Hamilton and killing him-- a long chequered career. ---Father James could be such an interesting companion.---He reminded us that back on the River, before we came to Wheeling, we passed the Hamilton Ferry, where many cattle-drovers took their only chance to cross the River--- an interesting ancient Village, with a large old brick Tavern house, cattle-runs--- and some more of Johnny Applesseed's precious trees growing near-by.

Nearing the new home.

Beginning to talk, now, of the new home they would build---passing down the River--- around the bends--- through country made graphic, with the Indian war-fare, Point Pleasant, finally Portsmouth, and the mouth of the Scioto River--- a half day's journey up this River and they rested at Camp-their destination.

(This new County had been erected from parts of Scioto, Ross and Adams Counties in 1815 named for Gen. Zebulum Pike, by Peter Bunnion who laid out Piketon the County seat. A Court House built in 1817 still stands --the place noted for ancient earth works. All the first settlers there were from Penna and Va.)

Still dreaming of the past, the time just seems to fly---the first new Cabin home, to shelter them,---the ground, cleared for crops,--labor filled days and long restful nights--- Summer--- Harvest--- then the boat ride to the Market, on the Canal-Boat, father James Brown on the boat and William driving his prized horses by its side, drawing the toe-line that guided the boat---a heavy storm---James wishing to press on and make home that night. --- Something went wrong, father James was swept off the boat, and drowned.--- All that William could find was his father's hat and he rode sadly home to report, and seek help.

Just another tragedy for Mother Elizabeth Jane Gray Brown. Oh Yes! She had William, Matthew, James Peterson and Thomas--- Margaret and Mary and wee Sarah and she knew that she would be mother again, before many Months.

would pass. The Browns and the other good neighbors helped, as good neighbors always do, and life, though sad and lonely, went on and her boyâ grew---and all four were soldiers in the Civil War---and Matthew O. sat down by a tree to rest a bit and write a message to Mother Elizabeth, and, just as suddenly, went home-- to be with the others gone before---Made the Supreme sacrifice.---and little Sarah Ellen, who was a tiny girl when her father was drowned-- grew to be venturesome and headstrong and enlisted in the dread Civil War. Proudly she stood her tasks and duties with the rest without complaint--until she was wounded and shipped home.)

Clickety-Clack--- clickety- clack, the wheels run on, and William has gone fast asleep in his seat.---Soon he reaches Pittsburgh, so strange in his eyes, since his boyhood trips with his father---such progress the half Century has made.

Journeying on to Butler Pa. he is made welcome by his old friends, and proudly shown the progress of the City, so small in his youth---so largely grown about the turn of the Century. The Steel Mills---the Manufactories, running feverishly, business affairs crowding upon each other.---Men, TOO busy, in that period before the first World War.

Out at the old home, in Forward Twp. things are so different. Strangers using modern methods of bringing fertility to the farms,--- the old Church is enlarged and painted,--- the Cemetery---so terribly enlarged---the old Gray home, where the old Pioneers first rested, so long ago---passed into the hands of strangers,---so few people that he knew--- grandmothers old sweet apple trees still lived---proudly rearing their heads to the sky, as tall as the oil derricks that dotted the land.---The old Spring was there. Clear and cool as always.---The old Powder Mill broken up and carried away-- the house where Mother Mary died, on the Renfrew Road, over on the Ridge th the South was gone, only the hand hewn stones that formed the foundation, were intact, standing in majestic reproof of the modern foundations.--- The stones that were placed around Mother Mary's grave were still there, beside the indentations of the old brick Church steps that led to the door.

Land marks---land sites---places made as shrines, in the childhood's golden memories--- these were all visited. William is satisfied--- his laggard steps turn back to the Ohio home. Life. Has been both full and good.

We have been favored with files from several branches of Gray families. Many of these traditions run parallel to our own. There are even family characteristics and resemblances, very similar, it is our opinion that some future Historian and Genealogist must uncover the hidden threads.

The Zane Grays-- in the section about Uniontown and Zanesville. Their Historian, Mrs. Luella Gray Burgess -- No 110 in our Mailing List, is very interested.

William Gray---one of three brothers--wife Mary Borland--settled near Greensburg---b 1734 died aged 35. Burial places near Greensburg. The worthy Judge James Gray of Pittsburgh, Pa., who has visited in our Clan Reunions, is of these.

Dr James Gray Rose late of Mercersburg, Pa. writes intriguingly. Tells of the thread between his families and the late U.S. Senator Don Cameron, located in the section east of Harrisburg, Pa. Tells of the great oak called the 'witness oak' and its Tablet bearing the names of the founders of the Donegal Presbyterian Church, originated in 1721. This also has names of those who are pledged to the loyalty of the new U.S. cause.

Sarah Stevenson married John Gray an Am. Rev. Officer, buried at the old Paxtang Cemetery, east of Harrisburg, Pa. --- through their daughter, Sarah married David McKinley. --- through this marriage she became the grandmother of President McKinley, who seems to be a double cousin of Dr. James Gray Rose.

The Historian for their family is an Attorney, Jas. McKinley Rose of 215 East 72nd St. New York.

We have evidence, as yet uncertified, that James Gray, brother to our Thomas Gray came in the same group of Emigrants, and bought land lying to the East of our Thomas' 419 A. 119 p. He evidently did not hold it very long, as it seems difficult to locate Transcripts for his land. He had three sons--according to the Census of 1800. perhaps 4. see p 17) we find traces--uncertified-- of this brother James's families in the Court Records of Indiana County. Also traces, here and there, that there was an older couple with the two families.

Whether these were the parents of Thomas or Mary. We have not learned. However, we are positive that the old Powder Mill--- Grist Mill first & Powder Mill in 1810 was on land owned by James Gray, brother to Thomas.

We also know about the Alexander Gray's, of tragic fame, who lived some half way between the White Oaks Church and the Franklin Road--lying to the West. From White Oaks, we drive west, leaving the Graham School to our right.--cross the Conoquenessing Creek at Shannons Bridge. Soon after this we begin to rise, and there was a very old log house, close to the road, before one reached the Phillip Meader property. Some Shannon families lived in it after the Grays death.

The old man Gray-Alexander- whom Frank Gray (1155 -75) believed were 'kin' to us, had lost their children in some peculiarly sad way--could not talk about it at all. They seemed inclined to want to be left alone --- and, were. They seemed to be pretty well fixed, no lack of funds.

The man was killed in a Stage hold-up.--place unknown.

The woman, old and alone, was found frozen to death. A neighbor, one Shannon, who was supposed to keep her in fuel, wood, and water from the spring, had driven to Bradford Woods, to a Funeral, was storm stayed, and storms could be ferocious there.--No one else knew about her.

The husband was known to always carry considerable money, on his person (An incident occurred about 1930. The writer was in a local store, when a Travelling Salesman came in, all excited.--'There was a terrific wind storm, some trees, great huge ones, were blown down.--in the crotch of one of them, a man found a large amount of money, of old dates.'') When it reached the Newspapers, it was spoken of lightly. Those who saw it, felt that some one wanted to keep it still. It was whispered that it may have belonged to the old Gray man who was killed by Stage Robbers.

These people and this story was vouched for by the late Q.G. Shannon, also.

SYLVAN W GRAY

Not too busy to express his interest in 'Gray Clan' doing. We are much indebted to him, for some fine Camera work. We predict a full busy day for him at the 1952 Reunion. We think all should be interested in securing pictures of these historic points in our early Clan life. Under cover of July 5, 1939 Sylvan sends us data of his early families.

Father Gray. (Pioneer-name unknown-b abt 1760-came to the New Continent from Scotland-through the usual Irish channels.

4 gen. Mary Gray-, Aaron-, Amanda-, Urias-, of Canton, O.-, Jeremiah-, & Henry Gray b Feb. 20, 1862.

5 gen. Sylvan W. Gray and wife Helen. of North Canton, Ohio.

It is known that Settlers came to York Co. The Bedford-Union-Juniata-Lancaster Dist., all of these figure in the Historical accounts.

From the Cumberland-Maryland- Virginia Settlements, of the very early Pioneer travel. (Most of these named above came from the Penna. Dutch settlements in York Co., Pa.)

The old traditional story that two (James and Thomas) came to the Scottish settlement, (strictly speaking-they and the other families (see pages 17-213,) started the Scottish settlement. (Little Scotland-Scotch Bottom or whatever Scotch listing was given this section of the 'New Westmoreland'---) But. Two brothers stayed on the other side of the Mountains-or went to some other center of settlements. This is certified to by several of our older members-notably B.F. Gray and A.B. Marshall.

This unknown Pioneer would be the right age to be a brother to our old Pioneer. This question will bear study.

Sylvan expressed interest in the sturdy long lives of many of our Clan, noting with this; the Dr. James Gray Rose of Mercersburg, Pa. passed 85. William and Jacob, named above both reached-almost 89.

Which reminds us that we have two Gray lads to report just now.

Dr. W. Boyd Gray (2572-122) 4 gen b 1862, recently retired & living with his daughter, Mrs. C.E. Scott. Pittsburgh, Pa.

James Barbage Gray, (his brother,) (2573-122) b 1860, living in El Paso Texas-whom we located in 1949.

These two, with Mrs. W.G. Gray, (3571-169) are the only known 4th. gen. Grays, at this time. (Jan. 1952,)

We are indebted to Mrs. W.G. Gray for the Photographs of the first old Pioneers, which are used in this volume. She was the last daughter-in-law of the old home where our Pioneer Thomas Gray spent his last days.

THOMAS GRAY

POET LAUREATE (1716-1771)

Excerpt from an article furnished by some unknown admirer of the Author of "'Elegy in a Country Grave Yard.'" - or Church Yard. Mason, in 1775, expressed his belief that "'Thomas Gray was, perhaps the most learned man in Europe.'"-----he was taught to consider everything as trifling and unworthy of the attention of a wise man, except the pursuit of knowledge and practice of virtue.'"-- a Student of Law, & a close friend of the eminent Horace Walpole.
(This from "'History of British Poetry--from the Earliest Times to Beginning of 20th Century.)

In the footnote explaining the *--- we learn. (Sir Egerton Brydges informs me that Gray's arms are the same as those of Lord Gray of Scotland; who claimed a relationship with him, (see Mason's "'Memoirs,'" vol. 1w. letter 55,) and as the present Earl Grey's.- Mitford---)

We trust that this be sufficient notice for the --unknown-- friend that furnished the material and request. GSG

THOMAS GRAY

GENTLEMAN (1761-1853)

THE LAST HAVEN

Looking to the above dates, we see that one hundred years--barring one-- have passed since our Pioneer closed his eyes on earthly scenes. We wonder, what deeds any one of the ones of our present generation may leave to posterity, to be eulogized, --- an admonition to be remembered--- "'Keep e'les feet out 'o' the diert'"---in other words, Keep the heart and hands clean, and devoid of offense to God and man. And inspire the wish a Century later--- to tell it to the World. To impress a desire so strongly, that it carries through the years, before the fulfillment can be made possible.

We would like to draw Curtains.---A Picture (could we but paint it worthily.)

The lonely old Pioneer Thomas Gray--- sitting by the window which skirts the broad fireplace in the home built byn his son, Thomas Gray Jr., near to Tidal, Pa. Facing the setting sun, his old leather bound Bible--open-- across his knees--- his sightless eyes---viewing with intensity--- the the longed for 'ain hame'---near the Master he had loved and served so many long years--on two Continents---.

His busy active brain filled with nostalgic longings---mixed with scenes from the years gone by.--- Listen !----Beloved riches from the dear old 'gude Buke'---verses,--- whole Chapters,--- from memory,-- "'The Lord is my Shepherd'"--(In full strong tones)'I shall nae want'-- then in pathetic trust that wrings the heart of the listener---"'He leadeth me beside the still waters and by the green pastures.'"

POST SCRIPTS

Then strong again---'Yea! though I walk in the Valley of the shadow of death---I will fear no evil.---For Thou--my Lord and my God---art with me-- Thy rod and Thy staff---they do give me comfort!''-----

'Dont make me a tall Monument.---Bury me simply,like Mother Mary,at White Oak Springs--- a child by her side-- a child by my side.--- a simple row of creek stones around the graves---like hers,at the steps of the old Brick Church.--- She was such a bonnie lass---my Mary---she came with me so gladly---from our dear old Scotland.--- It was always so hard for her tender feet to follow the path.---

She was brave as she was bonnie,---but the waves of the Ocean filled her with terror,she could na sleep.---

She thankit the Gude Mon,--- when we reached land again---and clasped her wee ones close--- then the long weary Trail through the wild forest beasts,--- unknown terrors,---Indians---strange half-naked red-men--- stalking along---too close for comfort.---the tale of the Hannastown Massacre was too fresh in her mind.---

Then---the joyful tidings---at old Murderingtown Camp, beside the rough waters of Conoquenessing Creek,--- 'At Last!---the men-folk had found the place they wanted.--- 'It be like the old hills of home,in Skibo. Sloping hills and watered vales---trees for shade-- and home building--we will call it 'Little Scotland'---it has no name.'

Praise the Lord. For He is good. For His mercies endure forever.

'The Lord be thankit.'

We dont need to set signal fires on high walls and turrets---when we need our neighbors help.---We can tread the path from here to them-- in easy time.-- Our men,both young and old--any that can carry a rifle, would carry a rifle to help protect us and fill their 'stent' in the Ranger duty.

We had our worship.---in our homes---yes,--- and Ministers came to our homes sometimes,---soon we could worship in the groves---when our neighbors settled near us.

Preacher Matt.Williams was there,before 1800---and Preacher Foythress--and McConnell,---soon Calderhead and Mungo Dick visited us,in their going about.--- We had hard work ---plenty,---but we were happy and could read our Bibles,---without fear of pur lives.

Life was full and good. We could do our part in clearing the land-- and breaking the soil.---Best of all we had no fear,it was a free life ---no over-Lords to demand tribute.---We could build our homes---and our roads---and our Churches and Bridges and Schoohs---and our bairns played and worked--- and all too soon grew up and left us for homes of their own building.'

It's been so long since Mary left me.--- she had such pain.--- She greeted to be free,--- her hair was so bright,---never turned drab like some,--- if she greeted for the old Scotland, she kept it close ---her home and her family were her World.

'In my Fathers Hoose there are many mansions, I go to prepare a place for you.---I yearn to see ye all there.--- Not just ane laddie, but all. 'Whosoever will may come. 'Tis the blessed promise.'

We recall the story of one emergency.---Though we are unable to give Rulers or Leaders, who were responsible. It surely illustrated 'Scotch Dignity.'

It seems the Troops were required to march in a public Parade. In honor of some dignitary. They were in a quandary. They had scarcely any boots. They solved it thus:

They were caused to ride in threes.

Each outside man had one boot on. The middle man,none,and each inner leg,also had no boot.

But their dignity was saved.--- Scotch??

The tale is finished. The Man. Erstwhile, Lord Gray. Skibo, Scotland. The Master-Mind and prime mover of all these adventures. Facts, told in story form. Sleeps. In a section separated from his youngest son's families. A child by his side. The row of stones, that he so earnestly begged to have placed around his grave 'like Mother's at White Oaks Springs' denied him, for very expediency sake. After ninety-nine years. His only Memorial is a tiny line on the towering Monument of Thomas Gray Jr., saying, Thomas Gray Sr. aged 70. And his certified dates were; (1761-1853)

APPENDIX

No 1.

We wish to record our thanks for the kind permission granted us by the Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine in the use of the section of an Article in their Magazine, dated, December, 1950. Entitled "'A Symbol Speaks.'"

Used on page 204 of this work, the words quoted from Mrs. Marjorie R. Manlove, are an added proof to our story of "'The Purple Heart'" we are proud to include it and express our obligation to her.

We also thank Miss. Carraway, the Editor, for her gracious attitude.

No 2.

We also desire to extend our sincere thanks to all those whose generous help, in locating data, has made possible, this Volume of certified information, for the pleasure of future Grays.

No 3.

Our Plan calls for additional Pages to be available, each year, that Records may be kept complete.

No 4.

Answering one request. We regret our inability to secure any authentic information concerning the "'Underground Railway'" of the Civil War Period. Or the Stations in the vicinity covered by this Vol.

No 5. Another questioner rates this response, in the Ancient verses.

MOTHER SHIPTON'S PROPHECY

Carriages without horses shall go.
And accidents fill the world with woe
Around the earth thoughts shall fly
In the twinkling of an eye.
The world upside down shall be,
And gold be found at the foot of a tree.
Through hills man shall ride,
And no horse be at his side,
Under water men shall walk
Shall ride, shall sleep, shall talk,
In the air men shall be seen
In white, in black, in green;
Iron in the water shall float
As easily as a wooden boat.
Gold shall be found and shown
In a land that's not now known.
Fire and waters shall wonders do,
And England shall at last admit a foe.
The world to an end shall come
In Eighteen hundred and eighty one.
